The GREATER WAYNESBORO AREA is comprised of Mont Alto Borough, Quincy Township, Washington Township, and Waynesboro Borough, on the southern border of the state. Waynesboro is in the Cumberland Valley between Hagerstown, Maryland, and Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. It is part of Chambersburg, PA Micropolitan Statistical Area, which is part of the Baltimore–Washington metropolitan area. It is 2 miles north of the Mason–Dixon line and close to Camp David and the Raven Rock Mountain Complex.

The Greater Waynesboro Area had been home to Native Americans for thousands of years prior to settlement by Anglo-Europeans in the mid-18th century. It is one of several dozen towns, cities, and counties named after General Anthony Wayne, a hero of the American Revolutionary War.

Our Weather

How’s the weather here? Great! Good enough, in fact, that Movoto Real Estate blog named Waynesboro a top town for weather in Pennsylvania with weather not prone to catastrophic proportions. Summers are warm with an average July temperature of 83 degrees. Winters are often mild with an average January temperature of 46 degrees.

Residents here enjoy picnics amidst budding flora in spring, lazy afternoon swims and rounds of golf during summer, walks under canopies of amber and scarlet foliage in fall and snowman building and sledding beneath clear winter skies.

Elected Officials Borough Council, Mayor

Mont Alto was founded in 1762 as Funkstown by early settler John Funk. The Mont Alto Railroad was built in 1872 to facilitate transportation of products. Soon after, in 1879, Funkstown and the neighboring village of Alto Dale combined to become Mont Alto. The Borough of Mont Alto was incorporated in 1913. Legend has it that abolitionist John Brown lived in Franklin County and occasionally taught Sunday School at Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Mont Alto, now located at the edge of the Penn State Mont Alto Campus.

Dr. Joseph T. Rothrock established the Mont Alto Forest Academy in 1903. It became annexed by the Borough of Mont Alto and in 1959, Penn State Mont Alto began offering courses.

Elected Officials Township Supervisors

Founded in 1800, Quincy Township shares a municipal boundary with the Borough of Mont Alto. In 1878, through the energies of G.B. Weistling and others, the Mont Alto Railroad was extended to Waynesboro through Quincy Township. Many historic homes and buildings still stand in the township, which is host to numerous farms and orchards.

The Western part of Quincy Township is part of the Great Appalachian Valley, an agricultural area with elevations in the township ranging from 650 to 1,100 feet, while the eastern half is on the slopes and crest of South Mountain, the highest point of which is the summit of Snowy Mountain, with an elevation exceeding 2800 feet. The Appalachian Trail traverses the Eastern side of the township.

Washington Township

Consisting of 39.4 square miles surrounding the Borough of Waynesboro, Washington Township was organized in 1779. The township communities of Zullinger, Rouzerville, and Blue Ridge Summit were founded in 1868, while the area of Wayne Heights was laid out in the early 20th century.

After the creation of the railroad, Blue Ridge Summit became a resort town, boasting luxurious hotel accommodations for the wealthy that traveled there from the Washington, D.C., region to vacation.

Today, Washington Township is home to a number of historic sites, including Renfrew Museum and Park, Harbaugh Church and Cemetery, Welty Mill Bridge, and the Civil War Battle of Monterey Pass.

Waynesboro Borough

Waynesboro was founded in 1749 when Scotsman John Wallace settled near the Antietam Creek. Wallace held title to 633 acres, almost one square mile. He called his land “Mount Vernon,” while others referred to it as “Wallacetown.” His son, John, later inherited the land after returning home from fighting in the Revolutionary War.

In 1797, John mapped out a town of 90 lots, which he named “Waynesburg” after his admired commander, General “Mad” Anthony Wayne. The town’s name was contested by several other Pennsylvania towns bearing the same name and the federal government soon ruled post offices in the same state could not have the same name. The town was incorporated as “Waynesborough,” which in 1831 was shortened to “Waynesboro.”

Historic Beginnings

ON THE FRONTIER

As the years continued, Waynesboro became a crossroads town and prospered by providing goods and services for the wagon trains traveling west. According to local lore, during the French and Indian War, two young girls, the Renfrew sisters, were attacked and killed by Native Americans while washing laundry in a creek near their home. The tale tells us several townspeople banded together to find those responsible for the girls’ deaths and obtain the girls’ remains so a proper burial could take place.

CIVIL WAR INVOLVEMENT

During the Civil War in June 1863, Confederate troops preparing for the Battle of Gettysburg captured Waynesboro for 15 days, raising the Confederate flag above town and forcing citizens to provide food to the soldiers. The Battle of Monterey Pass occurred in Blue Ridge Summit just days after the Battle of Gettysburg. It was during this battle that George Armstrong Custer and his Michigan Calvary Brigade attacked and captured part of Robert E. Lee’s retreating Army of Northern Virginia.
Industry

The foundation of Waynesboro’s industrial activity was laid by George Frick, whose invention of a small steam engine for farm use replaced cumbersome horsepower. He founded Frick Co., now known as Johnson Controls, in 1873, while brothers Abraham and Franklin Landis followed in his inventive footsteps. The Landis brothers not only manufactured the first cylindrical grinding machines in 1883, they also formed Landis Tool and Landis Machine, now known as Cinetic Landis Corp. and Landis Threading System, respectively.

