

To Whom It May Concern:

Kyle Martino came to Lenox Advisors in 2008. A career ending injury put a halt to a promising career and started another. From our first interview, it was clear Kyle had the intelligence and charisma, but most importantly, the work ethic to be successful in business.

I started Lenox Advisors with my partners in 1999 and can honestly say I have come across few people as driven as Kyle. It is clear why he was able to make it to the top of the soccer profession. My initial impression of Kyle was confirmed in the first year when he excelled at such a rate that the partners agreed to put him on our prestigious Enrollment Team, made up of partners and senior Relationship Managers. It's a role rarely attainable for anyone with less than 6 years experience in our profession.

We are naturally hesitant as a firm to promote inexperience too quickly, but it was clear from the start Kyle was capable of more. His transition to the team was seamless and the increase in responsibilities clearly brought the best out in Kyle. One accomplishment that perfectly demonstrates Kyle's business acumen and unflappable determination was his integral role in bringing in Pfizer as a corporate client. Pfizer is now one of our most valued corporate clients.

It was clear Kyle was on the right track for an excellent career in Finance but we knew his heart was elsewhere. In 2010 we, as a firm, supported his transition out of our industry. Ever since, we have watched with great interest as he has worked hard to become the prominent American voice of Soccer in our country.

I have no hesitation in recommending Kyle Martino for USSF President. He deserves the role and is clearly qualified from a business perspective

Sincerely,

Rick Van Benschoten

To the United States Soccer Youth Council:

It is my pleasure to highly recommend Mr. Kyle Martino for the position of United States Soccer Federation President. My name is Mickey Kydes, I am former professional soccer player, a youth soccer educator for the last 24 years, and a product of the United States youth, college, professional, national team soccer system since 1976.

I have known Kyle since he was 11 years old, and was first introduced to him through my elite soccer program called Beachside of Connecticut. Over my tenure as a youth soccer educator, I've had the privilege to work with thousands of players. I'm most proud of the special relationship I've developed with Kyle while training one on one with him for countless hours as he was evolving as a youth soccer player. Our relationship grew throughout Kyle's collegiate and professional soccer career, and continues to remain strong today.

Kyle Martino represents all the positive qualities and characteristics of the U.S. youth development system. He understands it provided him the best environment to succeed at the highest level of U.S. Soccer. His unique skill set and experience will allow him to work in partnership with the Youth Council to continue to improve youth development for the next generation of American players. Kyle recognizes that player development is the foundation on which U.S. soccer's future must be built and will create a partnership with the Youth Council to provide the support and resources to insure its continued growth and success.

Kyle will provide the leadership to listen to the Youth Councils concerns and create a strong partnership to form progressive and effective solutions. Together through dialogue and cooperation, to provide the best environment for youth development in the world. This will lay down what Kyle believes will be the cornerstone of U.S. soccer's bright future.

That is why, without any reservation, and with strong conviction, I highly recommend Mr. Kyle Martino for the position of United States Soccer President.
