

2018 THURSDAY EVENING LECTURES – Admission Free

- 7-5 “Cameo Fever:” From Catherine the Great to Scarlett O’Hara
Elizabeth Wees: Curator of American Decorative Arts at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, NYC
- 7-12 The Art of the Maine Coast
Carl Little: Author and Maine Art Expert
- 7-19 Protecting Maine’s Environment: Defense, Progress and Plans
Pete Didisheim: Natural Resources Council of Maine
- 7-26 An In-Depth Look at the History of the Mt. Desert Land & Garden Preserve
Rodney Eason: Executive Director, MDI Land & Garden Preserve
- 8-2 The Search for the Elusive Baby Lobster: A Unique Collaboration Between Scientists, Harvesters and a Lobster Wholesaler
Curt Brown: Staff Marine Biologist at Ready Seafood, Portland ME
- 8-9 A Voyage to Antarctica
Peter Plumb, Esq.: Portland Attorney and Long-Distance Sailor
- 8-16 Over There and Down Home: Mainers and World War I
Angela Goebel-Bain: Curator of Historical Collections, Maine State Museum
- 8-23 Fulfilling the Promise of Never Again: Arresting & Trying Perpetrators of Mass Atrocities
Stephen Rapp, Esq.: Chairman of the Commission for International Justice and Accountability, The Hague, The Netherlands
- 8-30 What in the World is Russia Doing - & Why? Core Ideas Animating Russian Foreign Policy
James Warhola: Professor of Political Science, University of Maine

SATURDAY EVENING CONCERTS - Admission $15

- 7-14 Portland Piano Trio - classical concert performed by pianist Anastasia Antonacos, cellist Ben Noyes and violinist Tracey Jasas-Hardel
- 7-21 Accomplished Students of Kneisel Hall - classical concert presented by small groups of students from Blue Hill’s prestigious Kneisel Hall
- 8-11 Tom Snow & Elizabeth Synott- jazz & show tunes by pianist Thomas Snow and vocalist Elizabeth Synott
- 8-18 Thomas Snow Trio - traditional & contemporary jazz by pianist Thomas Snow, saxophonist Ralph Norris, and bassist Tim Webb
- 8-25 The Hot Club of Portland - Gypsy jazz in the style of Django Reinhardt by guitarists Brian Killough & Mike Arciero, bassist John Hunter and violinist Jason Anick
- 9-1 The Kinhaven Duo- Sonatas of Schubert and Beethoven performed by pianist James Parakilas and violinist Mary Hunter

All events begin at 8:15 in the Clarkpoint Room. Information available at 244-5036
The Claremont Hotel – 22 Claremont Road, Southwest Harbor, Maine 04679
Parking is reserved for hotel guests. Please use parking at the end of Claremont Road