TIEC and Austin

The Texas International Education Consortium (TIEC) is a non-profit that represents international partnerships, collaborations, and exchanges for 31 public universities across the state of Texas, and runs the most experienced intensive English program in the state.

TIEC's Texas Intensive English Program (TIEP) teaches English language and cultural programs in one of the most desirable travel destinations in the United States--Austin, TX. Voted 2017 and 2018's "Best Place to Live in America" by US News and World Report, Austin offers plenty of cultural activities for students and professionals alike and attracts nearly 20 million tourists annually.

TIEC employs highly qualified Master and PhD level instructors, and has taught more than 30,000 students from 131 countries since 1965.

For more information and a sample proposal of our program, contact TIEC Senior Director of Global Learning, Dr. Heather Farmakis at Heather.Farmakis@tiec.org.
