2020 INASLA Scholarship
Indiana Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects (INASLA)

The INASLA Scholarship is provided for students who are pursuing an education in the field of Landscape Architecture. Scholarships are in the amount of $2,000 and are awarded for tuition, books, project supplies, etc. Scholarships may vary from year to year depending on the funds available. Payments will be made directly to the student.

Scholarship Criteria
1. Applicants must be enrolled in a degree-granting, accredited Landscape Architecture program in the State of Indiana (Purdue University or Ball State University) and an ASLA member (Student, Full, Associate or Affiliate). Graduating seniors may only apply if they have been accepted into a qualifying graduate program for the following semester. Prior award recipients may reapply.
2. Applicants must have maintained a grade point average of 3.0 on a GPA scale of 4.0 or equivalent for all courses taken to date at the college or university.
3. All decisions made by the INASLA Executive Committee are deemed final, including the option not to award a scholarship.
