Kenyan Visitor in Bradford

On March 17, Irene Kemunto of Kenya and New Jersey shared the bounty of a traditional corned beef and cabbage St. Patrick’s Day dinner at the First Baptist Church in Bradford where she was the honored guest. Irene first came to the area last summer when Camp Waldosso in Sutton recruited her to be a camp counselor. During the summer, she attended the First Baptist Church’s services and was befriended by many parishioners. The benefit dinner grew out of the community’s desire to help Irene attend college. In Kenya, as a member of the tribal grouping named “Kisii,” Irene had no hope of attending college. Since immigrating to America, she has been encouraged to dream—having been accepted as a student at the Hudson Community College where she plans to earn a degree in Nursing. She hopes eventually to bring her parents to this country. Even with uncertain funding prospects, Irene has tremendous faith that she will earn enough money to pay for college. If you would like to contribute funds for Irene Kemunto’s college education, please call the church at 938-5313. Checks may be made out to the First Baptist Church, on memo line: Irene Kemunto.

Applicants are requested to write a one-page essay describing their educational plans and how the scholarship would help to meet their financial needs. A letter of recommendation from their current school should be included. The Bradford scholarship amounts to approximately $250.00 and is derived from interest on a town trust fund.

If you are interested in making a donation to this scholarship fund to increase the annual award ($250.00 doesn’t go far in meeting educational needs these days), please send your donation as well as any scholarship applications to: Town of Bradford Scholarship Fund, c/o Beth Roskill, P.O. Box 337, Bradford, N.H. 03221. The deadline for applications is May 15, 2000.

Bradford Area Community Center Open House

We know that many of our area residents have been looking forward to visiting the new building and seeing the progress that has been made. Later during the summer, a Grand Opening and Dedication will take place; the planning and effort in making that day special is in progress.

For those who are anxious to see the BACC now, we have planned an Open House on Sunday, May 21, 1:00-4:00pm. Refreshments and tours will be provided.

We look forward to seeing many new faces. Come share in the excitement of a community project well done, and maybe some of you will be inspired to become volunteers!

Bus Drivers Commended

On Friday, April 7, Cheryl Hardy invited the entire group of Kearsarge Regional School District bus drivers to the Bradford Pizza Chef for dinner. Several drivers were able to attend this gathering. From there they were all driven to Bow High School and individual drivers were honored at the Safe Driver and Driver of the Year awards presentation.

Dr. Cal LeMon, of Springfield, Missouri, was the master of Ceremonies and guest speaker. Dr. LeMon is a nationally recognized school bus advocate and speaker and a leading expert on school transportation safety.

Board members presented awards from the New Hampshire School Transportation Association. Each recognized driver received a certificate noting the number of years driving without a reportable crash, a pin with this number engraved on it and had their picture taken with Board members. The Kearsarge Regional School District drivers honored at this event are as follows: Awarded for five years of driving without a reportable crash were Bud Linton, Clyde Benedict, Ralph Carroll, Peter Fenton, Kim Fortune, Don Heath and Lee Williamson. Joanne Barnett, Deb Cople, Jack Lichly, Robert Miller and Robert Schneider received awards for ten years of safe driving; Robin Geoffrion and Donna Roberts received awards for twenty years and Pat Chambers and Dorothy Morris received twenty-five year pins and certificates for their safe driving records.

The Kearsarge Regional School District is fortunate to have such a fine representation at this important statewide event. The District administration and School Board commend each and every one of them for their outstanding accomplishment.

Selectmen’s Update

This being my first update, I would like to mention my congratulations to Selectman Dick Vitale for his writings this past year. They were completed in a pleasant and informative manner. Thanks, Dick, for a job well done.

Now that the dust has settled after the Town Meeting, the new dust is in form of renovations being made at the Town Hall. Don't be confused when you enter, as the Town Clerk, Town Tax Collector, and the Selectmen’s Administrative Assistant will share the large room which formerly housed the kindergarten class. Our Police Department will acquire two new rooms, one of which will give our Police Chief a private office. Thanks to our Highway Department, along with Cheryl, Sue and Michelle, the move is progressing in a timely manner. Please visit.

Contracts have been signed for bridge work on the Fairground Road bridge located on the western end of that road. Our roads, where necessary, have been posted with a six-ton limit for the "mud season." Repair plans for East Washington Road are being formulated and our Road Agent has advised us that he is setting up a spring-summer schedule for his crews.

