A new chief goes to work...

Gisele Kirby pins a badge on husband Jack after his swearing in as Bradford's new police chief. Kirby's first week on the job included making sure all went safely and smoothly during Bradford's Independence Day celebration.

...and what about that new police cruiser?

The Board of Selectmen voted to lease a new Ford Crown Victoria police cruiser for use as the principal patrol vehicle for the Police Department. It is our duty to fiscally manage the Town’s finances and we feel it was a prudent and sound decision at this point in time. We had hoped to maintain the old cruiser for daily use until the next Town Meeting in March 2002, but we feel that it would be fiscally irresponsible to continue spending taxpayer money to repair high-cost items for the old cruiser.

Line items are justified to the Budget Committee which then presents them to the voters for approval or disapproval at Town Meeting. It is expected that each department head will justify a request for funds from the Town if a resident taxpayer requests that justification. At the last Town Meeting in March 2001, a warrant article to purchase a police cruiser was defeated by three votes with no comment from the Police Chief. If it had passed, the tax rate would have increased by several cents.

The Board of Selectmen has been watching more and more money being poured into the two existing cruisers to keep them safely on the road. A mechanic has been recently hired for the Highway Department and some of the work has been done in-house, but things like replacing the front end have been contracted out. The cost and extent of this work had not been anticipated. The Ford Crown Victoria now has over 170,000 miles on it and the Explorer has over 118,000 miles.

Two words that the Board of Selectman deal with on a regular basis are “anticipated” and “unanticipated”. When the budget is submitted to the Budget Committee, it is a list of anticipated expenditures that the Selectmen believe to be as accurate as forecasting the future can be. Even with careful planning, there may be either unanticipated revenue or expenses.

This is where unanticipated funds come in. These are funds that, by virtue of be-

Lake Todd loons hatch chicks

In the state of New Hampshire, the Common Loon is listed as a “threatened species,” defined as “any species of wildlife which, in the future, may become endangered.” Last year, 365 observers counted 442 loons on 109 lakes. There were only 33 nesting pairs in this count.

This summer a pair has been nesting on Lake Todd. One nest containing two eggs was lost due to high water in June. The loons started over, and on Sunday, July 19, two chicks hatched successfully. Eggs hatch after a 27-day incubation period.

The parents are diligently caring for the chicks and are parading them all around the lake. Sometimes they are on the back of one of the adults or sometimes they are just trying to keep up with their parents. Feeding two extra mouths is an all-day job for Mr. and Mrs. Loon.

We hope the chicks will develop rapidly in order to learn to fly out before the lake freezes over. Loons winter on salt water.

It is a wonderful privilege to be able to watch this process take place.

Tour de Stu rides again

When someone close to us dies, we often search for ways to commemorate and carry on the work they did in life, the ideas and values they held dear. In 1995 Stuart (Stu) Sidmore, former Police Chief of New London, died of cancer. In 1998, the initial strains of grief having passed, several friends got together to discuss how to keep the memory of Stu alive. What stuck out to them was Stu’s firm belief in the value of education. Several of the friends were bicyclists who had humorous memories of Stu grumbling about bicycles taking up space on roads meant for cars. It was with some bemusement and a sense of determination that they came up with the idea of a long distance bicycle tour to raise funds for local students to attend the college of their choice. Thus, the “Tour De Stu” was born.

This year the Tour De Stu support team and riders will meet on September 6 at Hogan Sport Center in New London to travel to Stowe, Vermont, where the ride will begin the next morning. The tour will leave Stowe on September 7, riding 122 miles to Lake Placid, New York. On the second day the ride will continue to Killington, Vermont. The tour will finish on the third day on the Green in New London, having covered approximately 300 miles in three days. There will be a celebration to welcome the riders back. The public is welcome.

In three years, the Tour De Stu has raised $32,000 for the Stuart F. Sidmore Jr. Memorial Scholarship Fund. Anyone who is currently attending, or has attended the Kearsarge Regional School system is welcome to apply for a scholarship. The Kearsarge area includes Bradford, Newbury, New London, Springfield, Sutton, Warner and Wilmut. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit and a demonstrated sense of purpose and focus. Each rider pledges to raise $1000 for the Stuart F. Sidmore Scholarship Fund. Operating costs of the ride, which include food, drink, and lodging for the riders and the support team, are covered by corporate donations.

