Five Important Parts Of A Story!

1) The Characters
2) The Setting
3) The Plot
4) The Conflict
5) The Resolution

The Characters -- The characters are the people, animals, aliens, or creatures who the story is about. The author should introduce the characters in the story and describe their physical abilities and their personalities.

The Setting -- The setting is where and when the story takes place. The author should describe (or draw) the environment or surroundings. The setting can be unusual (like a fantasy world or another planet) or the story can take place in real life settings (like a city or neighborhood).

The Plot -- The plot is what happens in the story. The plot should have a clear beginning, middle, and end.

The Conflict -- The conflict is the problems in the story. The characters try to solve problems and resolve the conflict.

The Resolution -- The resolution is how the problems are solved. It is important that the resolution fits in with the rest of the story.