Today, local industrial wealth is further enhanced by Beck Manufacturing, maker of pipe nipples and couplings and Manitowoc Crane Group. Formerly known as Grove Worldwide, Manitowoc is the world’s largest manufacturer of mobile cranes.

INDUSTRIAL MUSEUM

The Waynesboro Area Industrial Heritage Trust is found on a quiet Waynesboro side street in a former church built by Franklin Landis, one of the area’s early industrial pioneers. Open to residents and visitors for special events and by appointment, the museum’s mission is to provide insight into the community’s rich industrial heritage.

Located at 235 Philadelphia Avenue, the museum houses a collection of locally significant artifacts, drawings, and photographs. For more information, call 717-762-4460 or visit: industrialmuseum.weebly.com.

Putting Down Roots

Moving can be stressful and confusing. To help your transition to the area, please see the relocation information below.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION NEEDS

Newcomers establishing residency are required to apply for a Pennsylvania title and registration for their vehicle(s) within 20 days of entering the commonwealth. To register, new residents must complete registration forms available to download at dmv.state.pa.us or at any Pennsylvania Department of Transportation Driver’s License center.

When filing for vehicle registration(s) make sure you have with you:

- A valid title for all vehicles you want to register
- Proof of Pennsylvania insurance with effective and expiration dates
- Tracing of the vehicle identification number (VIN) or the verification of the VIN by an inspection mechanic or notary public
- Appropriate title, lien, registration fees and sales tax if applicable.

SALES TAX

If you hold a valid title issued in another state and have owned the vehicle six months or more before moving to Pennsylvania, you will not be required to pay any sales tax when you register your vehicle.

If you hold a valid title issued in another state and have owned the vehicle less than 6 months before moving to Pennsylvania, you will need to provide proof of sales tax paid to the previous titling jurisdiction or remit PA sales tax.
VEHICLE SAFETY INSPECTION

A newly-registered vehicle in Pennsylvania must receive a safety inspection within ten days of the registration date. Inspections are performed at official inspection stations (usually a repair garage or a service station with a repair shop.)

Equipment checks include: lights, brakes, horn, tires, safety belts, exhaust system, mirrors, tag mounting, suspension, turn signals, steering, glazing, wipers, and other major parts of your vehicle.

Inspection fees are posted at official inspection stations. These fees do not include repairs to correct vehicle defects.

EMISSION INSPECTION MAINTENANCE

Pennsylvania is one of many states required by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency to have a vehicle emissions inspection and maintenance program. The I/M program is a key part of the Commonwealth’s strategy to improve its air quality.

Call the Drive Clean PA customer hotline at 1-800-265-0941 or visit its website at: www.drivecleana.state.pa.us to find out if the county your vehicle is registered in is required to participate in the emissions inspection program.

DRIVER’S LICENSES

New residents are required to obtain a Pennsylvania driver’s license within 60 days of establishing a permanent residence. To apply, you must appear in person at your local DMV office to fill out forms and take a vision test. You will need to present:

- A driver’s license from your previous state of residence that is valid or has expired no more than six months earlier
- Social Security Card if your Social Security Number does not appear on your license

If your license expired more than six months previously, you will have to present your birth certificate and Social Security Card; apply for a Pennsylvania Learner’s Permit; and complete all required testing before you receive your license.

Once the license has been issued, you must surrender the license from your previous state of residence to personnel at the DMV.
Residents of Pennsylvania 16 years of age and older are entitled to a photo identification card. These cards provide a viable source of identification in lieu of a driver’s license. To apply at a license center, you will need to provide proof of name and birth date; two different forms validating your address; social security card; and a check or money order.

PUBLIC NOTARY
In order for a notary public to notarize a document, the person whose signature is being notarized must sign the document in the notary’s presence. Often, there is a fee to have a document notarized. The maximum amount a notary public may charge for services is regulated by state law.

How It All Began

The Greater Waynesboro Chamber of Commerce Campaign was launched in March of 1920 by a group of local citizens who determined the community was in need of an organization to make the greater Waynesboro area a better place to live and work.

The campaign headquarters were set up in Room 3 in the Arcade Building downtown. Robert Crosby from the American City Bureau, New York and his colleagues visited Waynesboro to help guide and establish the new organization of the Chamber of Commerce and recruit members. Mr. Crosby said:

“A Chamber of Commerce represents the business and civic sentiment of a community. Building one is taking a step toward organizing the whole nation. When business and professional men and women and workers in all fields of endeavor build a Chamber of Commerce they build for their community and country.”

