Statement of support for Lovebox Festival, 2018

I hereby offer my full support to Lovebox and completely support the festival coming back to South London in 2018.

I have worked, known and become friends with the team behind the festival since it was first conceived in 2003. To its core LB has always been about the music and bringing people together in one place to celebrate and have fun for a few hours on one day in the summer.

I lived and worked in Brixton for over 12 years and I feel I know and understand how essential these types of events are for such a diverse area who as its core has always been a mixing pot of cultures, music and dance.

The team who run Lovebox are some of the most mindful and professional people I have ever worked with in my time in the music industry and I know all they want is to run a good event that benefits the entire community.

The festival will bring much needed trade to business in and around the Herne Hill and Brixton area and with that keep local business in business. I understand that having the park taken over for nearly a month is not ideal for its daily users, I count myself being one, but we need these events to keep money going back into the local economy and so events such as the Lambeth Country Show stay free.

Yours
