Small-Group seminar
“Between the Mind & the Brain”

A small-group seminar program consisting of a weekly evening seminar over four weeks, led by Dr Peter Smith, a Training Analyst of the Australian Psychoanalytical Society and Member of its Melbourne Branch.

Aim: to explore the relationship between Psychoanalytical models of the Mind and Brain, using material from a book written by British Kleinian Psychoanalyst, Ronald Britton: “Between Mind and Brain: Models of the Mind and Models in the Mind”.

This seminar program would be of interest to clinicians who are actively engaged in clinical work. This could be in any setting public or private.

Format: This program will be delivered in a face-to-face small group setting. (maximum number of 8 participants) A capacity to physically attend is required. Some pre-reading from the book will be required for each seminar. Its anticipated the group discussion will be open and informal.

Time: 7:30 PM to 9 PM, Thursday, November 7, 14, 21 & 28, 2019

Cost: $330. Payable upon acceptance of a place. Each of the participants receive a copy of the book.

Venue: Melbourne Institute for Psychoanalysis, 400 Tooronga Road, East Hawthorn

Application: Please email Tim Alexander TIMALEXANDER@bigpond.com