Teams and committees were formed to spread the news about the new Chamber of Commerce. During the 1920 campaign, Chamber memberships were marketed as “investments” for businesses and individuals in order to accomplish goals otherwise not possible. The campaign had a goal of recruiting 400 members in four days. In the end, 433 business, organization and individual memberships – at a fee of $25 and three year commitment – were attained.

How It All Began

The Greater Waynesboro Chamber of Commerce Campaign was launched in March of 1920 by a group of local citizens who determined the community was in need of an organization to make the greater Waynesboro area a better place to live and work.
Chamber Members still going strong!

The Chamber hit the ground running on various projects such as bringing new businesses to the area, establishing the road in Quincy, forming committees to tackle issues like vacant rooms, apartments and houses – and helping with planning and construction of the hospital.

With their success, other communities started to take notice. Soon after, Frederick, MD and Chambersburg started the process of their own Chamber of Commercres.

Up until 1939, the Chamber was governed by a board of directors. During WWII, the Chamber was supplemented by two groups: the Waynesboro Manufacturing Association and the Waynesboro Advertising Club. In 1945, C. L. Wheat, a local car dealer and member of the Waynesboro Advertising Club, urged the restructuring of the Chamber of Commerce. Following a meeting with C.P. Schenck, the president of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, the local organization was revived and Wheat was named temporary chairman.

In March of 1950, Bylaws were adopted, and the first administrator was named: Darrell Wurster of Pittsburgh. He was followed by a woman (name unknown), Mary Wingert, Frances Miller, Barry Busby, Richard Wook, William Shull, Jeffery Rock, Carol Horick, Marybeth Hickenloper, Carole Whibley and, currently, Jackie Mowen.

Organizations such as Waynesboro Industrial Development Corporation, and the Retail Bureaus were formed under a partnership with the Chamber. Although there have been many changes throughout the years, the one constant has been the Chamber’s purpose: to support business and community growth, while making the greater Waynesboro area a better place to live and work.

Sugar Hollow Farm Alpacas

Greeted by a herd of Huacaya alpacas, Sugar Hollow Farm Alpacas has a friendly and unique welcoming party that makes guests feel like part of the family. Co-owners, Jay Brown and wife Kathy, are delighted to share their story about how the farm came to be one big happy family. “It all started in 2008 at a late summer fair in Lucketts, Virginia,” Jay begins. As the story goes, they stopped by the yarn vendor because Kathy loves to knit. This particular woman sold beautiful, soft, and totally irresistible alpaca yarn, as Kathy puts it. They admired photos of the cute crias (baby alpacas) that had been born two weeks earlier, and learned alpacas are one of the easiest livestock to care for. Jay fondly recollects, “Without realizing it, we had found our retirement plan!” Sugar Hollow Farm Alpacas is open to the public and encourages school groups to visit. Come learn more about these beautiful smart mammals that do not have top teeth, can eat two pounds of grass a day, hum to communicate, have distinct personalities, and the softest fleece.

Waynesboro Country Club

Monterey Country Club

Like President Eisenhower, today’s golfers tee off on the Golf Course at Monterey surrounded by scenic mountain ridges and quiet forests. One of the oldest courses in the country – built by railroad magnates in the 1890s – the course was a major attraction for the thriving summer community in Blue Ridge Summit at a time when government officials, ambassadors and affluent families fled the cities to breathe the fresh mountain air. Similar to other courses of that era, Monterey rewards accuracy and the strategic use of irons to navigate dog-legs, water hazards and a Scottish-style mound.

Local history still lingers: the first green faces the birthplace of the Duchess of Windsor, as well as the Civil War retreat route from Gettysburg, and the Battle of Monterey Pass.

Why a name change?
Created in 1990 by Renfrew Museum & Park, Renfrew Institute is a separate, financially independent organization providing educational programs on site. Our new name places The Institute at Renfrew — where it was born, and where it has served the community with valued experiences for three decades.

A decades-long partnership between the two organizations provides the Institute with a beautiful facility as its outdoor classroom, while Renfrew Museum & Park has the benefit of thousands of visitors each year who develop connections to this special place, becoming community stewards.

Three decades... engaging people of all ages with place-based programs and experiences that inform and inspire. These experiences also build meaningful connections... to the past, to the natural world and importantly, to one another.

New name.
Same great programs and experiences!

Our mission remains unchanged, and our goals and values are reflected in the tagline and design of our new logo: A yellow dot over the “i” in Institute symbolizes the sun, and a stylized flax leaf suggests the letter “r” for Renfrew, illustrating our ongoing charge of interpreting our natural and cultural worlds.

MEETING LOCAL NEEDS

Waynesboro Community and Human Services (WC&HS) provides a variety of programs to ensure the needs of qualifying, low-income community members are met. Efforts extend from the Waynesboro Area to Greencastle-Antrim school districts.

WC&HS services include a food bank; clothing bank; diaper bank; emergency financial assistance; information and referral; community health nurse; and counseling.

In addition to its list of services, WC&HS sponsors a yearly community Thanksgiving meal, delivering meals to shut-ins as needed, and organizes an annual Christmas boxed meal program and holiday adopt-a-family effort.
