MUSINGS FOR CUCKOO CALLAY

"And hast thou slain the Jabberwock?
Come to my arms, my beamish boy!
O frabjous day! Callooh! Callay!"
He chortled in his joy.

And chortling joy shall be found, in the midst of Newtown kitsch. Cuckoo Callay was born of the minds of two mere mortals, with illusions of Grand Hospitality. A lifetime or more spent toiling at the whim of spectacular proprietors had left them with a desire to dust off their monocles and inspect the Sydney-side coffee shop and café offerings.

Not content with providing a location for die-hard coffee lovers, nor subsidising Sydney's impressive café eateries, the Cuckoo kids wanted to bring a café which offered a myriad of perfection in both arenas. Thus, the Coffee Café is born. Ella brings to the mix her love of good food, lbbby compliments it with a penchant for amazing coffee, they stir it all together and tests the mix for impeccability.

A niche is not a niche without a nook in which to cache. And where could this new breed of Coffee Café have to live among a saturated strip of treasured café gems? The Heritage site of Newtown Station called out, 'Come to my arms, my beamish boy' and promised a glorious façade in which to house their dreams. Dreamers dream and wishers wish but travellers know where to go. The bird sets flight from West to East and lands upon a Hill, a Surry Hill in all its glory, setting boundaries alight.

In so slaying the proverbial Jabberwock, we are releasing our dreams to you. So take a step inside our rabbit hole, and embrace old with new. Tantalise your tastebuds, and raise your voice to bray, 'O frabjous day! Cuckoo! Callay!

TEA

5

Gunpowder

Green tea is rolled tightly, with shiny pellets showing off the essential oils carefully intact allowing it to have a fresh, vegetal and lightly tart taste.

Silver Jasmine Green Tea

Plenty of silver tips, this is a green tea that should be recognised not only for its jasmine infused scent, but the quality of the tea leaves themselves. Silver tips are the young buds of the tea plant, prized for their high levels of antioxidants.

Earl Grey

Layers of Ceylon orthodox leaf are carefully laid out and infused with oils extracted from the bergamot fruit to create this historic tea.

Good morning (English breakfast)

A luxurious take on the traditional breakfast tea. It is deliberately complex, with multiple layers in its taste profile.

Lemongrass and Ginger

Citrus abounds bolstered by mint and anise high notes. Ginger adds a warming balance. Contains restorative properties and Vitamin A ideal for replacing lost minerals.

Lemon and liquorice

A ripe lemon bouquet predominates, clearing the airways while invigorating the palate. Saccharine notes are bolstered by light anise flavours as the combination works to soothe sore throats and promote lung health.

Masala Chai

This is an uncompromised masala chai which indeed, packs heat, but most importantly the choice of a proper tea base.