In closing, I would like to state that your Selectmen will act with concern for economy, bearing in mind that the taxpayer is affected by our actions.

Host Families Needed For Inner City Children

Summer is just around the corner and while many of you may be looking forward to sweet corn, swimming and the smells of fresh cut grass, New York City youngsters think of stifling heat, pollution and the noise of the city. Your family can help change this by opening your home for two special weeks in July. The Fresh Air Fund is seeking host families from Hillsboro to Hopkinton, Warner to Wilmot and all points in between.

The children will arrive in Warner on July 12 and return home on July 26. “We have so much here in a New Hampshire summer,” says Joyce Foley of Warner. “These kids have never been swimming in a lake or picked a fresh tomato.” You may select a boy or a girl, age 6-12. “It’s a wonderful feeling to share everything we take for granted with these children. They are so appreciative of our kindness and they are all just wonderful little kids.” All it takes to be a host family is an extra bed and a plate at the dinner table. For information contact Joyce Foley at 456-3279.

Youth Baseball Competition

A Major League Baseball Diamond Skills Competition will be held at Brown Shattuck Park Sunday, May 7 at 1:00pm. Diamond Skills is a baseball skills competition that allows youngsters to showcase their talents in batting, fielding, throwing and base-running with scores determined by individual performances in each event. Winners of the local competition will have an opportunity to advance to Holman Stadium in Nashua to the State Competition on June 4. They will be able to meet Buzzie Bavasi as well as see the Nashua Pride play that evening.

The event is sponsored by the Bradford Parks and Recreation Department with the cooperation of Bradford-Newbury-Sutton Youth Sports. Registration will be at 12:30pm. There are four age groups: 7/8, 9/10, 11/12 and 13/14 based on the child’s age as of July 17, 2000. All local youths are invited to participate. All participants must fill out a registration form, available from Bradford Parks and Recreation Department or a local Toys “R” Us store. Participants must provide a copy of a valid birth certificate or baptismal record for proof of age. Participants are only allowed to compete in one local competition. For information call Larry Zabik at 938-2954.

The Community Workshop

The next meeting of the Community Workshop will take place Thursday, May 11, at the Friendship House in South Newbury. Steven Sanborn, who has recently relocated his clock repair business to Sunapee, will share some antique clocks with us and give a history of clock making in New England. Members are invited to bring any antique or unusual clocks to share at the meeting.

We'll also hold our popular Plant Exchange on the 11th. Bring extra seedlings or whatever; bring some and take some home. This is a chance to have a little variety in the garden this summer. Bring your plants to set up and projects to work on at 11:00 am; a bag lunch for noon and come prepared to enjoy Mr. Sanborn's program at 1:00 pm. Dessert and beverage will be provided. Letters

To the editor:

I would like to thank all of my neighbors in the Town of Bradford who voted for me at the Town Elections in March. This will be my second term and I hope to serve you well. I am looking forward to continue working with Mary Rich and Chris Frey, the other members of the Board of Selectmen. There is much to be done. There is one thing that I would like to ask of all of you. Please continue to volunteer and, for those who haven’t, please join us. There are vacancies on several boards and committees of the town and we need you. It is a great opportunity to be part of what is happening in Bradford. Thanks again for your vote of confidence. It is very much appreciated.

Dick Vitale

To the editor:

I’d like to thank Jane Herbert for her generous contribution to the Town of Bradford. Recently I asked Jane to paint two mandatory recycling signs for the Transfer Station. Jane graciously used her time, talent and materials. I asked Jane to submit a bill to the Town and she said, “No, they’re a gift.”

I’m trying to emphasize to the people in the Town of Bradford how important recycling is, not only for the obvious ecological reasons, but also for Bradford’s future. Recycling saves and generates money for the Town. We do have some avid recyclers in Bradford and thanks to them it has lowered the price of disposal. We have markets for metals, textiles and paper products and currently cardboard is selling at a premium.

Parks and Recreation News

The Skateboard Park is now open. Work is being done and we need help. We are going to cover the largest piece (you can see how much I know) with sheet metal. This will cut back on the maintenance. We will need some able bodied to accomplish this. Please call 938-2570 if you can help. This also will deplete most of the money the parents and kids raised for the park. Any parents who are interested in fundraising for the park, please get in touch with us. On May 7 we will hold the Diamond Skills Baseball program at 12:15pm at Brown Shattuck Field.

