

loose interpretation

Jay Lugibihl of In Bloom, Ltd. in Charlotte, North Carolina, creates arrangements in the classic style to complement crisp, eclectic décor

PHOTOGRAPHY BY TAYLOR MATHIS

With a fresh-from-the-garden feel, this composition of greens, peaches, and lipstick pink is an updated classic that picks up the coral of the lacquered Chinese Chippendale chair.

FLOWER LIST:

- 'Campanella Peach' roses
- coral ranunculus
- pink ranunculus
- pink spray roses
- variegated elaeagnus

Not just for Christmas-time, spring-blooming coral amaryllis paired with a white cut-out container is a surprising take on retro style.

FLOWER LIST:

- 'Rilona' amaryllis
- asparagus fern
- pachysandra foliage
- mint
- yew

A lush, romantic arrangement finds a perfect home in this silver pitcher perched on top of a pile of coffee table books.

FLOWER LIST:

- David Austin 'Patience' roses
- rosemary
- sweet autumn clematis foliage
- autumn fern
- seeded eucalyptus
- mahonia foliage

History repeats itself in the familiar form of this footed Grecian urn filled with a loose and drapey gathering of flowers, berries, and greenery.

FLOWER LIST:

- blue hydrangeas
- ligustrum berries
- viburnum
- autumn fern
- euphorbia foliage
- magnolia foliage
- sarcococca foliage

To learn more about Jay Lugibihl of In Bloom, Ltd., visit www.flowermag.com/in-bloom.