Lake Erie Council, BSA is committed to respecting and protecting the personal privacy of its customers and those who visit our websites. It is our policy to acquire personal information from users only by overt means, only when it is in the interest of the user to provide it, and to utilize this information only for the purpose it was provided. Lake Erie Council, BSA sites collect only the personal information that is required to perform the tasks the sites were designed for, such as to reserve and rent Boy Scout camping facilities, to register for and attend Boy Scout functions, and to process those reservations and registrations.

The information that follows explains the kinds of information collected, how it is used, the conditions under which it is made available to third parties, how information is maintained, and our compliance with the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act.

What information does Lake Erie Council, BSA collect and use?

Lake Erie Council, BSA websites function to provide the ability to offer services to Boy Scouts of America customers, such as online reservation booking of their camping facilities to their units and the public. To that end Lake Erie Council, BSA websites collect and store name, address, phone number, and email address on entered unit members, unit leaders, and persons listed as contacts on reservations. Our websites also collect credit card information, including name, card number, CID, and expiration date for those customers making reservations who choose to pay by credit card, as well as bank account information, including name, bank routing number, and bank account number for those customers making reservations who choose to pay by electronic check. This credit card and electronic check information is never stored on permanent storage media such as disk drives, and is only stored in memory for as long as is needed to complete the credit card or electronic check transaction, after which it is deleted.

In some situations the user may be asked to voluntarily provide feedback on the site. The questions relate to ease of use, any problems encountered in using the site, site performance (speed), and the general look and feel of the site. Personally identifiable information is not asked for or collected through this process. This information will be used to assist in rectifying problems with the system and improving its usability and performance.

Lake Erie Council, BSA websites also collect anonymous data that is not typically indicative of and cannot be traced to an individual without the cooperation of their Internet Service Provider. This data includes information about the user's remote IP address, referral data (which page "linked" to the present request), and the browser software's user-agent string. This information is accepted passively from the HTTP headers that are sent from the user when requesting any file from the server. Other anonymous data entered by the user may be collected in a common repository, including terms entered into the search engine, ZIP codes entered into the council locator, etc.

The anonymous information collected is used to monitor the usage of this website and the interests of those who use it. Data such as the volume of traffic to the server, the number of visitors a certain section of the site receives each month, or the most popular search terms are analyzed to derive general statistics about the website's reach and the audience's usage patterns.

Lake Erie Council, BSA websites do use cookies. In the back-end password protected system where members of the council staff log in with a specific userids and passwords to perform administrative functions, the cookies are used to hold the login credentials (userid and password) and other details pertaining to their work in the system (such as last search query, etc.). In the front-end customer facing system where units and the general public interact with the system without requiring userids and passwords, two types of cookies are used; "persistent" and "session."

Persistent cookies are used to assist in website navigation, for example by saving a user's calendar filtering selections. No personally identifiable information is stored in the persistent cookies. Session cookies are used to store the customer's First Name, Last Name, and Email Address, along with other non-personally identifiable information (such as Boy Scout Council number and registration number), to assist with completing the registration process. This “session cookie” may be completely destroyed by the customer by closing their browser. The session cookie is changed automatically during the customer session for security purposes and is not written to the customer’s hard drive.

Personally identifiable data is collected only by means of form interfaces on Lake Erie Council, BSA websites, into which the system user must enter the personal information requested. No cookies or any other tracking technologies (other than stated above) are used for the purpose of coordinating information that a user may opt to enter in various interfaces on the sites.
