DEAR FRIENDS

MESSAGE FROM BOARD CHAIR

It is a privilege to serve as chair of the SEI Board of Directors and follow in the footsteps of Justin Delaney, Karen Hinsdale, and Reggie Guyton. Since moving to Portland over 20 years ago, I have been impressed with the work of SEI and its impact on the Black community and larger Portland community. My respect for and commitment to SEI as an organization has grown more positively and deeply since serving on the SEI board for the past three years.

The critical work SEI does on a 24/7 basis interrupts many less than positive influences in the lives of the students, adults, and families we serve so that they can enhance their lives and realize that life has options. Through their participation in our services in school, after school, and various community and family programs, 100% of our high school students graduate on time and 81% of our students go on to attend college, thus becoming the Positive Contributing Citizens we hoped to develop. Recently, under our Whole School Model, over 98% of Jefferson High School students graduated on time - well above the statewide percentage. The results of SEI are to be celebrated.

The work SEI does would not be possible without the support of our employees, board members, volunteers, donors, and community and business partners. Thank you to each of you for your dedication and commitment to the SEI vision and mission.

As we enter into the holiday season, I am grateful to know our collective efforts are positively changing our communities and that SEI is “home” to all whose lives it has touched.

Adrienne Nelson
Hon. Adrienne Nelson
Chair, SEI Board of Directors
SEI was founded in 1981 by Tony Hopson as a one-week summer basketball camp aimed at providing a positive alternative for African-American teens living in an area of Portland plagued by gang violence, poverty, and a public school system that was leaving them behind. By 1989, SEI had grown into a year-round program providing academic support and comprehensive wraparound services for African-American students and their families.

SEI opened the Center for Self Enhancement in 1997 to provide a safe haven for thousands of students and serve as the hub for our work in the community. Over the next 20 years, SEI continued to expand our programs to provide students and families with a continuum of cradle-to-career services, including a public charter school enrolling grades 6-8. Over our 35-year history of service, SEI has become Oregon’s largest African American-led nonprofit organization.

SEI’s approach is to provide resources and services that improve every aspect of a student’s life: their home environment, family support, school experience, and opportunities outside of school. SEI provides over 10,000 students, families, and adults with academic and social supports, as well as parent and poverty alleviation services. SEI’s strength is in our ability to meet the complex needs of those we serve, including helping people to overcome cultural, educational, and economic barriers.

SEI is committed to helping students and families realize their full potential. SEI believes that every child has a gift, and that it is our shared responsibility to help every child find his or her gift. By expanding learning opportunities and teaching every child that “Life Has Options,” SEI is seeing amazing results.
OUR MISSION

Self Enhancement, Inc. (SEI) is dedicated to guiding underserved youth to realize their full potential. Working with schools, families, and partner community organizations, SEI provides support, guidance, and opportunities to achieve personal and academic success. SEI brings hope to individual young people and enhances the quality of community life.

FUNDAMENTAL BELIEFS

• All children can and will succeed.
• Every child has a gift.
• When children are presented with options and exposure they will discover their purpose and realize their potential.
• We see students for who they can become rather than who they are today.
• Children develop best when surrounded by caring and nurturing adults.
• Staff are 100% responsible for the relationship.

JEFFERSON WHOLE SCHOOL MODEL

Jefferson High School seniors achieved a historic turnaround in graduation rates. Eighty percent of 128 Jefferson seniors received diplomas in 2015, representing a 25 percent increase from 2011 graduation rates. Among those who graduated in 2015, 67 were enrolled in the SEI Whole School Model. SEI is among a number of organizations and stakeholders credited with supporting this improvement, including Portland Community College, faculty, administration, parents, and the community at large.

Jefferson High School saw far larger gains in the graduation rate than other Portland high schools, improving by 14 percentage points within one year.

The Whole School Model, designed for at-risk youth, offers students a wide range of academic and non-academic services, both inside and outside of the classroom. In partnership with Portland Public Schools (PPS), SEI introduced the program at Jefferson High School during the 2010-2011 academic year – a time when nearly half of the senior class did not graduate, and the school faced potential closure due to declining enrollment and poor performance.

SEI’s student cohort graduated at a 98% rate, while the overall rate was 81% for African-American students at Jefferson, confirming that students can achieve when given the supports that many of us take for granted.

We are grateful for the financial support of G20, a group of businesses who have committed to raising 25% of the cost per student ($3500 per year) for the Jefferson Whole School Model. Their support is contingent upon the continuation of PPS support and the successful match by SEI each year.

“The Whole School Model was created to support all aspects of a child’s life, reflecting our fundamental belief that all children have a gift. This is a huge milestone for Jefferson High School and its graduating seniors. We are proud to have contributed to their success, along with PPS, and Portland Community College’s Middle College program.”

- Tony Hopson Sr., President and CEO of Self Enhancement, Inc.

LEADERSHIP PROGRAM STEM TOUR

In April 2016, the SEI Male Leadership Program traveled to California for a Higher Education/Tech Tour. The purpose of this tour was to promote college attendance, raise awareness of potential career opportunities, and expose these young men to the world of STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) beyond Portland, Oregon. The group visited technology campuses such as Google and Facebook, and college campuses including Stanford University, University of California at Berkeley, Santa Clara University, and San Jose State University. The students also visited SEI alumni Kenneth Aker of the San Francisco 49ers, Demetric Sanders of Facebook, and Olatunde Sobomehin of StreetCode Academy. SEI was one of the first youth programs in Oregon to implement STEM-related curriculum targeted to African-American students, and continues to be a statewide leader in after-school STEM programming for minority youth.

NIKE PRODUCT CREATION EXPERIENCE

The After School Program partners with Nike to provide SEI students the opportunity to gain Mentorship, Exposure, & Leadership Development by connecting students with Nike employees ranging from marketing executives to product designers. The Nike Product Creation Experience task students to work with their Nike mentors to design a full marketing campaign related to a product line the students chose. At the end of the project, students are given the opportunity to present their campaigns to their families, Nike representatives, and other community partners. They receive a certificate of completion and awards recognizing their accomplishments.
SUMMER PROGRAM

In an effort to end academic disparities, we at SEI believe that “when school is out, we are in!” With at least five weeks of annual summer programming, SEI provides students with a positive and safe place for learning, access to supportive mentors, and the healthy and nutritious meals needed to maintain their energy and concentration levels.

The Summer Program focuses on classes and activities in the areas of:
- Academics (math, reading, college preparation);
- Enrichment and Exposure (youth leadership, community service, gender-specific studies, recreation, field trips);
- Work Readiness (skill development, work site tours, job shadows, internships);
- and Summer Camps (boys and girls basketball camps, STEM camp).

SUMMER HIGHLIGHTS

93% of middle school students participated in SEI programs and/or positive activities throughout the summer.

97% of high school students participated in SEI programs and/or positive activities throughout the summer.

10/11th graders took advantage of academic courses in Math and English, spending a total of 24 hours in each class over a five-week period.

75 post-high school students participated in internships throughout the city, involving partners such as Providence Health & Services, Metro, and the City of Portland Bureau of Parks and Recreation.
