PAMIC
Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies

The Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies (PAMIC) was founded in 1907. Today, one hundred years later, our membership includes 60 mutual property and casualty insurance companies. In addition, we have over 100 associate members, including law and accounting firms, adjusting and software companies, rating bureaus and other businesses providing services to property and casualty companies.

PAMIC members are served in two ways. First, we provide members with an unparalleled variety of educational opportunities. Throughout a typical year, members and other registrants can attend seminars and roundtables on the entire spectrum of insurance company functions, including claims, underwriting and loss control, financial management, human resources, marketing, information systems, and other current topics. Second, PAMIC communicates the views and concerns of our members to legislators and regulators and acts as the primary source of government affairs information for members.

Our Mission:
Our mission is to support our membership in successfully meeting the insurance needs of the public in a dynamic financial services environment. Our success will be measured by the financial stability and perpetuation of our membership.

Our Vision:
PAMIC will be the Mid-Atlantic Region's best source of education and networking for the insurance professionals, the mutual insurance industry's most loyal advocate before the Pennsylvania state government and the region's consumers, and the most reliable, timely source of information on regulatory/legislative issues affecting the industry.

Our Values:
- Maintaining the highest standards of honesty, integrity, and professionalism
- Commitment to open communication, innovation, and learning
- Financial responsibility
- Respect for others and their beliefs
- Belief in insurance as a valuable and essential economic tool
Greetings,

As I look back over my past year as Chairman of the Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies, I am struck by two facts, namely: (1) how quickly this Association year has passed (a fact that is inextricably intertwined with growing older); and (2) how deeply committed our Association member companies are to transacting the business of insurance with professionalism, corporate and individual integrity, and the highest business ethics. I cannot change anything with regard to the first fact, and I would not change anything with regard to the second fact.

In my meetings with a number of our member companies over the last year, I observed first-hand how PAMIC member companies strive to fully meet the insurance needs of their policyholders by achieving the highest customer satisfaction possible, while at the same time ensuring that their companies are providing insurance coverage and services in full compliance with not only the letter of the law, but also the spirit of the law.

It is singularly noteworthy that, in a time and era when businesses (including some insurance companies) are meeting with criticism that their business practices are not always based on good corporate governance, PAMIC member companies treat compliance with the law as their most important duty. Our member companies clearly recognize that the business of insurance is premised solely on a promise. Every policy of insurance is based on a promise that when the policyholder sustains a covered loss, their insurance company will be there to provide for their financial security in their time of need. PAMIC member companies know that an insurance company lives by its reputation in upholding its promises and obligations to its policyholders, agents and claimants. That tenet of professionalism, integrity and ethics in all business transactions embodies the core values of our Association, and provides a firm foundation on which we build our educational and training offerings; our conferences, seminars and Convention.

As Chairman of PAMIC during the past year, I was privileged to be able to welcome into our trade association three (3) new member companies: Harleysville Insurance Group; State Auto Insurance Companies; and Erie and Niagara Insurance Association. Each of these companies possesses an excellent reputation in our industry for the professionalism, integrity and ethics by which they guide their insurance operations, and we are fortunate indeed to have such fine companies as these three join our Association as new members. Please join me in welcoming into our Association the representatives of these companies.

PAMIC is a state trade association, and any trade association is a reflection of the core values of its member companies. Our member companies have such a rich tradition of being good corporate citizens, in conducting business the way it should be done, which is the opposite of the public perception that insurance companies too often encounter. Our challenge moving forward is to promote the good works that our members, both individually and collectively, provide to meet the needs of the insurance-buying public. I am confident our Association can meet this challenge head on.

Very truly yours,

Kenneth R. Shutts
PAMIC Chairman
This year PAMIC Chairman Kenneth Shutts selected “Our Rich Heritage – The Foundation for Our Future” as the theme for his year leading your association.

PAMIC member companies indeed have a rich heritage of service to their communities. Some of our member companies date back to the eighteenth century and the very beginnings of mutual insurance on this continent. Most of our members have been around well over a century. That is certainly a proud heritage and, just as certainly, a firm foundation for our future.

