ART OF THE DAY SACRAMENTO PRESENTS

A SELF-GUIDED MURAL TOUR

MAY 2019

In partnership with Design Week Sacramento
About Art Of The Day Sacramento

Art of the Day Sacramento (ADS) is a media service which organizes the promotion of artists, art galleries, and art related products and events throughout the city of Sacramento, CA. Since 2014, ADS has featured local artists, art, and art related events. Within a short time, the reaction from the local art community has been enormous. Messages fill the Art of the Day Sacramento inbox with questions and comments such as, ‘I had no idea this gallery existed’ or ‘Where can I purchase this person’s art?’ and the most frequent ‘Where is this gallery or artist located?’.

All of this has been achieved through the power of social media, with the total of 7,300+ followers, collectively. Aside from that, Art Of The Day Sacramento vaunts an international hashtag known as #ArtOfTheDaySac that’s been tagged on 28,900+ images, worldwide! With our growing fan base, it’s clear that ADS is the right choice for connecting the creative community of Sacramento and the world.

About this mural tour...

I invite you to take a trip around the city of Sacramento exploring the plethora of walls that artists, local and world renowned, have had the chance to paint in our wonderful city. While this is only a fraction of what our city has to offer, I hope that it may come to inspire you to appreciate a piece of the arts here in Sacramento.

While I only picked a few mural locations, I want to recognize the person who made this self-guided tour possible. Nathaniel Miller, an online editor at The Sacramento Bee, is responsible for identifying the mural locations, as seen on journalistnate.com. Since 2016, he has compiled a list of mural locations, complete with artist names, project information and Google Street View images. As an artist, I want thank Nate for his energy and determination in creating and maintaining the Sacramento mural, graffiti, and street art map.
Mural Locations

All the mural locations are scattered throughout the city of Sacramento. So when you decide to take this tour, here are a few items you should bring along:

1. Mural Guide Print Out – the downloadable version is great, but having a large print paper guide does wonders for your vision.
2. Cellphone or Camera – what's the point of taking this tour if you can't capture the experience?
3. Mobile Charger – trust me, a mobile charger for your camera or phone, will come in handy once you've reached the tenth mural on this guide.
4. Water & Snacks – nothing like driving around town with some snacks on the go. Who says juice boxes are for kids?
5. Friends – this experience should not be shared alone! Bring a friend or two for a fun Saturday trip driving around town, taking cool pictures for Instagram. If you want to be featured on Art Of The Day Sacramento’s social media, tag your photos with @artofthedaysac or #artofthedaysac to get featured!

+Fun Fact:

This mural was the first mural that was highlighted on Art Of The Day Sacramento’s social media feeds. You can find this mural on the address located to the right in Historical Oak Park.

The city of Sacramento, and our diverse surrounding region, is full of talented artists working across a wide range of mediums. I created the Sacramento mural, graffiti and street art map with the intention of supporting them by giving the community a resource to learn about the men and women behind the spray cans and the paint brushes. They’ve brought beauty, storytelling and, sometimes, criticism to the public space.

Support them in whatever ways you can. Art is not often the most lucrative field. Tag them when you share a photo of their work. Like them on Instagram. Comment on their photos. Thank the business owners who pay artists to paint their walls. Attend art shows. Buy prints. Tell your local representatives that you want more public art. And, if you see an artist painting, thank them... and maybe offer them a cold bottled water. It can get hot out there.

As the creator of Art Of The Day, Sacramento, I’d personally like to also thank Amanda Sanchez of Design Week, Sacramento, for reaching out to collaborate on this special project. It just goes as far to show, how powerful the influences, of ideas, can impact individuals greatly when put into a collaborative effort. Again thank you Nathan for taking the time out of your busy schedule to contribute to this project, and thank you, the viewer for taking Art Of The Day Sacramento’s first of many Self-Guided Mural Tours.

If your an artist from Sacramento, thank you for endless dedication to your craft of painting the city however you may see fit. Whether it be on walls, canvases, or pieces of paper, just know that there are people out here making sure that you have a place to thrive.

Stay creative,
Desaree’ Deckard