If you would like more information about the Tour De Stu, or the Stuart F. Sidmore Jr. Memorial Scholarship fund, call 526-8729 or e-mail info@tour-de-stu.org. The web address is www.tour-de-stu.org.

To the editor:
The Bradford Fire Department wishes to thank all the organizations and individuals that helped make the annual 4th of July Celebration a huge success. Thank you.

Mark Goldberg

To the editor:
The construction site on Fairgrounds Road has created an unhealthy amount of soot and dust. Trucks and cars have always traveled too fast on this portion of the road and the work presently being done has not slowed them down at all. My home at present is in one disaster from the black soot and ground dust. The faster you drive the more soot and dust literally ends up inside my home. In this heat I have kept all doors and windows on the front of the house closed around the clock. The speed is 30 miles an hour. Most people do 40-50 miles an hour. This is a traffic violation especially when considering that it is also a construction site. Presently living in this area of soot and dust are elderly and also a family with new babies. The dust is creating many problems for all. PLEASE SLOW DOWN. It will help in many ways. Having the Town put chemicals down to eliminate the dust is very costly and is only a temporary fix. Please try to be considerate and take the extra five minutes to go slowly. I assure you that it will be most appreciated. Sincerely thanking you for your efforts in this matter.

Successful Blood Drive
Thanks to all the great volunteers the Blood Drive was a great success. Seventy-one people showed up to donate blood. Nine were first-time donors. Fifty-eight pints were donated to the Red Cross. At the last drive in Bradford, thirty-four pints were donated. Our goal was forty. We were thrilled and the Red Cross was very happy and are looking forward to coming back to Bradford. Thank you all who came to donate. The need is very great at this time. I know those and their families who benefit from this wonderful gift will be sending sincere thanks from their hearts.

Parade Accolades
Thanks to the Bradford Fire Department, all who made money donations, those who participated in the parade, and those who gave of their time and energy to make our Independence Day Celebration the success that it was. Ribbon winners were: First Place: Fjord Horses; Shriners Bekash Band, “Octopi Your Mind” (Friends of the Brown Memorial Library), Bradford Battonettes (Bradford Parks & Recreation), the Kittery Kids, Perkin’s 1950 pick-up, and Messer’s antique tractor with plow. The “Most Original” prize went to “Octopi Your Mind.” Judges Clare Bensley, Sarah and Octo Barnett did such a fine job, many thanks. They said it was hard picking with such great participants. Now it’s time to start thinking about next year. Remember, our Independence Day Celebration is Bradford’s “claim to fame.”

BNS"Successful"YS Baseball/Softball Season

One hundred and twelve children participated in baseball/softball this season, matching the number from 2000. First year T-ball coaches Jay Tucker and Tina DeFosses were great—teaching the game while keeping it fun. Joe Torro moved a step up to Rookie ball coach, fielding an undefeated team thanks in large part to veteran assistant coach Tom Pitts. Sharon Gaines has revitalized the softball program to a steady beat again; she was very competitive with a "young" 10-under team. Bob Jenkins and John Higgins each won a play-off game with their 9-10 year olds. Steve Justice won the league championship with his 11-12 year old team as did Karen Losik with the 13-prep team. Lastly, the Bradford Brewers took the 14-15 Babe Ruth crown.

I would like to thank all volunteers who helped, from field clean-up day, to running the snack shacks, to umpiring—we can not do it without you! Finally, a big thanks to Tayo Sands; there are not many I can count on to be "always present" and to Mike Bauer and Karl Scribner for their help in field maintenance. See you all next spring!

Sutton Old Home Day August 19

The Sutton tradition of Old Home Day continues this year on Sunday, August 19 at 11:00am at the South Sutton Meeting House. We will learn the true spirit of this day from Dr. James L. Haddix and the Rev. Herschel W. Rogers. We'll be inspired by beautiful organ and choir music. After the service, a picnic lunch by the South Sutton Homesteaders will be available on the common. The 1850 Old Store Museum, the 1863 one-room schoolhouse and the 1800 Meeting House will be open to the public from noon to 3:00pm. The Amoskeag Strummers will again keep our feet tapping and there will be supervised games for the children. As usual, all are invited to wear appropriate attire of yesteryear. For costumes, please call Caitlin Wells at 927-4939 or Kara or Rachel Kelly at 927-4613.