PAMIC too enjoys a rich heritage of service to you the members. Throughout the years PAMIC has been there for you and, through you, for your communities. PAMIC’s contribution to your success is based on its well known triad of functions: vigorous advocacy in government relations, quality educational offerings, and unparalleled industry networking opportunities. That’s a rich heritage and a solid foundation on which to build year by year. This year was no exception. Look at each leg of the PAMIC triad.

First, our educational offering just kept getting better. How can we tell? Educational seminars have a built-in indicator that automatically tells us whether we picked the right topics: Did we fill the room? By that test, PAMIC had an outstanding educational year. Getting the right topics is one part of the job. Making sure those topics are covered in a clear, thorough, authoritative manner is the other. Our attendee surveys told us that we hit the mark on content as well. I want to thank our Education Committee Chairman Matthew Schnader and his committee and the chairs and members of all the other committees that planned this year’s calendar of seminars and roundtables. And thank you to Marri Lamoureaux, our Education Director, for pulling it all together.

At every PAMIC meeting, we try to build in time for networking. We recognize the fact that sharing of problems and solutions is one of the most valuable features of any PAMIC meeting. Here too we received abundant positive feedback this year.

Finally, this year was a year of heavy lifting for government affairs, the third leg of the PAMIC stool. On behalf of your Government Affairs Committee, its Chairman Rob Dodds, and on behalf of PAMIC and your industry, I thank you for a job well done. PAMIC is justly famous for its grassroots coverage. This year you all did us proud. This was the year the politicians all seemed to simultaneously discover insurance company premium taxes as a preferred funding source for all sorts of worthy causes. First, raise your taxes for health care coverage for volunteer firefighters. We stopped it with your help. Then, raise your taxes to pay for flood projects – even though none of you cover flood so none of these projects would redound to your benefit. We stopped it (as of now) with your help. Next, waiting in the wings as I write this, is a good idea to build affordable housing in Pennsylvania. How to pay for it? You guessed it. I have no idea how that will play out. But judging from you outstanding grassroots work on the first two issues your government affairs team – the Government Affairs Committee and I – know that you will respond to the call, you will contact your legislators, and your industry will be heard from again.

So on all three counts this year we all added something memorable to our rich heritage and we laid the foundation for our future.

As Adopted by the PAMIC Board of Directors on June 10, 2008
Building on the success of prior years, the 2008 Claims Summit was held on April 2-3 in Harrisburg. Over the two days, our attendees were presented with the latest developments in the legal, technological and practical standards which govern exemplary claims-handling practices. Panel discussions and interactive forums – from public adjusters to a mock trial – further enhanced the Summit by establishing a dialogue on issues commonly confronted by claims personell.

While the substance of the educational presentations permitted us to achieve our overarching goal of providing a quality educational seminar to our members, our Reception and Exhibit Show provided our attendees with the equally important opportunity to meet and socialize with those who work in our industry. Exposure to products and services presented by our exhibitors offered further tools to manage and direct claims handling operations.

Once again, our focus on a breadth of topics and experience permitted us to provide interesting topics tailored to both junior adjusters and the most seasoned veterans. The feedback and evaluations received from our attendees was overwhelmingly positive and the incorporation of many insightful suggestions into future summits should permit us to refine our programs to provide the greatest return on our attendees’ investment.

Finally, I must stress my sincere appreciation for the level of commitment, professionalism and dedication exhibited by the PAMIC staff, volunteers, presenters and committee members, all of whom were truly instrumental in making the 2008 Claims Summit a resounding success.

Purpose: Assist PAMIC Director of Educational in planning the annual convention including session topic and speaker selection, location selection and participation by other state trade associations.

The 2008 Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies will be held on August 3rd – 5th at the Nemacolin Woodlands Resort. This is a combined convention of three state associations; Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia. We are excited to work with our mutual brethren in these states to provide a great forum and excellent networking opportunities along with an extraordinary location.

Numerous opportunities for networking will be provided which include the Welcome Reception on Sunday evening along with the general and breakout sessions throughout the convention. Please take the time to meet new friends and get reacquainted with older friends and colleagues.

