

Intercom Systems

Thanks to mobile technologies, intercoms have come a long way in recent years. Hardwired intercoms are very cost effective when cables are in place. Otherwise 3G can deliver your visitors' voice to your phone and 4G can provide mobile video to your phone.

Say Goodbye To Your Doorbell

Access control is key when it comes to having visitors to your property, which is why you need a reliable access control intercom system. Hampden offers a range of premium access control intercom solutions with professional technical support when necessary.

New Levels Of Intercom Intelligence

Our products offer the very latest technology, including IP, GSM, and Audio and Video packages, all of which can be tailored to meet your specific requirements. From basic audio units right through to the state-of-the-art 4G video intercoms with mobile phone based monitors.
