Employees Spotlight

Cynthia Phan
RESEARCH ASSOCIATE I

Cynthia received her B.S. in General Biology with a minor in Global Health from University of California, San Diego. Her primary interests include the science of nutrition, health, and sustainability. During her last year as an undergraduate student, she became the first R&D intern at BlueNalu. She is ecstatic to carry over her interest in nutrition to BlueNalu, where she will continue working in Product Development to help create healthy, humane seafood that doesn’t compromise the ocean’s biodiversity.

Francis Bauzon
SR. RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

Francis has his B.S. in Neuroscience from Binghamton University. Prior to BlueNalu, he served as the Associate Manager of Protocol Development at Allele Biotechnology and Pharmaceuticals and helped build their facility from its very inception. He is excited to make new discoveries at BlueNalu that will help bring tasty seafood to consumers without further burdening our oceans.
