

The Glass Goose of Generosity

The image above is of a hollow crystal reliquary from Gandhara in the Kushan Empire, c. 1st century C.E..

Wondrous item, very rare (requires attunement)

This hollow crystal goose once held a relic from a celestial. Though the relic has been lost, a portion of the celestial's spirit lives on in the goose. If the goose is filled with any magical potion or oil, the reliquary will transform into a sparkling goose that will fly over and sprinkle the potion or oil onto up to 6 friendly creatures or items that you designate within 20 feet.

Creatures or objects sprinkled by the goose gain the effect of the potion or oil as if they had drank or used the whole potion or oil. The glass goose transforms back into a reliquary and remains inert for 1 week after using this power.
