A Maternal Mortality Panel                                               |
| Spring Health Braintrust, Panel 1 | Objective: The U.S. has the deadliest maternal mortality rate of any developed nation. It should not cost a mother her life in order to start or add to her family. This panel will shine an urgent light on the status of women's healthcare access in preparation for motherhood, and offers crucial interventions to maternal mortality.

Spring Health Braintrust, Panel 2

Location: Ritz Carlton Ballroom

Objective: For Generation Z, young people born between the mid-1990’s to mid-2000’s, social media connects them and social causes mobilize them. Their health needs are as unique as their Instagram handles. This panel will emphasize the clinical and social investments being made—or that need to be made—to advance the health of children and adolescents well into their adulthood.

Moderator: Dr. Kameron Van Patterson
Director, The Judge Alexander Williams, Jr. Center for Education, Justice, and Ethics, University of Maryland

Panelists:
- Dr. Doris Browne
President, National Medical Association
- Jenne Johns

Chairwoman’s Congressional Staff Leadership Award
Caren Street
Policy Director of the CBC, Office of Rep. Cedric Richmond |
Town Hall: Sex, Drugs and Violence: Reducing Risky Health Behaviors in Young Adult Years |
|  | Objective: According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), young people and young adults aged 15 to 24 years account for half of all new sexually transmitted disease infections, even though they only make up a little more than a quarter of the sexually active population. With respect to drugs, over half of the youth and young adults who have died from a drug overdose died from opioid abuse. Finally, the rates at which youth and young adults are exposed to violence are disturbing, resulting in consequences spanning their life course. Panelists during this discussion will highlight strategies, programs, and public health interventions that address the role of sex, drugs, and violence in the lives of young adults. |

<td>HEALTH BRAINTRUST PANEL 3: For Grown Folk: A Discussion on the Health of Mature Adults</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Spring Health Braintrust, Panel 3
Location: Ritz Carlton Ballroom

Objective: With developments in public health prevention efforts, great increases in healthcare access, and innovation in medical care, our country’s older demographic is living longer than ever before, and, often, more optimally. Longer living means having greater considerations for managing chronic conditions, for expanding access to affordable primary and specialty care, and for enhancing the lives of mature adults. Experts on this panel speak to these issues.

Moderator: Shyrea Thompson
Senior Director of Strategic Initiatives, Susan G. Komen for the Cure