He'll Get It Done

Bob Stewart can be called the "I'll do it person" in Bradford. We first met when we were looking for a house back in 1976 and Bob was our realtor. The big thing that I recall is that he said, "I just drive through Main Street and wave to everyone." We were coming from a bigger town and the idea of waving to strangers was kind of strange but that's what we did. We moved to Bradford and began to wave in every direction. Twenty-five years later Bob joined the Bradford Community Center Board where I reluctantly sit as chair. I discovered that if I managed to move the meeting along and get Bob out by 7:00pm, he could do anything. And, I do mean, get it done. It's okay with me, I like short meetings.

Bob, his wife Addy, and their three children arrived in Bradford in 1972 after Bob completed a twenty-year stint in the US Navy. He joined the Stewart Agency on Main Street, which was founded by his dad in 1957. Bob's dad Ernest was Realtor of the Year for 1971, and one of the original founders of the Lake Sunapee Regional Board of Realtors.

Bob and Addy, proud parents, are now proud grandparents of six grandchildren. For many years they lived in the big white house on High Street and then built another place two houses over when the house became too large. Bob has been a true citizen of Bradford over the years. In 1994 he received Citizen of the Year award in recognition of his dedication to the welfare of the people of Bradford. He's received the Shriner of the Year Award and works hard for that organization by participating in the annual circus and the Maple Sugar Bowl game, which are fundraisers for the Shriners. It goes on. Bob served on the Kearsarge Regional Budget Committee and has been a member and chairman of the board of the Bradford Budget Committee. Bob has been an incorporator for Sugar River Bank for twenty years. An all around guy, he's coached Little League and worked with the Boy Scouts for twelve years. He's been a member of Fish and Game for thirty-one years and served as treasurer for twenty-eight years. Bob leaves Bradford every year to act as Director of the Hopkinton State Fair. He's been President and currently is Treasurer. Bob serves as Treasurer and chair of maintenance at the Bradford Area Community Center. He's involved and interested in the workings of the center with an abiding interest in the youth activities.

Just ask him and Bob will get it done.

American Baptist Women’s Ministries: Meet on Tuesday, August 14 at 7:00pm in the Vestry for a short business meeting and installation of the new officers. Refreshments will follow.

Food Pantry: The pantry will be open on Wednesday, August 15 from 6:00–7:00pm. Food can also be obtained at other times by calling the Church office at 938–5313.

Fellowship Night: On Sunday, August 19, we will go to the New London Barn Play House to see “Singing in the Rain.” We will be leaving the Church at 4:15pm for a 5:00pm performance.

Bradford Center Meeting House: Our Church will hold its worship service at the Bradford Center Meeting House on Sunday, August 26 at 10:00am.

Parks & Recreation Update

We are so proud of our girls, Nikki Dow, Ashley McNeil, Linda Tripp, Mary-Margaret Pickman, Jamie Sanborn, Kathlyn Raymond, and Madeline and Olivia Warren. Our Banner carriers, Damian Biron and Gregory Scherer, and mascots Matthew Pickman and Ally Solms, also did a fine job. The Bradford Batonettes got us another Blue Ribbon this year. They did a fine job marching and twirling in the parade. I know they enjoyed every minute of it, too. Their instructor, Donna Acker, was beaming with pride.

The Summer Program was a great success. Some days we had 24 kids in attendance. We had great trips to the Montshire Museum, Odiorne State Park, and Canobie Lake Park. One day we toured Bradford. Ann Eldridge gave us a tour of the Bradford Dog and Tom Reilly walked us through the cemetery at Old Bradford Center. The kids really enjoyed the Old School House, with some playing teacher. Then we were off to Eckard’s Farm in Washington. What a fun place to visit. Days at the Community Center were filled with games and some very neat crafts. Many thanks to the many volunteers, the bus drivers, and our only paid staff, Martha Young. Martha did a fantastic job and the kids just loved her. We’re already talking about next year.

The Swim Program with Jess Freire as our instructor and Bradford Women’s Club Kathleen Bigford as coordinator brought about new swimmers and many very improved swimmers. This program paid for the extended swim lines.

Alicia Carlson from the Department of Environmental Services gave a very informative program on good and bad plants and bugs of the lake.

Get your 50/50 chances. We will hold the raffle drawing on August 4. This is the beginning of our Building Fund Drive. It’s wonderful seeing French’s Park being used by so many. The park is a great place to cool off or have a picnic. (Just a word from one smoker to another—please pick up your butts.)

