Brianna & Corianna Dotson

Co Founders | Coco & Breezy

Twin Cities natives and twins, Coco & Breezy are the founders of Coco and Breezy Eyewear, DJs, and music producers on everyone’s radar. Designs from their eponymous eyewear line are worn by icons such as Beyoncé, Lady Gaga, Rihanna, Nicki Minaj, and the late, great superlative style legend Prince. The pair’s successes have been noticed by major publications across the globe, such as Forbes, Refinery29, Teen Vogue and NBC News. In addition to presiding at the helm of their booming brand, Coco & Breezy have turned their attention to the music world. They are regularly featured DJs at a string of high profile events and have most recently released their debut single, Differences.

Coco and Breezy Eyewear was founded in 2009 by twin designers Corianna and Brianna Dotson. Their early designs were an instant hit in the entertainment and fashion world, and can be found in most major publications, e.g. Vogue and Harper’s Bazaar. Coco and Breezy’s designs have ranged from the "third-eye" sunglasses for the late Prince to recent collaborations with Hershey’s, Ciroc, and SIX:02. The twins DJ and create visual art.
