GLBT HISTORICAL SOCIETY MISSION, VISION, AND VALUES

MISSION
The GLBT Historical Society collects, preserves, exhibits and makes accessible to the public materials and knowledge to support and promote understanding of LGBTQ history, culture and arts in all their diversity.

VISION
We envision a world in which LGBTQ people are appreciated and celebrated by one another in all their diversity and by all people for their contributions to history and culture.

We envision a world in which everyone can learn about LGBTQ history as a vital means for promoting civic engagement, social justice, and political change.

We envision a world in which LGBTQ people find acceptance, strength, and pride in acknowledging their heritage and in sharing it with society as a whole.

VALUES
We believe that knowledge of our diverse LGBTQ past is an invaluable resource for understanding the challenges of the present and inspiring dreams for a future of greater social justice.

We appreciate the importance of LGBTQ history for building community and promoting connection.

We support debate, dialogue, and discussion about the LGBTQ past as a way to educate, inspire, and empower LGBTQ people and our allies in building our future.
ABOUT GLBT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Founded in 1985, the GLBT Historical Society collects, preserves, exhibits and makes accessible to the public materials and knowledge to support and promote understanding of LGBTQ history, culture and arts in all their diversity. The Society is recognized internationally as a leader in the field of LGBTQ public history, and holds one of the largest collections of LGBTQ historic materials anywhere in the world.

The Society operates the GLBT Historical Society Museum, located since 2011 in the heart of San Francisco’s Castro neighborhood, which receives around 25,000 visitors in a typical year. The society also operates the Dr. John P. De Cecco Archives and Research Center, in the Mid-Market district, which receives around 400 researchers annually.

ABOUT THE OPPORTUNITY

The GLBT Historical Society is seeking their next executive director. The new executive director, with the board of directors and others, will secure funds to build capacity and ensure the society’s world class archival and museum resources are made ever more widely available to scholars and the public to learn about LGBTQ history and its impact upon the world, especially in the Bay Area and California.

The new executive director will lead the ongoing project to secure a permanent home for the society’s museum and archives. The City and County of San Francisco has committed significant support towards this goal. GLBTHS is poised for tremendous growth with the right leader, expanding beyond traditional brick and mortar to digital spaces and other ways to engage people with the riches that the GLBTHS has and continues to attract.

GLBTHS is strongly committed to Justice, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (JEDI) principles. The next executive director will lead a talented and dedicated professional staff and is expected to model JEDI in establishing and practicing best practices to ensure staff, volunteers, and visitors benefit from JEDI in action.

Key Responsibilities
