Honor Committee Membership Confirmation

Project Leader: Carolyn Liziewski, Honor Committee Chair
Project Team Members: Elizabeth Haile, Honor Committee Clerk
                     Myesha Jemison, USG President
                     Patrick Flanigan, Academics Chair
                     Pooja Patel, U-Council Chair
                     Chris Umanzor, Honor Committee Member
                     Angela Hillsman, Honor Committee Member

Date: October 15, 2017

- The Honor Committee solicited for three new members of the Committee, two of whom had to be members of the Class of 2021.
- Chris Umanzor ’19, the junior class president and a member of the Honor Committee, acted as the Honor Committee recruitment coordinator during the application cycle.
  - Chris distributed the application to residential college listservs and listservs for affinity student groups, asking presidents of groups to distribute the application to membership and encourage membership to apply to the Committee.
  - The application was also distributed by Myesha in USG update emails.
  - Finally, the application was distributed to the coordinators of freshman seminar and writing seminars programs.
- Fifteen students applied to the Committee: ten men and five women.
  - Prospective majors represented include POL, WWS, PHI, MOL, MAE, HIS, and CLA.
  - Two international students applied for membership.
- The selection committee unanimously selected three applicants: Dina Kuttab, Scott Newman, and Nicholas Cefalu.
- Dina is a first-year student from Amman, Jordan.
  - She is a prospective molecular biology concentrator.
  - On campus, Dina is involved in Model United Nations.
  - Dina impressed the selection committee in case interviews and behavioral interviews, in which she discussed weighing concerns for the well-being of a student during the Honor process against community imperatives for justice. She is passionate about criminal justice reform, and offered mature analysis about the role of penalty at Princeton.
- Scott is a first-year student from New York, New York.
  - He is a prospective Woodrow Wilson School concentrator.
o On campus, he is involved in a Jewish learning fellowship program and the Princeton Racing Electric Team.

o Scott performed particularly strongly in the case interview portion of the selection process, where he was able to identify relevant evidence necessary to clarify ambiguous situations. Scott is analytical and displays emotional maturity, traits which will make him a valuable addition to the Committee.

• Nicholas is a first-year student from Lake Tahoe, California.
  o He is a prospective Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering concentrator.
  o On campus, Nicholas is involved in Army ROTC and he plays on the club hockey team.
  o Nicholas performed well in case interviews and behavioral interviews, proving to the selection committee he is both analytical and thoughtful about issues of academic integrity at Princeton. He understands why academic integrity is a core community value at Princeton, and he is well-prepared to navigate investigations and deliberations.
SGRC New Member Confirmations

Project Leader: Emily Chen and Aaron Sobel
Project Team Members: N/A
Date: October 14th, 2017

SGRC hopes to confirm the following people as new members of the committee:

Lutfah Subair is a freshman who is a prospective WWS major. She is also involved in PDP and MSA. After evaluating her responses and existing commitments, SGRC would like to accept her application because she expressed significant interest in increasing diversity among student groups, which is an important part of our role.

Emma Parish is a freshman who is undecided. She is also involved in the Jewish Leadership Fellowship. SGRC feels that Emma would be a good addition to the committee because, similar to Lutfah, she has a strong interest in maintaining and expanding diversity among our student groups, as well as an interest in guiding and advising student groups.
Tigerbook Update

Project Leader: Rushy Panchal
Project Team Members:
Date: October 15th, 2017

- A few TigerApps (Recal, Wintersession, Rooms Guide) use Google Analytics, which is anonymous and common on a lot of websites (including Princeton’s websites)
- Res College Facebook search stores user profile views
  - Example: I view Myesha’s page, so there is a record of rpanchal viewing jemison
  - Searches are not stored
  - Feature has been present since the app was created (~6 years ago)
  - App has been down for a while, so no recent data (as far as we know)
  - No data was exported
  - Most of stored data is likely lost due to app moving host numerous times since creation
- Most apps store user-identifying information that is tied to their functionality
  - Example: Recal stores students’ created schedules
  - Example: TigerTrade stores students’ offers and items that are for sale
  - No app (other than Res College Facebook) has additional information tied to users except for what is needed to function
- I am the only one with access to the data currently
- Moving forward: writing a privacy policy for TigerApps
PPP Update

Project Leader: Kevin Pendo ’19
Project Team Members: Mary Claire Bartlett ’18, Natalya Rahman ’19, Nate Levit ’20, David Friedman ‘20
Date: 10/15/17

Princeton Perspective Project Update

- So far this year:
  - “I Wish Someone Had Told Me” video shown during CPS info session during orientation
- Looking forward:
  - Collaboration with Department of Athletics
    - At end of last year, we partnered with the videographer in the athletics department to collect stories from student-athletes about balancing the unique challenges of athletics and academics at Princeton
    - Figuring out exactly what we want to do with the footage
  - Speaker event
    - Have reached out to Professor Danner (author of “The Other "F" Word: How Smart Leaders, Teams, and Entrepreneurs Put Failure to Work” and teaches Freshmen seminar)
    - Have reached out to Professor Haushofer (author of the first ‘CV of Failures’)
    - Had communication with both last year and both expressed interest, but they were both off campus in the Spring
  - Thanksgiving event focusing on gratitude and positive perspective
    - Have created a list of simple recommendations to help students focus on the positives
    - Plan to release these as a series via our media platforms in the weeks leading up to Thanksgiving
    - Will culminate in some in-person event (details TBD)
- New members
  - As we did last year, we did not send out our committee application at the same time as the other committees, because we want to give first-year students a chance to get a feeling of what being a student at Princeton as like and allow them to understand why PPP exists. We will send out application over fall break, and do interviews after

September 25, 2017 CPUC Meeting Notes

Project Leader: Ben Press
Project Team Members: N/A
Date: 9/26 Date of Event or Meeting 9/25

In attendance: All U-Councilors except Nick Wu

First item: approval of the order of business and committee assignments.
- Passed unanimously.

