San Diego Housing Federation 2018 Annual Conference Workshop Tracks

Housing at the Breaking Point: Demanding Solutions

San Diego Housing Federation's annual Affordable Housing & Community Development Conference brings together more than 400 developers, builders, architects, lenders, property managers, service providers, elected and agency officials and staff, community and business leaders to share innovative approaches to affordable housing, community, and economic development. We invite you to share your expertise with us at this conference as a workshop presenter or convener.

This year's conference will focus on the topic: Housing at the Breaking Point: Demanding Solutions

To the degree possible, workshops should focus on responses to recent changes in the social and political environment; these include increasing housing instability for a growing number of individuals and families and addressing uncertainty of programs that have long supported affordable housing and community development. In these changing times, what forward-thinking solutions can be examined to preserve the positive impact affordable homes have on human health, families, financial mobility or children's educational outcomes; or its role as a driver of economic growth, workforce development and neighborhood revitalization?

Panels should include representatives with diverse backgrounds, expertise and (when appropriate) perspectives who can educate and engage attendees in a dialogue around affordable housing and community development.

For each Track, we offer ideas related to Workshop topics; however, feel free to submit proposals on other topics as well.