The horseshoe pits are set again at Brown Shattuck Field and horseshoes are available at Bowie’s Market. Because of class size and space limitations, our fitness programs with Molly Clark have returned to the Town Hall. Check the calendar for dates and time. Our “Bradford Batonneettes” are working very hard and are looking forward to marching in the July 4th Parade. We are also very pleased to have been asked to march in the Hillsboro Balloon Festival Parade. A clean-up day at French’s Park is planned for June. Again, we need help so if you use and enjoy the Park please get in touch, 938-2570. Archery will be starting up soon, so watch for posters.

Adventures in Art

BOOK REVIEW  by Pauline Dishmon

This novel tells a story of innocence and evil, an appalling crime similar to that in Thomas Tryon's book, The Other. The story begins in the voice of a woman named Zoe. She and her family have recently undergone sadness due to the loss of their baby girl named Beth. Zoe and her husband Michael have two other children, Paul and Andrew. For the most part, the boys are on different wavelengths. Michael seems to favor Paul while Zoe seems to favor Andrew.

As the book progresses, Zoe is killed and Michael is arrested, charged with her murder. He claims not to have hurt his wife or the baby, but Zoe's friend Lillian, a spiritualist, claims to have evidence against him. With Zoe dead, her sister Laura takes over the care of her nephew while Felix, her lawyer husband does his best to release Michael who claims to be innocent.

The novel is compelling and chilling. The story is relayed through diary entries and correspondence of four characters: the wife, the husband, the husband's lawyer, and the killer. This mystery is the first written by Melissa Jones. She lives in England and presently is working on a second novel.

Cold in Earth is available at the Brown Memorial Library.

The Library Lantern

The Library Lantern by Maggi Ainslie

There are so many people to thank this month! The library now has two beautiful Maxfield Parrish prints donated by Audrey Sylvester. They are on display for the month of May and then will be available for borrowing with a current library card. This wonderful gift beautifies our new interior. Thank you, Audrey, for thinking of us. We thank the Bradford Historical Society for a very special video, A Way of Life Remembered narrated by Millie Kittredge. If you had any connection with Simonds High School in Warner, you'll want to see this. It's great!

Wendy Pringle and Kathleen Robbins held two very successful computer classes in April. Fifteen participants signed up, laptops appeared and our two computers were put through their paces. Everyone had a good time. Our next class, "Introduction to the Internet," will be on Thursdays, May 11 and 18 at 7:00 pm at the library. Pre-registration is required and space is limited to 15 people.

This year our Book Sale will be held jointly with the Women's Club Bake and Plant Sale on Saturday, May 27 from 9:00 am to 1:00 pm at the library, rain or shine.

We have two passes to the Museum of New Hampshire History in Concord available to all library cardholders, donated anonymously. What a wonderful gift!

Lucinda McQueen, illustrator from Warner, gave us a wonderful program about her work and donated books as well. The Friends' Easter Egg Hunt held inside the library was a great success with 14 kids and 22 adults in on the hunt. Thanks everyone for a great time.

And finally, a special thank you to Susie Janicki and Susan Farber for all that you do for us!

Library Friends Potluck Supper and Annual Meeting

Turkey Hunting Safety

- Don’t ever attempt to approach closer than 100 yards to a hen or gobbler.
- Never select a calling site with your back to a tree that is smaller than the width of your shoulders.
- Never jump and turn suddenly because you hear a turkey close behind you.
- Never select a calling site that you can not see at least 40 yards in all directions.
- Never stalk a turkey.
- Don’t use a gobbler call unless it is one of those rare situations when circumstances really warrant trying something different.
- Don’t think that because you are totally camouflaged that you are totally invisible (tie a hunter orange band around the tree where you are sitting).
- Never wear red, white, or blue clothing, not even undergarments of these colors. (These colors are found in the natural coloring of the wild turkey. Wearing these colors can make you an unsuspecting target).
- Never presume that what you hear or what answers you is a turkey (it may be another hunter).
- Don’t try to hide so well that you can’t see what’s happening.
Bradford Area Community Center Youth Council

On April 9 we had our very first Youth Council Committee meeting. The Youth Council Committee consists of an adult advisor and two Youth Representatives for each age group: 4th & 5th grade—Garret Bauer, Elizabeth Birtz and Maryse Conway; Middle School—Ashley Bauer, Meghan MacLean and Judy McGee; High School—Ryan Sturgis, Bryan Ames and Lisa MacLean. There are three other adult advisors on this committee: Chairperson, Yvonne McCormick; Program & Planning Representative, Mike Hague, who is also involved in the Character Coalition and Finance & Fundraising Representative, Dawn Rich. We are hoping that a volunteer from Parks & Recreation will come forward to join our group in the near future.

