The Bay Area needs to transform its transit system to recover from COVID - and thrive

Seamless Bay Area advocates for the structural governance and funding reforms needed to create unified, efficient, more connected transit system.

- We sponsored AB 2057 (Chiu), the Bay Area Seamless Transit Act to integrate the region’s 27 public transit agencies.
- We’ve been at the forefront of advocacy to help public transit recover from COVID - fighting for funding, organizing riders, and building support for change among agency staff and elected officials.
- As part of MTC’s Transit Recovery Task Force, we’re leading advocacy for transformative reforms and funding that will create a far better system

What leaders are saying about Seamless Bay Area:

“I want to thank the leadership of Seamless Bay Area - Adina and Ian - who walked into my office and presented their vision and I thought ‘this is the the vision of where we need to go’. I have authored about 60 new laws in California, and there’s no bill that I have worked on that has had broader, quicker, and more intense public support than AB 2057, [the Bay Area Seamless Transit Act].”

- California Assemblymember David Chiu

“Seamless Bay Area is a policy vision that I’ve been really excited to sign onto. In any other sector we’re always thinking about ecosystems and how we speak to each other. Transit is somewhat late in the game, but folks like Assemblymember David Chiu... are pushing us to think about how we move together”

- Lateefah Simon, BART Board President
