February 2019: Happy Valentines Day!

Love Lives Here

Love comes in many forms. At Domus it's a driving factor because our young people know they are loved each morning when they come to school or when they participate in any one of our dozen programs—they succeed because they know they are loved. We believe loving relationships change people. That's why at Domus, Love Lives Here. It also extends to you, our volunteers, supporters, and partners. We love that you want to see our young people succeed in their lives, so they may become resilient, positive contributors to their communities. Love does come in many forms so on this Valentine's Day, the staff, faculty, and young people at Domus send you our heartfelt thanks and our love!

Music Studio Brings New Opportunities

The new music studio will allow our young people to learn about music production, music engineering, DJ skills, and podcasts thanks to the generosity of the Andrew Rinaldi Memorial Fund. Recently we celebrated the opening of the studio and dedicated the studio in Andrew's name. Guests enjoyed seeing and hearing the studio's capabilities in this sound-proofed facility for youth to fully experience and use the highly specialized equipment. A big thank you also goes to our friends in the finance department at Diageo who helped us build out the space, and to the staff at the Arch Street Teen Center who helped guide us with the equipment specs. We can’t wait to hear what our young people produce!

It's Giving Day in 2 Weeks!

We are thrilled to announce that we have received a generous challenge grant of $10,000 from the Mathew Kosbob Memorial Fund to match gifts of $10 or more during this 24-hour giving competition! Please watch your inbox on Thursday, February 28 for the special link to make your gift go twice as far and help us compete for additional prize money. All gifts will help the 1,700 young people we serve in our school, out-of-school, and juvenile justice programs. Give where you live and support Fairfield County's Community Foundation Giving Day and Domus Kids! [Click here to donate starting at 12am Thursday, Feb. 28.]

Join us for March Madness Night! March 21 from 6:30-8:30pm. Tickets and Info HERE.
