

TREE HOUSES

NOSTALGIA MEETS CRAFT

Tree Houses are traditional structures that invoke the nostalgia of childhood, where you would play with friends, or escape from the world to enjoy the peace and quiet of nature. There was a time when trees were our preferred habitat and we slept in them all the time. Somehow the oldest part of our brain still remembers that when we are in a crown space of a tree and our soul feels very different.

Nowadays, Tree Houses are a growing trend in hospitality and travel, and are popping up all over the world. While some offer basic accommodation, others come with luxury amenities such as spa-like bathrooms and fully-equipped kitchens. A Tree-Mendous eco-friendly Tree House features nature inspired accents throughout, and is a truly unique solution for both lodging and pure entertainment. At Tree-Mendous, we offer our clients everything from very basic designs to high end five star accommodations.

It is our honor to bring the magic of a Tree House to families and organizations around the world. Our Tree Houses present people with an opportunity to foster an appreciation for the environment and revitalize their human spirit. They provide the ability to get even closer to the beauty of the outdoors - to sleep in the forest, amongst the trees.

We take every detail into account when designing your custom Tree House. Every element is carefully considered and naturally crafted to make your Tree House a truly safe and immersive structure. Our number one focus when building in trees, is protecting the tree itself. When building a Tree-Mendous Tree House, we use a method that allows the tree to continue to grow outward without constricting tree growth, ensuring longevity of both the trees and Tree House. We most often will opt to set the treehouse structurally on locust poles and wrap it around the trunk and branches. This way it does not impact the tree and it becomes a low maintenance structure. As a certified B-Corp, we seek to foster the forest through low-impact building practices and use of locally sourced and environmentally sustainable materials such as cedar and black locust.

We take great pride in our team, process, and product, and believe that our passion for craft and community elevates the experience we offer our clients. We design captivating and whimsical structures that entertain all ages.