In our first few meetings we will be addressing our Mission Statement, the Youth Room policies as well as what kinds of programs the kids would like to participate in. Some of programs that the kids have voiced an interest in are arts, drama, pick up games of baseball and soccer, movie nights and game nights. Currently we have one night a month scheduled for each group to get together to have fun in an unstructured fashion. As we grow and progress with our programs there will be many other times when the Youth Room will be open.

Of course, being open more and being able to offer more programs means that we will need to hold some fundraising events and will need more volunteers. If you would like to offer your time you can call the BACC at 938-6228 or get in touch with Yvonne McCormick at 938-5210. Our first fundraiser will be a Flea Market on Saturday, May 27. We will be renting space outside the BACC. If you would like to rent a space, donate items for our Youth table to sell or help us with this event please contact the BACC or Yvonne McCormick at the numbers listed above.

Bradford-Newbury-Sutton Youth Sports

As of January we are known as BNSYS. Welcome, Sutton athletes! There are lots of things happening with BNSYS. First there's a new board. They are Jim Bruss, President; Scott MacLean, Soccer; Mike Bauer, Field Hockey; Joe Torro, Equipment; Tanya Sands, Booster; Alan Craigie, Baseball; Beth Riddell, Secretary; Kevin Daniels, Officer at Large; Matt Winslow, Treasurer and Harry Seidel, Officer at Large. The officers meet monthly. If anyone has concerns, ideas or agenda items to bring to a meeting please call Jim Bruss at 938-2069 to schedule.

T-ball, baseball and softball, we have it all. 108 kids from the three towns are playing. Among the great coaches are Joe Torro and Matt Winslow. Joe can be seen on the field down in hands and knees teaching the first graders to bunt. Matt is coaching the older boys who are looking ready for the big leagues. Two girl's softball teams have been asked for 9 and 10, 11 and 12 year olds due to demand. Go girls! In other baseball news, Larry Hall and Jane Lucas from the Bradford Parks and Recreation Department are holding a Baseball Diamond Skills Competition May 7. Volunteers are needed to help. Call Jane Lucas at 938-2570 to play or volunteer.

Sunday afternoon spring soccer games have arrived for grades three through eight. Seventy kids have signed up for these fun co-ed games to be played once a week. No practices, that's the great part. Bring a chair and come down to see the famous Alex Azodi coach the fifth and sixth graders. He's a veteran, fabulous player and father of two future soccer stars. There will be two soccer camps in Bradford this summer. Janet Bauer is in charge. The British Challenger Camp for older kids is the week of July 31 through August 4. The next week, August 7-12 will be the MLS camp for ages five and up.

The first game of Spring Soccer was played on the new field on Sunday, April 30. Thank you to Mike Bauer and Harry Seidel. These two men have been tending and refining that field for over a year. They have gotten volunteers to mow, fertilize and reseed.

Thank you goes out to Carl Cooley and the Board for all the work that went into submitting a grant this winter. The grant is for $70,000 from the US Soccer Foundation and would be used for new field development and upgrades to current fields. We could really use the funding. Keep your fingers crossed.

April Selectmen's Meetings

April 3. Selectmen discussed the closing dates for the section of Fairgrounds Road where bridge repairs will be performed this summer. The anticipated start date is June 1, 2000. The road will remain closed until the end of November, 2000.

Selectmen reviewed a complaint regarding two families occupying two trailers on one lot on East Washington Road. This is a violation of the Zoning regulations. Selectmen requested Cheryl Behr to forward to the Building Inspector.

Current Use Applications were received and signed for Andrews on East Washington Road.

Selectmen received a letter from Brian Carter regarding repairs needed on Pierce Road. The Road Agent has discussed the repair issue and has the situation under control.

List of properties in danger of being reviewed by the selectmen. The town clerk has indicated the final date to pay is May 5, 2000.

