The Elmina B. Sewall Foundation’s Healthy People Healthy Places program is grounded in the belief that . . .

We support efforts that reflect the Sewall Core Values and that utilize and integrate multiple Inter-related Strategies toward impact.

Sewall Core Values

- Being empathetic, respectful and open-minded
- Empowering individuals and communities
- Supporting systems that work, changing systems that don’t
- Nurturing new ways of thinking and working

Healthy People Healthy Places Interrelated Strategies:

1. Support the Well-Being of People
2. Support Healthy Land & Water
3. Develop Thriving Local Economies
4. Invest in Community Engagement & Build Social Equity
5. Build Resilient Communities

The Sewall Foundation is launching two categories of grants in support of the Healthy People Healthy Places Program as depicted above. They include: Integration of Environment and Human Well-Being Grants & Systemic Approaches to Meeting Basic Human Needs Grants. The Foundation will also invest in shared learning and growth of cross-sector competencies through capacity building.