South Newbury Union Church Fair

The date has been set and plans are being made for the South Newbury Union Church annual Fair. The church is celebrating its 170th anniversary and the Fair will take place on August 11, rain or shine. We are seeking vendors. If you are interested call Alison at 938–2700. A country church fair would not be complete without a great quilt display. We are looking for quilts to show. Do you have a special quilt that you would like to show? Call Claire at 938–2335. Raffle items for this year’s fair have been named: A pair of custom-made Adirondack chairs, an AT&T cordless phone, a stained glass fan lamp, and an original professional framed photograph. Again this year, we will be entertained by the great music of Lou and Harold. There will be hot dogs, soda, ice cream, coffee, and donuts. Enjoy children’s games, a petting zoo, the green thumb table, vendors, a flea market, a great Chinese auction, fly-tying demonstrations, a bake table, and lots more. We will have something for everyone. The day will culminate with our famous Chicken Barbecue from 5:00–7:00pm. Tickets for the barbecue will be $7 and take out will be available. Real Estate Hints:
Market trends & other news
by Laura Hallahan

It appears that the real estate market is slowing down after a long run of quick sales at top price. While mortgage rates have come down, homes are staying on the market longer compared to last summer. This is causing some prices to drop, but overall prices remain high and the market is still a seller's market for the time being. The Massachusetts Association of Realtors reports that consumers there are fed up with ridiculous prices and they are thinking twice about whether to buy at all. These sentiments may work their way north, especially with waterfront properties.

Some interesting statistics about the new consumer who uses the internet to find a house: while traditional homebuyers looked at 15.1 homes with a realtor before making a purchase, internet homebuyers looked at 7.9 homes. Why? A real estate technology company argues that internet buyers spend 300% more time researching and investigating everything from homes to schools and mortgages before visiting a realtor to buy.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in a recent case that property owners may sue for compensation when environmental regulations reduce the value of their holdings. Anthony Palazzolo of Rhode Island wanted to build 74 homes on 18 acres of land but was told he could only build one home because of wetland restrictions. The state argued that since the regulations were in place when Palazzolo acquired title to the property, he should be barred from developing the land. The Supreme Court, however, ruled that existing regulations could be challenged and sent a message that state and federal regulators cannot simply put a freeze on the use of private property without giving the owner a fair price for it. The decision has been sent back to the state court to determine if Mr. Palazzolo is owed payment under the Fifth Amendment's guarantee of "just compensation" when private property is taken for public use.

Finally, a study out of Johns Hopkins University may stir some debate. A recent edition of Realty Times reports that a child who always lived in an owned home is estimated to achieve nearly half a year of school more than a child whose parents were always renters. The positive effects can be in part attributed to the extra equity income it generates as well as the stability it provides by reducing the number of times a family moves.

Bradford, Warner Seniors Collaborate

The Warner and Bradford Senior Centers are collaborating on a joint venture. As of August 6, senior programs and activities will take place at the Bradford Area Community Center. The newly renovated, spacious Bradford Area Community Center will welcome seniors from all the local communities with enhanced programming, activities, social, and recreational opportunities and transportation services. The Meals-On-Wheels deliveries will also be distributed from the new location in Bradford. The Warner Senior Center location will remain open for luncheons and programming on Wednesdays with Rhonda Roed. The community resource room and computer classes will continue throughout the week manned by volunteers. We'll have more specific information in next month's Bridge. The Bradford Area Community Center's Governance Board welcomes this exciting program to our intergenerational facility on Main Street.

The 27-mile round trip between Sunapee Station and Bradford shut down because of "strangulating bureaucratic restrictions" according to owner F. Nelson Blount. The Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) met in Bradford and questioned the existence of prior inspection records on the locomotive, although present records were on file. The records were reportedly destroyed in a fire in Canada and Mr. Blount refused to have anything to do with the ICC, insisting the state Public Utilities Commission had jurisdiction over his line.

