Intergalactic Imagination

“I love designing kids’ rooms knowing that they’ll remember this room, possibly for the rest of their lives,” Leah Alexander of Atlanta’s Beauty is Abundant says. In this 3-year-old’s room, the imagination can take you from a tropical jungle to the depths of outer space thanks to Leah’s clever design plan. Spoonflower wallpaper hangs on the ceiling, while a whimsical Loloi rug is below. “Our goal for the room was to impress upon him that even the sky isn’t the limit,” Leah says with a smile. “He is limitless.”
