Summer "Coyote Medicine" Healing Retreat
June 1 and 2, 2024

Recharge & engage yourself in a weekend of experiences, celebrations, & ceremonies designed to help you connect with the energies of summer, your emotions, the element of fire, and the medicine of Coyote. Coyote is thought to be the Trickster in Native American tradition, bringing the unexpected to us - often with the most valuable teachings for us to learn. Sharing this in group practice helps us all to learn & grow and to appreciate where we are & what we've already experienced. Some have found this weekend retreat to be deeply transformational and healing.

Using practices that have been handed down from generation to generation, we'll connect with the ancient wisdom that's available to us. During the weekend we will explore:

- Ceremony
- Sound Healing
- Ancient Sacred Chants
- Meditative Drumming and Shamanic Journeys
- Guided Meditation or Journey to the Heart of Coyote
 - The Creation of a Sacred Fire
 - A Sacred Earth Dance

You are welcome, regardless of experience level. There are no prerequisites. This can be an entryway into your experience of the beautiful Medicine Wheel tradition, a gateway to further study in the four-quadrant apprenticeship program, or a standalone healing weekend for your rejuvenation.

Schedule, Location, Energy Exchange, and Registration: We will circle from 10-6 pm on Saturday and 10-4 pm on Sunday in Vass (Woodlake), NC. The energy exchange is $300.00. The registration deadline is May 25 but please register early because space is limited. Bring your lunch. For more information about me please visit my website. About the Teacher

Cyndy "Snake Dancer" Paige received her name from Great Spirit in a profound Vision Quest experience and knew it was a call to a healing path. Snake is universally regarded as a healer and teacher in spiritual traditions throughout the world and has a special place in the Native American medicine tradition. Cyndy is a Council member of the Buffalo Trace Society. Over the course of three decades, she has completed multi-year initiatory apprenticeships with numerous Rainbow Medicine Teachers, a master drummer, a Grammy-nominated sound healer, a pioneer in the world of past life regression, and numerous healers. Cyndy founded Rhythm of the Earth in 2013 to share her knowledge of healing and earth-based spirituality through a private healing practice, one-year and two-year shamanic apprenticeships, vision quest experiences, solstice and equinox retreats, and frequent workshops. Cyndy has been invited as a guest speaker at conferences and independent schools. Cyndy also creates and assists others to create, personal medicine tools such as drums, rattles, medicine bags, and other ceremonial objects. She humbly honors her teachers, both seen and unseen.
