Kazzum Arts’ unique trauma-informed approach centres creativity, relationships and self-expression, operating with a compassionate awareness of the impact of trauma on children and young people.

As we emerge from the Covid19 pandemic into a world increasingly impacted by rising inequality, environmental devastation and social injustice, our vital work to support young people has never been more necessary.

In our Strategic Plan 2022-2025 we are reflecting on Kazzum’s significant potential to respond to the needs of children and young people by outlining a hopeful vision for young futures which champions co-creation, innovation and develops our national significance in the field of arts and health practice.

“... My Mondays changed completely. I was just at home doing nothing, but when I came here I met many people, you made us laugh, your games are amazing, I don’t have words, you helped us so much at this difficult time.”

Vision and Mission

We are proud to share our vision:
That all children and young people can experience hope through creativity.

And our renewed mission:
To use creativity to enable children and young people who have been impacted by trauma and adversity to feel seen, heard and valued.
Kazzum Arts is a trauma-informed arts charity. Our mission is to use creativity to enable marginalised children and young people who have been impacted by trauma to feel seen, heard and valued. We do this by providing opportunities to explore creative expression and agency through multidisciplinary arts activities.

We work with young people who have experienced high levels of adverse childhood experiences which have resulted in social, emotional and mental health issues, communication needs, disabilities, exclusion and displacement. Our programmes use creative activities as a means of building confidence, communication skills, creativity and engagement in learning, whilst also helping children and young people to develop healthy relationships with others and the world around them.

We work in a range of settings across London, reaching children and young people aged 5-25 including:

- Migrant settings:
  Reaching young asylum seekers, refugees and new migrants aged 14-25

- Educational settings:
  Reaching children and young people aged 5-16 excluded from mainstream education settings or within mainstream schools with additional needs

- Hospital settings:
  Reaching children aged 5-16 undergoing healthcare and mental health interventions

- Professional and Education settings:
  Accessible and affordable consultation and training to arts organisations, education settings and individuals which develops trauma awareness across the sector

Our programmes have been developed in consultation with young people and are delivered by a diverse team of skilled artist facilitators in partnership with a range of spaces.

Context and Need

Children and young people are facing unprecedented adversity to their mental health and wellbeing.

1 in 6 children
in England had a probable mental disorder in 2021.

34% of children who are referred into NHS services for mental health support are not accepted into treatment.

Children with psychological distress and mental health problems are more likely to be excluded from school.

Being excluded from school can exacerbate existing mental ill health and trigger long-term psychiatric illness. It affects children's self-esteem and wellbeing.

Creative arts participation can help people with diagnosed mental health difficulties to recover from mental illness.

By autumn 2020, disadvantaged pupils in primary school were a total of seven months behind their more privileged peers.

Pupils excluded from school at 12 are four times as likely as other children to be jailed as adults.

Race and nationality Hate Crimes rose by 73% in 2021.

2.3m children in England are “living in families with substantial complex needs”, but 1.6m receive no additional support from local authorities.

Asylum seekers are 5 times more likely to have mental health needs than the general population. More than 61% will experience serious mental distress.

Visual arts contribute to the development of community and bonding, and help migrants reinforce their cultural identity.

We believe our projects support children and young people and aid growth throughout their lifetime.
Priority 1: Deliver Impact for Children and Young People

Kazzum Arts will deliver impact for children and young people by strengthening our unique trauma-informed approach.

- We will continue to support the mental health and wellbeing of young people most marginalised by society through consistent creative and relational engagement within our projects.

- Children and young people will be supported to have agency within the organisation and take ownership of their creative process through the delivery of our ‘Amplify’ youth voice strategy.

- We will support Artists and Practitioners to embody the necessary skills and capacities of safe and effective practice, leading the sector in training and consultancy offers and making a national impact in participatory arts and health activity.

“The workshops help the young migrants channel stress through creative activities, build up friendship and a sense of belonging to a group.”

Priority 2:

Build Organisational Health

Kazzum Arts will ensure the ongoing health and wellbeing of the organisation, its participants, workforce and volunteers.

- We will strengthen activity which supports anti-racist, anti-oppressive and anti-discriminatory practices and support our workforce to maintain professional standards and competencies.

- Our trauma-informed organisational vision will establish and embed a working culture which mitigates against the impact of trauma and supports the health and wellbeing of all people within the organisation.

- We will act with responsibility to the environment to ensure long term sustainability and make use of data available to remain responsive to environmental issues.

“Kazzum Arts has supported me as an artist better than other companies. I really value all the support that I receive, it has changed the way I see my place in the industry, highlighted the importance of my work and has brought me confidence in my professional and personal life.”

Associate Artist
Priority 3:
Maintain Financial Sustainability

Kazzum Arts will ensure longstanding resilience through the enactment of a clear financial strategy, supporting the future growth and success of the organisation.

- We will remain adaptive to change, delivering dynamic models of activity and seeking opportunities to diversify our income.
- We will build increased capacities and partnerships through the delivery of organisational development opportunities.
- We will develop a communication strategy to increase Kazzum’s visibility and reputation, highlighting our significant and distinctive voice.
- We will conduct evaluative activity to evidence the efficacy and impact of our work.

“It is absolutely worth saying that we value Kazzum’s work very highly. Therapeutic and creative interventions are, to our mind, essential in supporting young people through difficult times. They are able to relax, to create, to chat, to explore and to express in a non-threatening way which, we believe, supports positive mental health.”

Uses the creative arts
We offer repeated opportunities to experience a creative environment, enriched with music, movement, art, and games. We contribute to an increased sense of wellbeing and positive mental health through shared imagination and self-expression.

Embody relationships
We nurture connections between children, young people and artist practitioners, building bonds of safety and trust and encouraging friendship, support and empathy to flourish. We actively create an engaged community which nurtures, nourishes and supports.

Understands the impact of trauma
We deliver holistic and responsive activities guided by our knowledge and insight into the complexities of trauma. We understand the biological, psychological and social factors which can determine healthy child development, working to increase protective factors and support growth.

Recognises systemic and structural factors
We recognise that trauma and adversity is reflected within environments, throughout systems and across society, creating damaging conditions of inequity. Our work actively amplifies the voices and lived experiences of children and young people and raises awareness of the issues that matter to them most.
Our activities support children and young people to experience wellbeing, reduce isolation and increase creative skills through multidisciplinary arts workshops. Our artists attune with sensitivity to children and young people who are at risk of marginalisation and exclusion, supporting them to process their experiences and connect to others.

PRIMARY COLOURS
‘Primary Colours’ supports children aged 5 – 12 with social, emotional, mental health and cognitive needs. Whether in a hospital, pupil referral unit or mainstream school environment, our trauma-informed activities support recovery from stress, build meaningful relationships, and offer opportunities to play, connect and experience joy in groups.

BUILD
‘Build’ offers creative opportunities for young people aged 13 – 18 in education and youth settings to reflect and mobilise on the issues that affect them in an expressive, co-regulating environment. Our projects prioritise a sense of agency and choice for young people, offering them a space where they can be active agents in a creative process.

PATHWAYS
‘Pathways’ is a creative wellbeing programme for young refugees, asylum seekers, and new and undocumented migrants aged 13-25. We offer repeated opportunities for young people to experience joy and wellbeing, building the confidence, communication and creative skills needed for self-expression and connection.

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE
Our Associate Artist programme will support experienced and emerging artists by offering professional development, therapeutic support, employment and social opportunities. We represent national leadership within participatory arts, advocating for trauma-informed practice through the delivery of training, consultation and sector-development activity.
Programmes

- Primary Colours - Under 13s
  Providing artistic opportunities for children with social, emotional, mental health & cognitive needs, in hospitals, PRU's & mainstream school environments

This document has been created to give an overview of our planned activities from 2022-2025 in view of our overarching vision that all children and young people can experience hope through creativity.

We endeavour to:
- Deliver impact for children and young people through a trauma-informed approach
- Ensure overall organisational health by supporting the wellbeing of our immediate and extended workforce
- Enact a financial strategy that will safeguard the future of our organisation

We will do this by:
- Offering opportunities for children and young people who have been impacted by trauma and adversity to engage in multidisciplinary arts activities via our core programmes: Primary Colours, Build and Pathways.
- Supporting children and young people to take ownership and have agency
- Embedding trauma-informed practice throughout our organisation
- Deepening our professional development offer for artists that we work with
- Acting with responsibility towards the environment
- Increasing partnerships and diversifying income wherever possible

Our work will contribute to:
- Children and young people feeling seen, heard and valued
- Improved life chances for children and young people
- A trauma-informed sector
- A more resilient, skilled, diverse workforce

We are grateful for our supporters, donors, partners, staff and volunteers’ contribution to our shared vision.