Carrying between 300 and 400 passengers daily for $1.99 (children, 95 cents), the two-hour round trip left Bradford for Lake Sunapee Station with stops at Newbury and Lake Sunapee State Beach twice daily, once on weekends. The locomotive #47 was built in 1912 for the Canadian National Railroad. The passenger cars were restored to bright yellow and built in Laconia in 1890. The Concord and Claremont still hauled freight, but the steam excursion trains were a favorite nostalgic trip for both locals and visitors.
Legislative Report
By Representative Barbara C. French

Over the last 25 years, the New Hampshire economy has been transformed. According to the "Higher Education and the New Economy in New Hampshire" report from the New Hampshire Forum on Higher Education, the high-tech industry accounts for more of New Hampshire's gross state product than retail and wholesale trades combined. The high-tech industry spreads across several areas of industry—electronic components, computer equipment, software and communications equipment—and is seen in both large and small businesses. High-tech employment is leading New Hampshire's employment growth. This advantage should position the state strongly for future growth and will keep the demand high for an educated labor force. However, the report further states that currently in New Hampshire, we are feeling the effects of the demand for skilled labor. Although NH's strong economic performance continued through the 1990s and we enjoyed the strongest economy in New England and the Northeast, NH has slipped from a number one ranking to number two in terms of percentage of employment in high-technology industries. The demand for college degrees, particularly in computer science, engineering and math, is exceeding projections. Over the next ten years, 50% of all new jobs created will be for college-educated workers. This is not a good time for New Hampshire to be falling behind in terms of an educated workforce.

New Hampshire ranks low in high school completion rate compared to other high-tech states—between 63 and 73 percent. Approximately two-thirds of New Hampshire high school graduates go on to college compared to almost three-fourths in other high-tech states. Of those students, New Hampshire retains only 50 percent, causing us to have a "brain drain" of some of our very best young people to other states. New Hampshire ranks fourth lowest among the 50 states on retention of high school graduates going on to higher education. One of the biggest reasons for our low retention rate is the very high tuition our in-state students pay to attend our university and colleges; we are rated second highest for tuition rates in the nation. Why should our young people stay if they can get an excellent education right across the border at a lower price? How many families of young people in Bradford and Henniker have students who would like to go on to college but cannot afford to send them?

New Hampshire is ranked 50th in the nation for in-state support for higher education as part of our state budget. This is not something to be proud of; it only increases the disparity between high and low-income families. It also perpetuates the economic division between the northern and western counties and those counties in the south that have experienced the most growth. But the problem doesn't start at higher education funding; it starts at kindergarten, or earlier. Early education is key to a child's later success. According to the 2001 Kids Count Data Book, New Hampshire experienced an 11% increase in the portion of children living in poverty between 1990 and 1998. Child poverty is closely tied to school performance. This is a problem that affects all of us. We also need real school accountability that holds school districts responsible for failing schools—not a bill like the one the Governor vetoed which makes it optional for a school district to accept assistance from the state.

I believe that what our state needs to do is change our tax structure. Continuing to fund education and the state budget through a hodgepodge of taxes is irresponsible, as is using the tobacco settlement fund. The money we have collected from that settlement, $79 million since 1999, has been used to balance our state budget instead of to improve public health and reduce smoking. Shouldn't we be doing something about the health care needs of those who are uninsured in our state? Many of our young adults are often uninsured because the rates are so prohibitive. Another issue that the legislature did not deal with this session is the milfoil problem. This has the potential to really wreak havoc with our state's economy. Tourism is New Hampshire's second leading industry and if this plant invades our lakes, not only will it destroy our natural beauty, it will affect tourism as well.

Toward the end of this session, as the debate heated up about funding for the budget and education, legislators received letters from members of the business community. They asked us not to vote to increase business taxes. Some asked us to support gambling, which I will not do. However, most of the business community did not offer an intelligent, long-term solution to funding our schools. In order to sustain our current robust New Hampshire economy, we will need a workforce of skilled and educated workers. The business community should step up to the plate and help reform our tax structure.

Here is a favorite quote of mine from Jacques-Yves Cousteau to ponder while you are enjoying our wonderful New Hampshire summer. "Let us cease thinking only of ourselves and reasoning only in the short term. Let us assure for the children to come the same rights that have been declared for their parents." Please contact me at 428-3366, or Rep. Beth Rodd at 938-2692 with any questions you may have.

July Selectmen's Meetings

JULY 2. Michelle Marson met with Selectmen to discuss property ownership questions discovered during the revaluation data entry. Ms. Marson has researched the parcels in question and has located the owners on all but one parcel. The parcel is off East Washington Road and contains about 20 acres of wetlands. Selectmen discussed the matter and suggested marking the parcel as owner unknown.