Second item: Question and answers.
- First question: from Diego regarding outreach to students who have been affected by natural disasters and tragedies (i.e. Puerto Rico and Mexico). VP Calhoun responded that res colleges and the Dean of the College reach out to affected students regarding contacts and support.
- Second question: from Samuel regarding ethnic studies, particularly Latin studies. Dean Dolan responded that the process was still underway about revising the American Studies curriculum in the hopes of building a concentration and certificate program in the field.
- Third question: from a student named Will regarding prison divestment asking how the University plans on placing emphasis on its actions, like negative screens or other concrete steps-- held until after the Resources Committee presentation.

Third item: Resources Committee presentation.
- Presented by Blair Shaney, a prof in the Geosciences Department.
- Gave a brief overview of the committee, what was on its agenda, etc.
  - Role: to determine whether/when the Board of Trustees divest/disassociate from certain companies or investments.
  - Princeton has only divested twice, in response to apartheid and genocide in Darfur.
  - Divestment is based on guidelines that there must be considerable interest in divestment, that the investment in question is in conflict with central University values, and the principle of open discussion to find a way forward.
- Questions:
  - From Myesha regarding potential future investment screens: response said that the guidelines do not yet exist but might be a future project, but is not immediately relevant given the U is not currently invested in private prisons.
  - From divestment coalition regarding timeline and communication for divestment related discussions: response said that the Committee hopes that communication will be better in the future and that they look forward to continuing dialogue.
From Myesha about having PPPD member on the Committee: Response was that the issue hasn’t yet been considered but it will be a topic of discussion.

Fourth item: Diversity and Inclusion Initiatives from LGBT Center, Womens Center, and CAF Center

- Presented by LaTanya Buck, Dean of Diversity and Inclusion, and LGBT Center, Womens Center, and CAF Center representatives on a panel.
- Gave an overview of changes in the past year:
  - Increased funding for each of the programs
  - Adopted a three-year strategic plan
- CAF important changes:
  - PUMP: Princeton University Mentorship Program; a program to pair first year students with upperclassmen to create a community to help them acclimate and foster relationships.
  - Conversation circles: small peer led group dialogue series that allow students to engage about identity, current events, and diverse perspectives. To occur every Sunday.
  - Almost finished with renovations; completed the first floor renovations and are almost done with the second phase (the second floor). Admin offices are now on first floor. Second floor will be completely student space-- particularly student affinity spaces. Open house will be held soon.
- LGBT Center:
  - All centers have completed a website rebranding.
  - New resources page on the website.
  - Qnections: mentorship program with a family model, going into its second year.
  - Home to over 15 student groups.
- Womens Center:
  - Boss Lady program: students are matched with prominent women in the area and do a one-day mentorship program.
  - Supporting a Tiger Challenge called Tiger Mentors to create an alumni-undergrad mentorship program.
- Intersection:
  - New orientation program that engaged students in thinking about their identities and having conversations about social justice.
- Questions and answer:
  - Diego: FLI graduation costs; answer was that no subsidies are directly provided. Dean Dolan mentioned that the Committee on Admission and Financial Aid was taking this issue up and that they’re considering solutions

Subcommittee on Eating Club Relations Chair Approval

Project Leader: Olivia Grah
Project Team Members: Andrew Ma, Eli Schechner, Maya Wesby
Date: 10/15/2017

The Eating Club Referendum Response Team led an amendment of the USLC charter last year to allow for the formation of the Subcommittee on Eating Club Relations.

The team sourced applications for the Subcommittee Chair through October 8. Five students applied for the Chair position and the team interviewed four of those applicants.

The team nominates Rachel Yee for the position of Chair of the Subcommittee on Eating Club Relations, and requests approval by the USG Senate.

Rachel Yee
- Class of 2018
- Sociology Major
- Involved in Ivy Mental Health Conference, AASA, and the Housing and Dining Advisory Boards
- Rachel brings organizational and leadership skills in addition to enthusiasm and commitment. What differentiated her from the other applicants was her aptitude for interpersonal relationships with people of varied backgrounds and demonstrated conflict resolution skills, important for partnering with the ICC on the issue of eating club diversity, inclusivity, and transparency.
- We hope that the three members-of-large will complement Rachel’s skills. We anticipate asking the referendum writer Leila Clark to serve as a member-at-large.

Note: The charter stipulates that three (3) USG Senate members serve on the subcommittee. Please contact me (ograh@) or Myseha (jemison@) if you would like to be considered for the position.