The town has purchased a new commercial printer to handle the multi-page tax bill forms to be used by the new software.

Selectmen voted to move to non-public session per RSA 91-3A to discuss personnel issues with the Chief of Police.

April 17. Marvin Rich, Chairman, accepted a motion at 5:00 pm to remove to non-public session per RSA 91-3A, to discuss personnel issues with the Chief John Simms. The meeting returned to public session at 5:18 pm. No decisions were made.

Mike Carter of MBC Logging met with selectmen to discuss the opening of the roads. He suggested possibly opening individual roads depending on condition.

Selectmen will take under advisement.

Selectmen approved the appointment of Marty Bunn as library trustee to replace Larry Cook Brown as library trustee.

Intent to cut forms were signed for Hesselon on West Road, Eastman on West Road, Hill on Center Road, Chivers on Breezy Hill Road, and Buck on Rte 114.

The removal of a 4000-gallon fuel tank buried at the highway garage is complete. The tank was located during preparation for a slab and was removed by All Seasons Environmental, LLC. The tank contained some old gasoline, and has been disposed of according to hazardous waste rules.

Town records are audited annually by the Ouellet and Company, CPA firm from Laconia. The audit will be conducted during the week of April 17.

Town hall renovations continue. The walls of the former selectmen's office and the office of the town clerk/tax collector have been removed. New walls are under construction to provide the police department with added space. The remaining area will be used for public meetings.

The selectmen voted to accept the quote of Pike construction on the paving of Ring Hill Road and the apron at the Highway Garage. These items were voted at the March 2000 town meeting.

April 24, Sue Vitale, representing the Bradford Area Community Center Governance Board, met with selectmen to discuss problems that have been referred from the Road. These issues include the smell in the youth room from the heating system/ventilation. Mrs. Vitale stated parents have complained of the odor and do not want the children to use the room until the problem is fixed. Chris Frey instructed Cheryl Behr to contact the State Air Quality people and get information on an air quality test. Secondy, the Board asked selectmen to locate and post the elevator certificate for the center's lift. The third issue concerned the lever door handles on the senior room and the kindergarten. Members questioned if the law required panic bars. Chris Frey responded there was no state requirement for such hardware. Finally, the Board reported the carpet was wet in the office space. Chris Frey indicated there was more work to be done to complete the repair and would be started soon.

A resident met with Selectmen to discuss damage to his property by a blocked culvert. The town road crew had unfrozen the culvert recently on West Road, releasing water that caused a portion of driveway to wash away. He requested that the town replace the material swept away by the rush of water. The selectmen discussed and will contact the town counsel to determine town liability in this matter.

SEA Consultants have obtained the necessary Wetland permits to remove some rocks left from the bridge construction on the Box Corner Bridge.

A current use application was signed for Atlantis Rising.

Selectmen signed intent to cut forms for Del Harris on Rte 114 and for T & E Forest Products (to remove the log already cut). An intent to excavate application for Mel and John Pinto was also signed.

A letter was signed for the Appleseed allowing the serving of alcohol on an outside deck. Another letter was drafted for the approval of building a deck on the Appleseed.

Town hall renovations are progressing. Cheryl suggested moving planning and zoning meeting until the work is done. Milly Knittededge indicated the meetings needed their files and therefore could not be held elsewhere. Finishing the floor will be a problem but will be addressed when it takes place. Budget for the project is at limit. Selectmen have authorized another $500 for paint to complete the work.

BEOC Update

As time causes my hairline to retreat, I find I am far more patient in a world that seems increasingly impatient for results. Bindy Glennie, leader of the BEOC Gateway Design Concept Committee summed up this feeling when saying at our last meeting, "You can't put ice on a cake, until you have a cake." The Gateway Design Concept Committee is curcently looking at the intersection of Route 103 and Main Street. This first project will kick off this spring with much of the work accomplished by the Women's Club in the form of plantings and revitalization.

This initial effort will set the tone for the other gateways in Bradford, begining the newest phase of the much spoken about "village improvements." I should have numerous details on the plans next month as state regulations and the committee's design meld together into a proposed new look for this important gateway. Would you like to be part of the "icing on the cake?" Well, don't be shy. In my next article I will offer a list of the groups looking for volunteers.

The BEOC Planning Process Committee discussed creating a general guide to be used in BEOC projects. This guide would outline feasibility of the project, limitations, necessary pre-planning, time schedule and all the other sometimes slow moving details involved with "creating the cake." Planning will stress consistency from project to project, always keeping in mind the goals put forth by the community. This guide will quicken the implementation of future projects, as plans move to other gateways, plantings g or general improvements such as sidewalk upgrades.

Also discussed was the ongoing Bradford Green project. With grant proposals in and preliminary plans in the works to resolve details, the project moves forward. Each step involves a lot of "hurry-up and wait" work. We are currently in a wait phase. This should last about another month, when I will have more concrete results to report. So grip your seat and hold on, more on the Bradford Green is forthcoming.

CRICENTIS
Quality Service Integrity
New London 526-6951
The legislative session is winding down with a target of May 31 as the end of term. Last year, because of the school funding debates, the session lasted until June 10. We continue to walk on legislative eggshells regarding school funding issues and again this will be the dominant theme of the 2001-2002 session. Listen carefully to gubernatorial and legislative candidates and support those who represent your ideals and who will make the difficult and courageous decisions that determine how we live, the priorities we collectively support and reflect the ability to respond to the changing realities of our state.

There are several hot issues still to be resolved this session and others of note that have failed to pass.

HB 1116, a bill that would ban "partial birth abortion" failed to pass the house because of its construction and intent. The bill was so broadly worded that it would ban all abortions and would not consider the health of the mother or any exceptions for rape or incest or consider any medical condition of the unborn that would be incompatible with life. In addition, "partial birth abortion" is a political term, not a medical term. The procedure as described by supporters of the bill does not occur nor has it ever occurred in New Hampshire. This bill will be seen again, no doubt, and it will continue to be a passionate topic on both local and national agendas.

HB 1475 would have raised the minimum wage by $1 over a two year period to a not-so-staggering $6.15. The lobbyists were working hard on this one, offering dire consequences to the economy if it passed. 89.4% of businesses surveyed said that the last minimum wage increase had little or no effect on their businesses. With an ambitious movement to remove families from welfare rolls in a bustling economy, offering a $5.15 hourly wage is insufficient to move people to financial independence or to support the child care workers and other vital caretakers in our state who are unable to make ends meet. This bill failed by only three votes.

SB 419, a bill that would hold gun owners responsible for knowingly leaving loaded guns within the reach of children who then commit violent actions with those guns, has met with an incredible outpouring of misinformation and dangerous rhetoric from gun owner advocates who assess gun bills as a violation of their rights and who cite references to Hitler as a defense against any reasonable effort to protect our children from the mounting violence we have seen in our society over the past two years. The bill's intent is to protect and educate, not to remove guns from responsible owners. Much rhetoric and hysteria unrelated to the bill's intent has dominated the hearings and obfuscated the true nature of the bill. It is unlikely that impassioned opponents of the bill have actually read it in full. This bill will be heard on the floor within the remaining weeks of the session.

HB 1548, a bill banning the death penalty in New Hampshire, has passed the House and is being considered in the Senate where a vote will be taken in the next week. The bill would substitute life imprisonment with no chance of parole for the death penalty. Compelling and emotional testimony from death row survivors who were wrongfully convicted, from families of murder victims, from church groups and the general public, overwhelmingly condemned the death penalty as barbaric, uncivilized and obsolete in all civilized Western societies but the United States. Although the death penalty has not been exercised in New Hampshire in more than sixty years, the world is watching New Hampshire's response.

Representative Barbara French, Senator Rick Trombley and I invite you to contact us with your concerns and to offer us your opinions as they relate to legislative issues. Hearing from constituents makes the time and effort we give to public service worthwhile and helps us shape the core of our debates. We are all honored to serve and represent you and will be running again in November to continue our work on your behalf. Although we don't always agree on issues, we are united as representatives who seek to make constituent service a priority and we are all honored by the opportunity this service affords us.

Have a wonderful summer. We are looking forward to spending time with family and in participating in town summer festivities even as we serve on legislative and county study committees in a less pressured environment. Many thanks to all of you who have contacted me regularly to support or even to scold. The past two years have been an amazing education and I happily conclude my first term knowing that New Hampshire is a very well run state and a great place to live. Thank you for your support.
Planning Board Notes

Following the March Town Meeting, the Planning Board elected Tom Riley as its chair and welcomed Mel Piele as a new member of the Board. Tom previously served as chair from 1987-1993. The Board voted to retain Perry Tewel’s many years of experience by appointing him as an alternate. Additional candidates are being considered to complete the roster of five alternates allowed.

An application for site plan review for a catering business to be located on the Piele property on North Hill Road was discussed at the first meeting in April. It was noted that the Exception granted by the Zoning Board for that business included a condition that a site plan be approved for an existing home business (dog raising) already on site. The site plan for the catering business was reviewed, but action was delayed until the home business site plan has been submitted. A public hearing for the combined site plan is scheduled for May 9 if the application submitted is complete.

Site Bunis, representing the Library Trustees, inquired about site plan requirements for the Trustees to open a thrift shop in the basement of the Library. The governmental use requires notification 60 days in advance and a public hearing if the planning board thinks it advisable. As a means of avoiding the public at the re-opening of a popular venture, shutters will be notified and a public hearing will be held on May 9 at 8:00 pm. Any comments by the Board will be non-binding in keeping with the state law.

Confusion over recent votes to reconsider a decision not to require a site plan for the proposed expansion at the Appleseed Restaurant led the Board to consider adoption of Rules of Procedure to address this issue among others. The draft rules were presented at a later meeting, revised and adopted along with a summary of application procedures the board follows for both subdivision and site plan review. These will be printed and made available for public information. The need to review the Zoning Ordinance in light of the recently adopted Master Plan was noted. This is a task the Board should address as soon as possible within its crowded schedule.

—Marcia Keller

The What & Why of Site Plan Review

Many of the applications handled by the Bradford Planning Board over the past few years have dealt with "site plan review," raising many questions as to what this procedure is and when and why it is required. As with all land use regulations, the place to begin is with the state enabling law. RSA 674:4:3 sets the broad power to "review and approve or disapprove site plans for the development or change of use of tracts for nonresidential uses or for multifamily dwelling units, which are defined as any structures containing more than 2 dwelling units, etc." Site plan review authority is not only for new commercial or industrial development, but also for any change or expansion of use and can include changes that take place entirely within a building.

As its name implies, site plan review is the review and approval or disapproval by the planning board of a particular plan or development proposal for a specific site. The review analyzes the physical characteristics of the site and the proposed development, looking at the roads, neighboring land uses, natural and manmade features, screening, safety, environmental impact and the effect on community character. Zoning says what can be developed and where, site review addresses how the development should be done. Site plan review helps to ensure that the goals and objectives of the master plan are carried out as applied to individual developments.

The regulations adopted by the Bradford Planning Board, following enactment of the Zoning Ordinance in 1989, set the thresholds beyond which site review is required. There are six specific situations:
1) creation of commercial, nonresidential or multi-dwelling units
2) change in use that is substantially different in character or operation
3) additional business or business operated by another person that meets criteria in regulations
4) expansion of use meeting set criteria
5) home business in the Residential Rural District that is conducted in an accessory unit
6) land application of septic or sewage sludge.

Confusion arises because businesses and multifamily uses that were in place in 1989 do not require site plan review. However, any developments that have occurred since that time and existing uses that meet the criteria of change or expansion must submit a site plan for review by the planning board. The planning board is more than willing to meet with anyone who has questions regarding site plan review to explain the regulations and what steps are necessary to complete the process.

Real Estate Hints: The Real Estate Contract
by Laura Hallahan

So you want to make a formal offer on a piece of property. Your realtor will assist you with the paperwork known as the Sales Agreement and Deposit Receipt. This three-page document is a standard form created for use by all members of the New Hampshire Association of Realtors. Some people ask an attorney to draw up papers in lieu of using the standard form. The Sales Agreement and Deposit Receipt is broken down as follows: Page one provides the date, location and description of the property, selling price offered and all deposits to be made. It lists the amount of the initial deposit, also known as earnest money, as well as a second deposit amount—usually a percentage of the selling price. Earnest money is provided at the time the offer is made to show good faith, while the due date of the second deposit varies. The type of deed, closing date, name of the agency or agencies involved and wording about insurance, titles and taxes are all complete page one. The buyer and seller initial the bottom of this page.

Page two outlines the property to be included in the sale, acknowledges receipt of the seller property information report and details the type of inspections to be done and the time frame in which they will be completed. The buyer may choose to waive the right to all inspections if so desired. Page two also includes wording about liquidated damages should the buyer default. The buyer initial the section dealing with inspections, and both buyer and seller initial the bottom of this page.

