Continuing Education

Educational Level
Educational level of the various programs vary from introductory to intermediate to advanced depending on the program or professional development activity.

Methods of Assessment of Learning Objectives
Electronic polls will be activated immediately at the conclusion of programs or professional development activities that are lecture based. Those that have a clinical or manual component requires that learners demonstrate competency in meeting the established learning objectives.

New York
The National Lymphedema Network is recognized by the New York State of Education Department's State Board for physical therapists and physical therapy assistants as an approved provider of continuing education. The 2022 Conference will offer a maximum of 21.0 contact hours for the main program. Only learners who meet satisfactory completion requirements for each program will be offered continuing education credits for each program.

AOTA
The National Lymphedema Network is recognized by the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA) as an Approved Provider for professional development. The assignment of AOTA CEUs does not imply endorsement of specific course content, products, or clinical procedures by AOTA or indicate AOTA approval of a certification or other professional recognition. AOTA Provider number #165. Expires 7/8/2029.

The NLN has been authorized to offer the professional development activity 2022 Conference - The Art and Science of Surgery and Therapy for AOTA CEUs for five years from 10/17/22. Approval number is 0000005364. The 2022 Conference will offer a maximum of 21.0 contact hours for the main program. Only learners who meet satisfactory completion requirements, that is passing by at least 70% scoring for each program, will be offered continuing education credits for each program.

Additional Approvals
The National Lymphedema Network plans to submit for continuing education credit approvals from other states and organizations, and we will update once received.
Policies

Compliance with American Disability Act

The 2022 Conference - The Art & Science of Surgery and Therapy is committed to providing a conference experience that is accessible to the widest possible audience, regardless of technology or ability. We are actively working to increase the accessibility and usability of our meeting spaces and virtual experience via the conference app to maximize everyone's conference experience. On the registration form is a question asking if there are any needs for special accommodations. An email can also be sent to 2022@lymphnet.org.

Professional Conduct Policy

The National Lymphedema Network holds high expectations that each faculty and staff member demonstrate high standards of professional conduct and do not discriminate against learners on the basis of gender, age, socioeconomic or ethnic background, sexual orientation, or disability.

The National Lymphedema Networks also holds high expectations that each student/attendee demonstrates high standards of conduct and do not discriminate against fellow students and faculty and staff members on the basis of gender, age, socioeconomic or ethnic background, sexual orientation, or disability.

Any person found to be violating the policy, will no longer be allowed to participate in future events or courses.

Cancellation and Refund Policy

Cancellation of Classes - If, due to unforeseen circumstances, a professional development activity, including the conference, is canceled by National Lymphedema Network, all registered attendees will be notified via email that was used for registration as soon as cancellation of the event is confirmed. A notice on the Education page of the NLN website will also be available notifying registrants of the changes. The management of funds paid for the event is up to the discretion of the National Lymphedema Network.

Refund Policy

The National Lymphedema Network has a no refund policy regardless of circumstance when the registrant is unable to attend the event. Registration payment can be applied to a future event for the same registrant or transferred to another registrant for the relevant event if notification is received by the set date to the email address specifically listed in the registration confirmation. For the 2022 Conference, the deadline to submit an email notification to 2022@lymphnet.org is October 17, 2022.
Thank You!
