"I'm a firm believer that a laundry room should never be a throwaway space—it's a great place for a bold color. I went for a graphic pink-and-black combo here, but I chose a salmon-y shade that feels a little unexpected."

—Cari Berg, Cari Berg Interior Design, Los Angeles, CA

"This nook is the first thing you see when you open the door to this little girl's room, so I wanted something that got noticed. I don't even remember what color this dresser was before, because I always envisioned it in this electric coral—so young and fresh."

—Summer Thornton, Summer Thornton Design, Chicago, IL

"Why save light pink for girls' rooms? One as soft as this can look grown up when you pair it with a cowhide rug, sleek white furniture, and a groovy brass chandelier."

—Laura Gummerman, A Beautiful Mess blog, Nashville, TN
