Seamark Ranch is a Christ-centered home for Northeast Florida's children from families in crisis.

LEAVING A LEGACY

The recent passing of my previous employer, mentor and wonderful friend, Patrick Kelly, has me thinking about the legacy we can leave on our world. Pat built a thriving national company that provided legendary service to our customers and also offered thousands of employees an opportunity to succeed in ways we never imagined. We were more than just employees, we became a family. Family was important to Pat because he grew up at the Virginia Home for Boys. Overcoming a tragic early childhood, Pat became a man whose life had a tremendous impact on all who knew him!

Yet Pat's legacy is more than just a successful businessman, father and friend. Pat knew first-hand what hope and opportunity can do to change the life of a child. He wanted children everywhere to have that same hope and opportunity, and he worked hard to make that happen. Through The Boys Home Foundation and his generous gifts to Seamark Ranch, Pat left a legacy of love, safety, hope, education and empowerment for our children.

Maybe the greatest legacy we can leave on our world is to positively impact the lives of children. I am privileged to be part of the ministry of Seamark Ranch and its mission to transform the lives of children coming to us from desperate situations. Individuals, businesses, civic organizations and churches join with us daily in this ministry. Some provide faithful financial support, some give in honor or in memory of loved ones, others pray daily for Seamark Ranch, others volunteer regularly and still others donate their time, talents and treasures in creative and selfless ways. Each in their own way and according to their own abilities is giving a gift to our children that will live in their hearts forever.

We need your help. As Seamark seeks to provide hope and opportunity for even more children, won't you join us? What better legacy can we leave on our world!

Fred Meiners

grandson Henry.

WELCOME INSIDE THE BOYS' HOME...

Molly awoke this morning way too early after working until 12:30am last night. Why? Because our Seamark Boys' Home decided to play tag and tackle upstairs right over her bedroom!

Molly heard her Dad upstairs, frustrated, reprimanding the boys for being selfish. Although tired and frustrated herself, Molly went to her Dad and gave him an amazing note. It said how much she loved and appreciated him. She reminded him that he is not only a father to her and her brother, Riley; he also "fathers" many boys who are ALL fatherless. What a special Father's Day!

- Tracy Dawson - Boys' Home Mom

SUMMER TIME HAPPENINGS

As the sun was setting Friday evening, Debbie and I were in the garden area when some of our boys came up. They had come up to check on a newborn baby goat. We were talking with Trey when Stormy joined us. On the other side of the barn we could see Noah in the pen with Jose the donkey. We struck up a conversation about the experiences of the week and Summer Fun on the Farm, our field trip program for children from urban Jacksonville. Trey had been working the hayride and he shared about how, to his own surprise, the visiting children had enjoyed singing Old MacDonald Had a Farm. Hesitantly, Trey led us in a verse, "...and on that farm he had a donkey, E. I. E. I. O!" Noah confidently told of his experience as Team Leader as we chanted, "Red Team .. Red Team .. Red Team." Next, Noah hopes to have a chance to be Blue Team Leader. Stormy spoke up and informed us that when he grows up he wants to help homeless boys! Not sure of his inspiration for that statement, but we were certainly blessed to hear it. How many young children ever consider such an idea?

Next, the conversation moved to summer reading. Noah is looking for a book on the British Empire. We talked about the famous quote, "The sun never sets on the British Empire." We talked about British colonies and India came up. I suggested a biography about Gandhi. Trey jumped in with information about Gandhi that he had learned in school while studying about Martin Luther King. Stormy told us that he's reading the Chronicles of Narnia.

It has been a challenging and hot, summer at Seamark Ranch. The pace has been exhausting and there have been many opportunities for discouragement. But, it is times like Friday evening that inspire and assure that lives are being changed.

- Fred Meiners, Executive Director
