Plus, Voilà also includes several exhibitions that serve as a platform to present novel perspectives of the way we view our world and society. One such exhibition is NOT TASTE FOR BAD TASTE at the National Design Centre, as it presents some 40 design masterpieces from renowned design maestros like Philippe Starck and Jean-Paul Gaultier. A panel discussion exploring the links and bridges between Singapore and France design scenes with French designer Matali Crasset will also be held. Over at SO Sofitel, French artist Jisbar Planche presents some of his fascinating, colourful artworks, while the ArtScience Museum plays host to Adrien M. and Claire B., a French artist collective who creates performances and exhibitions that playfully blend reality and virtuality. See Singapore's past through the eyes of French photographer Paul Piollet's street photography.
