BEN

Token coming soon!

BEN is a secure identity protocol. We create a continuous identity based on the consumer's behavior, locations frequented, geofences entered, walking gait, and other behavioral factors. We use this to precisely identify a consumer in a given moment. This allows for a vast array of applications, one of which is the ability for trusted parties to exchange sensitive information.

Identity theft and fraud are global problems. Recent biometric innovations, such as facial scans and other biometric methods for accessing accounts, are vulnerable. Furthermore, they present an unprecedented risk: if they are hacked once, you are hacked for life. BEN's patented continuous identity platform is the new line of defense keeping consumers and businesses safe.

MandtVR

MANDT MEDIA

www.mandt.com

Property owners have the rights to protect and monetize their assets. Mandt Media is securing contracts with property owners & cities, as well as passing laws with governments to ensure the protection of their immersive media rights. Currently, all properties built after 1990 in the U.S. are protected under copyright law. Any attempt to monetize someone's property without their permission, is a violation of U.S. trademark law. Additional legislation will pass this year. These rights are real, they have value and they are currently defensible!

The physical world will collide with the Internet over the next few years and controlling the exclusive rights to monetize real estate assets will be very valuable. The next generation will only know this world of eye-wear, with digital overlays. Mandt Media has taken a leadership position with this technology in real estate and is well positioned for success in the real estate rights management for immersive media.

Our legal partner is the global real estate law firm DLA Piper and they have validated our strategies. We currently are at term sheet with many of the largest landowners in the world and already have secured the rights to major landmarks, like the Hollywood Boulevard Walk of Fame. Mandt Media has filed for a business process patent covering the use of Augmented Reality content and monetization of real estate assets. This patent includes the use of Blockchain technology.

MonetaPro

chasing-coins.com/ico/MONETA

MonetaPro is a closed-loop payment platform for Global Corporate Barter. We are a sell-for-credit business-to-business exchange that allows companies to list goods and services at prices they determine. Upon the sale of an item, the Company receives an internal trade credit which can then be used to purchase other goods and services from approved trade companies

The MonetaPro exchange provides a centralized global trading venue for companies to trade with existing trading partners, as well as find new ones. Locating a trading partner is as simple as entering the type and amount of goods or services desired within the powerful search engine designed by MonetaPro. Negotiating and executing trades become easier and faster, and tracking and reporting trade activity is in real-time.

By utilizing a private blockchain technology, all aspects of ownership become decentralized and recorded, and the audit trail becomes more transparent and efficient. The overall result is lower transaction costs, from locating a trading partner, to executing the trade, to tracking and managing the trade.

Vinchain / VIN Token

vinchain.io

Vinchain provides decentralized vehicle history with complete transparency and immutability. Vinchain documents a vehicle's history on the blockchain to make the market transparent to customers.

Requests can be made with vinchain tokens. The tokens are then distributed to information providers. Consumers benefit by increasing the value of their vehicle during point of sale by contributing to the repository of data on the blockchain with the help of vehicle tracking devices.

Users benefit in that people will not be able to change or forge information about a vehicle, the roads will be safer with accurate vehicle information, and it will create a trust-based community for dealers. Currently has a successful strategic partnership with autoinspect.us.
