The Palestine Film Institute is proud to present the 2nd edition of the Palestine Film Directory, which contains updated contact information for more than 80 companies, platforms and initiatives active in the Palestinian film scene. These contacts have been vetted and confirmed by the PFI and are available for collaboration.

Gathering in detail the active components of Palestine’s cinema is not an easy task. An active directory has to recon with unique challenges, including the Diaspora character of the scene, the role of Arab and International producers and initiatives that work on Palestine related content, and the political question of where the Palestinian production boundaries lie.

In light of these challenges, this directory should not be considered exhaustive, but rather should serve as a first point of connection for interested producers and organizations to interact with Palestine’s story through the feature film format. Each contact listed here is a potential partner for those working in production and distribution of films on Palestine and beyond.

We would like to thank all the companies and institutes that reached out to add or update their information. In particular, we would like to thank Dima Alsharif, the Directory Coordinator, who passionately fact checked each number, email, and website, in order to provide you with a one-stop shop for connecting with the people behind the cinema of Palestine.

7 Siblings Productions - Stop Motion Animation Studio
The Saleh’s family had turned the apartment of their parents in Amman into a studio to make films and tell stories. Naturally, stop motion animation became their main medium because it was the medium that could put all the different talents of the family, writing, directing, photography, fashion, engineering and handicrafts, together in one form. The family’s effort to tell stories had reached a very wide international audience and acclaimed the first Academy Award in the Arabic region in the foreign animation category. Currently, the siblings are working on their third short film and developing their first feature.

NAZRA Palestine Short Film Festival
Nazra Palestine Short Film Festival is an annual itinerant festival of short films on Palestine and/or by Palestinian filmmakers revealing the hardship of living under political and military occupation.

The Arabic word nazra means “glance, look”. The act of looking goes both ways: it’s the take we have on someone as well as the perception they have on us. Nazra Festival aims to call into question that very perception, using the language of short films to foster a deeper knowledge of Palestine and to encourage dialogue on peace, justice, and human rights.

Red Carpet Human Rights Film Festival, Gaza, Palestine

The festival presents short and long feature films, documentaries and animation films, that shed the light on local and global humanitarian issues. The first edition took place in May 2015. Amid the rubble of Gaza City’s Shijaiyah district, an area that was heavily bombarded during the 2014 summer’s war between Israeli forces and Hamas militants in the crammed enclave, the organisers rolled a 60 meters long red carpet. It is the first festival in Gaza that focuses on human rights issues, with films and discussions on Palestine but also on other regions of the world.

IT ALL STARTED WITH A FOOTBALL GAME.

In 2007, a football team from Bristol visited the West Bank and played the beautiful game with Palestinians living there. They shared many things, including stories, laughter and common understanding. Following this experience one of the players, David Owen was inspired to create a platform that would bring real stories from Palestine to the West of England: the Bristol Palestine Film Festival was born. And it grows stronger every year.

The Witness Palestine Film Festival
The conflict in Palestine-Israel is decades old and so is the dispossession of the Palestinian people. However, this conflict is not presented as a human rights issue in mainstream American media. It is highly politicized and distorted. The idea of the Witness Palestine Film Series is to address such misconceptions by screening documentary and narrative films about the conflict, compelling films which illustrate the realities on the ground in both Israel and the occupied Palestinian territories.
