Plan now for these shows, events

By Sonya Ladd

Make sure you've got your tickets to all the big shows happening in town this upcoming weekend. From comedy to music, there's something for everyone!

THE STARS ARISE

If you're a fan of live music, The Stars Are Arising is not to be missed. With a lineup of some of the top names in the industry, this event is sure to be a hit. Mark your calendars now for the start of the weekend!

FEBRUARY 22

A great way to cap off the weekend is with a visit to the beautiful city of Philadelphia. Whether you're a native or a visitor, there's always something to do and see. Don't forget to check out the famous Rocky Steps and take a photo with the iconic statue of the main character.

PLAN NOW:"Plan now for these shows, events by Sonya Ladd

Bibliococktails: Wittman Bicentennial

Fletcher Square's unique book-themed bar is celebrating the 200th anniversary of the Philadelphia Athenaeum, one of the oldest and most prestigious libraries in the United States. Join us for a night of reading and fun as we explore the stories and histories behind some of the most significant books of the past two centuries.

Cheese and Beer Pairing

Fitzwilliam's 20th annual beer and cheese event is back! This year, we're featuring a variety of unique beers from local and international breweries, paired with carefully selected cheeses from around the world. Don't miss this opportunity to expand your palate and indulge in a delicious and unique experience.

ARTIST'S EXHIBITION: Never-Ending Man

Hayao Miyazaki documentary

This is a must-see for any Hayao Miyazaki fan. The documentary includes interviews with the director and behind-the-scenes footage from his latest films. It's a great way to learn more about this legendary animator's creative process and the history of his iconic films.

Don't wait until the last minute to secure your tickets for these events. Plan now and make the most of your weekend in Philadelphia!