The convention will provide attendees the opportunity to listen and discuss critical issues important to the insurance industry through the General and Breakout Sessions. Relevant topics that will be discussed include; capital market trends and future globalization, enterprise risk management, preparing for AM Best, soft market management, technology, and climate change. Roundtable discussions will be available to openly discuss critical issues such as; emerging trends in technology, enterprise risk management, human resources, federal regulation and ease of doing business. There will be five Director’s Sessions to include such topics as reinsurance, corporate governance, financial balance sheet management, executive compensation and strategic planning. In addition, there will be legislative updates for all three states.

The venue is extraordinary. Nemacolin Woodlands Resort is nestled in beautiful Western Pennsylvania just north of the Maryland border. This area provides numerous opportunities for activities and relaxation for attendees and their families.

I would like to thank all of the members of the 2008 Convention Committee for their input and contributions to make this combined convention a success. A special thank you goes to Marri Lamoureaux for her guidance and tireless efforts to assure the success of our convention.

I trust that you will find the 2008 Combined Annual Convention one filled with relevant information, strengthened relationships and fun-filled activities.

The PAMIC Education Committee planned two seminars this year; the Annual Spring Conference and the Arson Seminar. In addition, the committee recommended that PAMIC partner with NAMIC in 2009 for a jointly held Ag Risk Inspection School.

The Annual Spring Conference was moved to the Nittany Lion Inn in State College, a larger venue than in previous years, in order to accommodate the growing attendance. Once again the Conference had a solid attendance with 65 members participating. Topics included Disaster Recovery including ID Theft, The Latest Financial Exam Requirements, Making Policy Changes including information on Withdrawal Plans, and an Agent Relations Panel with discussion on forming an Advisory Council.

The Arson Seminar was held in response to the growing number of arson cases seen by some PAMIC member companies. The seminar was a successful mix of high level information on understanding arsonist behavior as well as hands-on information on how to process suspected arson cases efficiently. Members in attendance received valuable information on understanding and controlling arson investigations.

I would like to thank the Education Committee members for their dedication in serving the PAMIC membership. Their participation made for great seminars and entertaining committee meetings.

Purpose: Plan and produce a quality educational seminar and provide roundtables and other forums as needed on financial management, accounting, financial reporting, tax, and investment functions of company operations. Serve as a resource for financial management questions and alert association to emerging issues in financial management.

Our September Financial Management Seminar attracted 75 attendees with a wide variety of topics from Enterprise Risk Management to Identity Theft. We were fortunate to have presenter Mr. Gerard Lynch, Chairman, President and CEO of General Re-New England Asset Management, speak on Capital Market Trends and the Future Effects of Globalization. Also on hand to present his Regulatory Update was Steve Johnson, Deputy Commissioner, Pennsylvania Insurance Department and a popular speaker at our Financial Management seminars.

The 2007 – 2008 Financial Management Committee has built upon past successes in planning their 2008 Seminar. Special guest this year will be Joel Ario, Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner. Steve Johnson will also be back to present his lively regulatory update. An innovative panel discussion focusing on the Strategic Planning of Insurance Companies will include Robert Lyon, President, Millers Mutual Group, John Coursen, COO, Mutual Benefit Group and Al Webber, President, Tweed-Weber.

Additional sessions include Benchmarking with Jeff Reader, president of Ward Benchmarking; Data Breach and Identity Theft Coverages with The Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company; and an Annual Statement Update with Scott Esworthy, Principle at Brown Shultz Sheridan & Fritz.

It has been my pleasure to Chair the 2007 – 2008 PAMIC Financial Management Committee. This Committee is comprised of experienced professionals willing to share their time and talent with the PAMIC community. Thank you.

Purpose: Closely monitor insurance legislative, regulatory and judicial developments and assess their impact on PAMIC membership. Assist in development and maintenance of government affairs communications program with membership and foster and promote direct member communication with legislators and regulators.

The 2007-2008 Governmental Affairs Committee again faced numerous challenges and issues from both the State and Federal Government. During our annual visit with Acting Insurance Commissioner, Joel Ario, we were told that the P&C industry in Pennsylvania was extremely healthy and the focus of their Department is Life & Health. For some reason, unfortunately, the State Legislature sees things differently. During the course of the 2007-2008 session, we were faced with legislation that dealt with such topics as: imposing a sales tax on legal fees; premium tax to fund both volunteer fire fighter healthcare insurance and flood programs; classification of independent contractors and changing well established language of “full tort” to the more controversial “Right to Sue”.

