The 5 R's of Rematriation

is an underwriting & due diligence framework in investment. From the design to the decision-making process, power is upheld for Indigenous women. Through our Matriarchal lens, we aim to mitigate racial and gender bias and challenge traditional frameworks in finance that are shaped by western systems of capitalism & patriarchy. We are proving Indigenous women are Investable.

*The 5 R's of Rematriation was incubated in partnership with Native Women Lead & Roanhorse Consulting LLC.
As the centering force in communities, Indigenous women are the carriers of culture, language, and community. We are the primary breadwinners and economic drivers.

Our ancestors were incredibly entrepreneurial with trade, barter, and economic markets that existed long before colonization.

Today, Indigenous women face pay inequities, erasure, violence, & economic exclusion due to historic and systemic oppression.

However, we are growing businesses twice as fast as anyone else & creating solutions to close the racial wealth gap.

We believe in the ingenuity of Indigenous women and see entrepreneurship as a pathway toward healing, safety, and economic justice.

In five years, we aim to support over 3,000 Indigenous women & meet them where they are in their entrepreneurial journey.

Our goal is to build an inclusive, sustainable, waterway (not a pipeline) of economically empowered Indigenous women who will continue to sustain families, communities, economies, Nations, and futures.

We have a ripple effect of impact and are redefining wealth, success, and metrics of return on investment while upholding data sovereignty & stewardship.

We are creating a safe, brave, inclusive waterway for Indigenous women entrepreneurs & leaders to self-determine their path toward economic liberation.