Sue Vitale of the Bradford Area Community Center thanked Selectmen for having the trees around the Community Center parking area cut, and questioned when the Community Center parking lot would be paved. The current paving mix is too soft and not only is damaged with cars turning, but also is tracked into the building on shoes, making a mess of carpets and flooring. Selectmen suggested approaching the matter during the next budget session, as there is no money available in this year's budget. Sue Vitale also reported that eight lilacs have been received from the state for use in the bicentennial garden on the corner of Main Street and Rte 103. Chris Frey has agreed to have the Highway Department deliver a load of loam to the garden site soon after July 7.

A registered letter has been sent to and received by Annie Whipple regarding the zoning violation of the trailer on her property on West Road. Mrs. Whipple has been given until July 8 to remove the trailer.

Chris Frey confirmed the decision of the Road Committee to not request a change of approach on the next Fairgrounds Road Bridge design. The Committee discussed possible changes with the landowner and the decision was made to keep the road as it is. Cheryl will contact Gloria Andrews of SEA Consultants with this information.

Chris Frey reported that the Town has arranged to remove junk cars from property in Bradford at no cost to the landowners. Please call the Town Office for information.

Selectmen discussed energy efficiency plans for the Town Hall. Chris Frey reported his findings regarding the replacement of single pane windows in the Town Hall. Replacement of the boiler and hot water heater was also discussed.

The recent lightning and thunderstorms in the area have left trees and limbs down on many town roads. The road crew has been busy with cleanup.

Selectmen discussed the dusty road problems on Fairgrounds Road. The Road Agent has been spreading calcium chloride on the roads but it is effective for only a short time period. The road will be repaved in late summer/early fall.

JULY 16. Arnold Anderson, Road Agent, met with Selectmen to discuss the hiring of two trucks to haul gravel for two days and the hiring of a part-time person to patch roads. Chairman Frey reviewed the budget with the Road Agent. The money received from the Federal Emergency Management disaster claim (for the period March 5–7) will be allocated between the heating fuel budget, the salt budget, additional hours (for plowing next winter and additional part-time wages) and the balance to road oil.

Chief Kirby met with Selectmen to discuss the filling of openings within the Police Department. Charleen St. Pierre will return as Animal Control Officer and French’s Park Attendant for three months. Several applications have been received for part-time officer openings and the post of part-time secretary has not yet been filled. Chief Kirby’s second issue for the Selectmen was to discuss the police cruisers. The repairs on the 1995 Crown Victoria and the 1997 Explorer have been far above the money budgeted for this item. The leasing of a cruiser with a municipal funding clause has been discussed several times over the past six months as more cost effective than continuing to repair the older vehicles. After examining the budget the Selectmen voted to reclassify money from other line items to the equipment line item in the police budget and pursue the leasing of a 2000 Crown Victoria from Irwin Motors. The 1995 Crown Victoria will be stripped of all transferable equipment and will be used for the remainder of the year for traffic details. The Town has received money from Pike Industries for the rental of the cruiser for traffic detail on the Rt. 114 rehabilitation. The Selectmen voted to authorize Chief Kirby to arrange the leasing of the 2000 Crown Victoria for $7482.20 not to exceed $9300 with outfitting. The new cruiser will be black and white.

The Selectmen discussed the trailer issue on West Road. Chip Meaney, building inspector has prepared an update on the issue, but the letter was not received due to e-mail problems. Selectmen will follow up on the letter when received.

Selectmen voted to spend the remainder of the heating fuel budgets and purchase oil at summer prices.

The Sayre property recommendations from the Planning Board were discussed. Selectmen will research RSA 674-41 and prepare a letter for the attorneys involved. Tim Bates, Town Attorney, will be consulted.

Chris Frey has been in contact with Gloria Andrews from SEA engineering regarding the punch list items on the Fairgrounds Road Bridge. The Fire Chief will be consulted for issues concerning the hydrant. Final prints will be prepared by SEA for submission to the State for reimbursement to the Town.

The milfoil project's employment issues were discussed. Two workers are now on the project.

