

GRANDPARENTS HUG

Lesson of the Day:

When we love people, like we love our grandparents, how can we show them?

We can give them kisses, or hugs, or tell them how we feel. How can we make something to give them to show them how much we love them that they can keep forever?

Materials:

- Large construction paper hearts, 1 per student
- Small construction paper hearts, 2 per student
- Two long strips of construction paper per student
- Googly eyes
- Glue
- Scissors
- Markers/colored pencils
- Decorations

Instructions:

1. Discuss the lesson of the day with your students. Talk about what it means to them.
2. Give student each a large heart shaped paper, or have them cut one out.
3. Have students decorate the heart and give it a big smile and googly eyes.
4. Have students take two long strips of paper and fold them accordion style. Have them glue the folded strips to the back of the heart to make arms.
5. Have students cut out two more small hearts and glue them to the ends of the arms to make hands.
