Apply to be a member of the Gould Center Student Advisory Board!

The Gould Center Student Advisory Board meets twice a semester to advise the Director on all aspects of the Gould Center's programming (for example, speakers, fellowships, cultural events, social activities, and so on). The Director looks to the Advisory Board for feedback on existing programs and for suggestions for future programming and innovations.

Student Advisory Board members must be CMC students majoring in the humanities who are interested in guiding the direction of the Gould Center for Humanistic Studies. Humanities majors include the following: history, literature, philosophy (including PPE and Philosophy and Public Affairs), religious studies, modern languages, and any dual/double majors thereof, or off-campus humanities majors including the arts.

This position requires a minimum commitment of one year of service, and the position is unpaid.

Applications are due by Monday, September 17, 2018 at 5 p.m. Application available at https://goo.gl/forms/uaMQODZW9304zm483