Sue Vitale spoke to Selectmen about putting in a telephone in the kitchen of the Community Center for local calls only, to cover the Center in emergencies. Mrs. Vitale also remarked on the need for a public phone in the Town Hall. Discussion followed of the cost of the phones, and the responsibility for the cost. Cheryl will check on the cost and report back.

ing unanticipated, are not part of the planning that goes into the budget process. We applied for, and have received, funds from the federal and state governments to cover some of the costs associated with the severe winter weather we experienced. These are considered "unanticipated funds." We have also received unanticipated revenue from the construction company that is working on Rt. 114. This pays for the use of the cruiser at the construction site. Also, our bills for liability and workman's compensation came in lower because we had no claims.

The unanticipated revenue, combined with the savings cited above, will replace the money in the line items depleted by the winter storms and will pay for the leasing of the cruiser. A clause in the lease states that if the Town votes not to continue funding the lease, the vehicle can be turned back with no penalty. If we keep the vehicle, the cost to keep it will be one dollar at the end of the lease (three years). The option to continue the lease will be on the warrant at the next Town Meeting in March 2002. Because this was paid for by unanticipated revenues and cost savings, there will be NO impact on the town tax rate.

Planning Board Notes

The majority of any planning board’s time is spent dealing with applications for subdivisions and site plan reviews. Additional and vital responsibilities of the board deal with efforts to guide the development of the town as a whole. Two planning tools are generally involved in helping to shape the long-term future for the town—a Master Plan and a Capital Improvements Program. Bradford’s Master Plan was updated in 1996 and the Planning Board is currently considering amendments to the land use regulations where needed to bring these requirements in line with the goals and objectives set out in the Master Plan. The Board is looking first at the proposed “Village District” which the Plan envisioned as a more densely-occupied area of older homes and buildings with “only those service establishments compatible with the ambiance of a country village.”

The Board is also reviewing the Controlled Access portions of State Routes 103 and 114 to determine where commercial development might not only be reasonable but also possible because of the limited access allowed on those highways.

The Planning Board was authorized by Town Meeting in 1995 to develop a Capital Improvements Program (CIP). Last year, the Board accepted an offer from the BEOC to initiate the work necessary to develop a CIP. Since then, the Capital Improvements Program Committee (CIPC) has been appointed by the Planning Board with Mel Pfeifle as the Board’s representative. The purpose of the CIP is to provide a guide that can be used by the Selectmen and the Budget Committee in preparation of the annual town budget. The CIP is a recommended program of town capital expenses projected over a period of years. The CIPC has determined that ten years is a reasonable time period and has defined a capital project as one that is outside normal operation and maintenance, has a cost of at least $10,000, a useful life of three years or more, is non-recurring, and any project requiring bonding.

A Joint Memorandum, work sheets, and a schedule for completion was prepared by the CIPC under the leadership of Chair Don Johnson and approved by the Board of Selectmen and Planning Board. A public hearing was held on July 24 to solicit suggestions for the scope and design of the documents and possible projects. The Memorandum and work sheets have been sent to all department heads as well as to many local groups and organizations that might have potential capital projects that would either be town-funded or town supported.

In order to have a document that the Budget Committee and Selectmen can utilize for the 2002 budget cycle, the schedule calls for the work sheets to be prepared, reviewed and clarified early in September with a public hearing on a draft CIP to be held by the end of that month. The CIPC would welcome any volunteers interested in helping with this project. Copies of the Memorandum and work sheets are available at the Selectmen’s Office. Call Bob Foor 938-2136 or Mel Pfeifle 938-5981 for more details about the CIP.

At the first meeting in July, the Board held a joint meeting/hearing to accept and then approve a site plan from Gale and Carl Olson to erect a storage facility consisting of four buildings on the former Breazy Hill Lumber property. Final placement of two signs on the property will be presented to the Planning Board for approval before they are erected. The Board also reviewed a request for comment from the Selectmen on issuance of a building permit for a lot off of Johnson Hill Road accessed by a Class VI road. The Board voted that the location is suitable for one single-family house. The issue of road access is the full responsibility of the Board of Selectmen as is the final determination as to whether or not the permit should be granted. The Board voted to appoint Barbara Vannata as an alternate member.

The Planning Board is actively seeking a Secretary to assist them with the increasing tasks dealing with development in Town and working towards long-range planning for Bradford’s future. The job involves attendance at two Planning Board meetings each month, preparation of the minutes within six days of each meeting, some correspondence and assistance with record keeping. Twenty hours per month is the estimated time and the salary is negotiable (within the budget allocation). Contact Bob Foor at 938-2136 for details.