Page three addresses financing and indicates whether the agreement is or is not contingent upon financing, listing the amount, terms/year and rate if applicable. Dates are given to apply for and receive written commitment. The contract states that it is binding and becomes effective when both parties have signed and dated the agreement. Finally, a section entitled “Additional Provisions” is completed if there are other issues or contingencies not addressed in the contract itself. Page three is signed and dated and parties include social security numbers.

Up to five original copies of the Sales Agreement and Deposit Receipt are prepared. Parties are advised to contact an attorney if they do not fully understand what they are signing. It may prove helpful to ask your realtor for a blank copy of a contract when you first start looking at properties.

Black bears are up and about. It was once hard to find a bear in New England but the forests have come back and so have the bears. Unlike woodchucks, bears don’t hibernate solidly all winter, slowing their metabolism to insensitivity. A bear does slow its heart and breathing rate but its body temperature is not so far from normal and it can come out of its stupor fairly quickly if it needs to. Their prodigious supply of autumnal body fat gives them the extra energy to get through the foodless winter with a lesser degree of hibernation.

Bears mate in mid-summer. The fertilized egg or eggs are held in a state of arrested development until late fall when gestation begins. Their mother is barely aware of the cubs when they are born in January or February after a mere 6 to 8 weeks of development, weighing only 6 to 10 ounces, quite hairless and with eyes closed. Unlike their sleeping mom, the cubs during this first winter are awake eating and growing, warmed by her bulk. By the time they emerge in spring they will weigh about 5 pounds. My own mother, if she’d had a choice, might have favored this strategy. Sleep through it all till they’re ready for first grade.

Bears, like humans, invest a great deal of time and effort in training their offspring. They have a complex vocabulary of grunts, moans and other unlabelled sounds to work with. The young bear stay with their mother throughout the first year, learning with her that winter and usually are urged to leave the following summer upon the appearance of the local male bears who have spent their year solo. The female bears mate every other year if she has cubs. Their training program includes what to be afraid of, where to go for food and cover, what is possible to eat and what is not. Bears do not intuitively know what is good for them as far as consistencies go. They learn by watching other bears, feeding in areas that already smell of bear and by sniffing their mother’s breath to determine exactly what she has eaten. Bears mark trees at feeding sites, which may include your bird feeder, the location of your chicken feed, or where your most recent compost pile is. They do this to relocate it for themselves and it also serves to notify other bears of a food source.

Contrary to a very popular myth about black bear, they do not eat people. They tend to run away on catching wind of a human. Of course they will defend their offspring and themselves from any real or perceived threats. As you would. These defenses usually consist of rushes and vocal displays to warn off an unwelcome intruder. It is through their noses that they know their world. Their sight and hearing, though good, are not their primary senses. As a rule, observers of humans, can readily distinguish our motives. It is quite possible to companionably share an afternoon in a blueberry field sweating flies and picking berries with a bear but it is much harder to sneak up on one with a gun in your hand.

Some of us probably fear bears because they are just not familiar to us. We don’t know their body language, as we might guess that of a canine of feline. It is not so much that bears are unpredictable as we are unable to “read” them. It seems inconceivable to us that they attain their size almost solely on nuts, berries and insects. They will also eat amphibians and reptiles if they can catch them, a wide variety of vegetation, and carrion. They certainly can bring down an inattentive or impaired deer but despite their formidable size, teeth and claws used mainly for ripping up logs and digging for grubs, they do not hunt game. This would be much too large an expense of energy for a bear.

Take down your bird feeders now, lock up your trash. The bear one person might think is so endearing as it feeds off their back deck is being encouraged to try it somewhere else. Someone more fearful or angry or defensive might welcome it with a bullet. We can live with bears.

2 Tbsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup dried cranberries

Stir in 2 1/2 cups heavy cream
The mixture will be a bit sticky. Turn out onto a floured board and quickly knead 8 or 9 times. Divide dough into two and flatten into 10” circles. Brush the tops with soft butter and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Cut each circle into 12 wedges and place on a parchment-lined baking sheet. Bake at 425°F for 15 minutes until lightly browned.

These scones can be eaten right away or wrapped individually and frozen for unexpected guests. For a real treat, slice them lengthwise, brush each half with softened butter and brown on a griddle.
Enjoy!
