Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today's discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

[Signatures]

WBFflowers

[Signatures]
partner build trust and family involvement. Share the specifics.

What is your favorite example of how school and community recognize the importance of their involvement. (p. 60)

As every child we ought to establish a strong foundation and help mark and science insights to last a lifetime and achieve scientific explanations...

...followed up with a range of well-designed and engaging learning opportunities. The door to family involvement is clear. A well-planned classroom model is opening the door to family involvement. We care about children's learning. In the fall, the district's second-grade learning centers — was only made better when we combined with families to continue centers — of making them guide thinkers and eager learners.

The enormous task of planning our students for college and [121]
Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords

Share a story, idea or next step below.

As you reflect on today’s discussion of the Whole Child Challenge.

Wigglewords
Systemic Change

---

Equity vs. Equal Treatment

---

Family & Community Engagement

---

Whole Child

---

---