Outside the legislative activity, this year also focused on the controversial ruling in the Sackett case. The collective efforts of the insurance industry in Pennsylvania after the initial ruling forced the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to reconsider their initial ruling. We also faced the confusing and frustrating procedure of plans of transitions and withdrawals with the Insurance Department. This issue certainly added a few gray hairs to all of us!

I would consider the past year a resounding success. The participation in Mutual Insurance Days in Harrisburg as well as CCP in Washington, D.C. continues to be the way to get our industry’s voice heard by the lawmakers. If you participated, thank you. If you could not make it this past year, we hope to see you at both events in 2009. While we all hope Mr. Ario is correct and the focus remains Life & Health, we must be ready to deal with the unexpected in 2008-2009 as well. With emphasis on communication and education, the next year promised to be another success!

Two years since returning by popular demand from a brief hiatus, the Human Resources Committee enjoyed a productive string of events this past year. A full day of human resources-related education was provided to 33 attendees at the HR Symposium held in October 2007. Topics included work/life initiatives, preparations for a Department of Labor audit, executive coaching, and workforce development.

Our roundtable meetings continued their popularity; nearly two dozen people registered for the February 2008 session. All participants benefit from a comfortable, relaxed setting in which to share challenges, successes and ideas. A rich variety of hands-on information is always guaranteed gleaned from peers.

Thanks go to Lititz Mutual for hosting the roundtables – it’s a great location and so close to Wilbur Chocolate prior to the drive home – and to Steve Horner of Horner & Associates, who serves as the roundtable moderator.

It has been my pleasure to serve as chair of this committee. I appreciate the committee members and PAMIC’s support during the year and look forward to repeating the role in the coming year.

The PAMIC Information Systems Committee was reestablished this year with successful results. In December, the committee presented an IS Roundtable hosted by Mutual Insurance Group in Huntingdon. Presentations were given on Deploying IP Telephony and Selecting Insurance Software, followed by an informative roundtable discussion on Insurance IS issues.

For their May Seminar/Roundtable, hosted by Lititz Mutual Insurance Company, the Committee went to great lengths to obtain several high profile speakers, including Matthew Josefowicz, Director of Insurance Practice at Novarica, James H. Bisker, Industry Leader at IBM Global Business Services and William Hartnett, General Manager of Insurance at Microsoft. Topics included Legacy Systems, Insurance Data Model and results from a recent survey on CEO’s View on Technology. Following the presentations, attendees participated in an insightful roundtable discussion.

The IS Committee is dedicated to providing discussion opportunities and meaningful presentations for those involved in insurance information systems. Our goal was to provide the information that will be helpful in making the difficult decisions of moving your companies successfully into the future.

A special thanks to Mutual Benefit and Lititz Mutual for hosting the I.S. meetings and roundtables. It was an added benefit for those who attended these meetings to have the option of touring these hosting companies facilities. It was extremely beneficial to see first hand how these companies are organized and operate.

We especially appreciate the hard work and support of Marri Lamoureaux from the PAMIC office who greatly assisted in making the sponsored events so successful. It has been our pleasure to work with our committee members in planning and implementing the PAMIC IS Meetings and Roundtables.

Purpose: Provide quality educational seminars, roundtables, and forums designed to enhance professional skills in underwriting, loss control and related fields. Research and disseminate emerging underwriting and loss control techniques, issues, and problems.

The Underwriting & Loss Prevention Seminar held November 8, 2007 at the Hershey Country Club attracted a large audience. More than 100 people took part in the seminar. In addition to break out sessions on Catastrophe Modeling and Hot Topics for Underwriters, the seminar included both a Predictive Model Panel and an Executive Panel discussion with representatives from four member companies.

The Underwriting and Loss Prevention Committee has once again put together a full schedule of sessions for the 2008 Seminar featuring the popular CEO Panel Discussion. In addition will be a series of Roundtable discussions. Attendees will be invited to participate in small group discussions around topics such as:

Underwriting Alternative Energy
New and Emerging Issues
Underwriting Tools

Managing Agency Relations
Underwriting in a Soft Market
Commercial Underwriting

This year’s Seminar also includes these afternoon breakout sessions:
