The Calgary Newcomer Guide for Service Providers is a publication partnership between The City of Calgary and the Calgary Local Immigration Partnership (CLIP). The guide is not a full list of services available. Additional information and an online directory for assisting newcomers can be found on informalberta.ca, a website of community, government, health and social services. This online database is a partnership between Alberta Health Services and The City of Calgary.

211 is a free, confidential and multilingual telephone service that can connect you to many programs and services not listed in this guide. If you cannot find what you're looking for, or don't have access to a computer, call 211. The listing of an organization in this guide does not indicate its endorsement, nor does the exclusion of an agency imply a lack of approval.

WHAT IS THE CALGARY LOCAL IMMIGRATION PARTNERSHIP (CLIP)?

The Calgary Local Immigration Partnership (CLIP) is a multi-sector partnership that is designed to help improve the integration of newcomers in the city as well address the needs of newcomers. ## ABOUT THE GUIDE

Who is this guide for?

The guide is for service providers and other mainstream Calgarians who work directly with immigrants and refugees, such as private sponsors. These individuals may use the guide as a resource to help newcomers navigate through the initial stages of settlement and integration. This guide is not intended to be distributed to immigrants directly.

Some people who may find these guides useful:

- Social Workers.
- Police officers.
- Health Care Workers.
- Faith communities.
- Neighbors.
- Private sponsors for refugee families.
- Employers.

What is in the guide?

The guide lists resources for newcomers and immigrants of which mainstream Calgarians may not be aware.

Why did we make this guide?

Alberta has now surpassed British Columbia as a destination for recent immigrants, according to the 2016 Census of Canada, with the bulk of those newcomers settling in Calgary and Edmonton. While many newcomers choose Calgary to be their new home, they may not always be aware of the opportunities Calgary has to offer them to make meaningful contributions to our city.

This guide was developed as a resource to fill an existing gap in Calgary. Settlement agencies have expertise in helping newcomers with their initial adjustment, however many mainstream organizations also work with newcomers throughout all stages of their residency and they aren't necessarily familiar with all of the resources and supports that are available for welcoming newcomers.

Welcoming newcomers is everybody's business. New Calgarians contribute to and enrich the social, economic, and cultural well-being of the city. The sooner newcomers are able to easily access the systems that longer-term residents navigate easily—health, education, employment, transportation, and so on—the sooner we will all benefit from their contributions.

How to get more guides?

Email us at CLIP@calgary.ca. We can't deliver the guides, but you can pick them up from our office located in downtown Calgary. The guide is also available online at calgarylip.ca

HOW TO USE THE GUIDE

Tips have been added to the guide. Some may seem like common knowledge, but they are helpful reminders when assisting newcomers.

There are several ways to use this guide. You can:

- Read it from beginning to end.
- Use the Table of Contents to find specific information.
- Refer to the websites or contact the telephone numbers listed in each section to learn more.
- Some services and programs may only be for certain ages, immigration status, gender or have a cost. Please check or ask the organization if there are any eligibility requirements for their service or program.

NOTE: Programs and services can change, some information in this book may not be current. The information in this guide is current as of February 2018. For the most current information, visit websites or call the telephone numbers listed throughout the publication.

UNDERSTANDING IMMIGRATION AND SETTLEMENT

Immigration Descriptions

People entering Canada can seek temporary or permanent residency status based on the length of time they intend to stay in the country.

Temporary Resident

A foreign national who is in Canada legally for a short period. Temporary residents include students, foreign workers and visitors, such as tourists.

Permanent resident

A person who has legally immigrated to Canada but is not yet a Canadian citizen.

There are three classes of permanent residents in Canada:

Economic or Business Class

This is a category that includes investors, entrepreneurs and self-employed people. A person may become a permanent resident in this category based on his or her ability to economically establish in Canada.

Family Class Newcomers

An immigration category that includes any family members sponsored to come to Canada by a Canadian citizen or permanent resident.

Refugee Class

A permanent resident who applied for and received permanent resident status in Canada after their refugee claim was accepted.

Refugees are persons forced to flee their homes because their basic human rights have been violated or are in jeopardy. Most often they have fled their countries involuntarily and they have had little to no time to prepare to move to Canada, including bringing relevant documents and credentials.
