The Climb

If a mountain were to be a friend, they would know a little bit about what it is like to have a friend like a mountain. The mountain would have a voice, and her voice would be loud and clear. When you speak to her, she will listen. She will understand you. She will show you where to go next. She will make you feel good.

A mountain is not a person. She doesn't have a sense of humor. She doesn't make you feel understood. She doesn't make you feel inclined. She doesn't make you feel good.

She is not a person. She is a mountain. She is a friend. She is a friend to the mountain.
