ANNUAL REPORT

Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies
PAMIC

The Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies

The Pennsylvania Association of Mutual Insurance Companies (PAMIC) was founded in 1907. Today, almost a hundred years later, our membership includes 58 mutual property and casualty insurance companies. In addition, we have over 100 associate members, including law and accounting firms, adjusting and software companies, rating bureaus and other businesses providing services to property and casualty companies.

PAMIC members are served in two ways. First, we provide members with an unparalleled variety of educational opportunities. Throughout a typical year, members and other registrants can attend seminars and roundtables on the entire spectrum of insurance company functions, including claims, underwriting and loss control, financial management, human resources, marketing, information systems, and other current topics. Second, PAMIC communicates the views and concerns of our members to legislators and regulators and acts as the primary source of government affairs information for members.

Our Mission:
Our mission is to support our membership in successfully meeting the insurance needs of the public in a dynamic financial services environment. Our success will be measured by the financial stability and perpetuation of our membership.

Our Vision:
PAMIC will be the Mid-Atlantic Region's best source of education and networking for the insurance professionals, the mutual insurance industry's most loyal advocate before the Pennsylvania state government and the region's consumers, and the most reliable, timely source of information on regulatory/legislative issues affecting the industry.

Our Values:
- Maintaining the highest standards of honesty, integrity, and professionalism
- Commitment to open communication, innovation, and learning
- Financial responsibility
- Respect for others and their beliefs
- Belief in insurance as a valuable and essential economic tool
I would like to thank the committee chairs and volunteers for their efforts in creating this past year’s educational and networking opportunities. PAMIC fulfilled its mission of legislative advocacy and providing educational and networking opportunities in varied forums and formats to its members.

During the year, the association and its membership debated a range of topics, from strategic direction to the very finite exercise of defining its corporate governance. In Pittsburgh last summer, the membership addressed the strategic direction of the organization. This spring, the members again convened to address the very specific details of the organization’s governance. While very different in content, both exercises served to bring the membership together to discuss the future of PAMIC.

PAMIC continues to rebound from its financial underperformance of several years ago and is in a markedly improved position today. Granted, the membership dues have increased substantially while the membership base is contracting, but a current equilibrium has been achieved.

Finally, the good work of PAMIC is not possible without the staff of PAMIC. The leadership and volunteers come and go, but the staff members of the organization help keep the institutional memory, not to mention the operations, going along seamlessly. I commend them for their efforts.

Warmest Regards,

Robert L. Lyon
Millers Mutual Insurance
PAMIC Chairman 2005-2006
This year Chairman Bob Lyon has led PAMIC through an era of great organizational change. The move of our convention to August was probably the most minor but most appreciated change, especially by our associate members and exhibitors. The greatest substantive change was undoubtedly the adoption of completely modernized bylaws and articles. However, for those who availed themselves of the opportunities, the most noticeable changes have been in our greatly enlarged and enhanced educational programs.

This year we continued offering our three-day underwriting schools. We are taking the basic CPCU/IIA courses in sequence. And, in the coming year, we are beginning repeats of earlier segments. The turnout has been gratifying and the attendee feedback has been extremely positive. This year we also offered new seminars on specific, target topics. For example, we provided a Supervisory Management Seminar, continuing the tradition of quality human resources oriented education. For the first time this year we offered a Farm School, giving underwriters comprehensive instruction on the intricacies of farm forms. On the drawing board for the future are offerings on business interruption, equipment breakdown, E & O, and other important topics. As always, our Underwriting and Loss Prevention, Claims, and Financial Management designed and implemented our perennially popular seminars on those vital fields.

Our incoming Chairman, Bob Fitzsimmons, has told me that he has never attended a PAMIC meeting where he did not learn at least one new idea he could put to work right away. And then he went on to say that frequently he learned that one new idea not in the formal sessions themselves but during the dinners, receptions and coffee breaks. That is a perfect example of the value of networking, the second leg on the PAMIC tripod. We make special efforts to build networking opportunities into every one of our meetings. Like-minded people discussing common problems in a relaxed and collegial atmosphere is one of the hallmarks of PAMIC.
Finally, but by no means least in importance to a heavily regulated entity such as our own, PAMIC serves as your government affairs representative in Harrisburg. This year promises to be critical for Pennsylvania as a general election looms. The first since the legislative pay raise that galvanized so many citizens into political action. PAMIC members, by their faithful response to legislative action calls, have done much to promote a better legislative environment for our industry. In the coming year, we plan to focus on government affairs and intensify our grassroots outreach. Our legislative visits during our annual Mutual Insurance Day have continued to grow in number and in influence. Next year we intend to expand on that solid base and enhance our grassroots lobbying to a year round presence.

So education, networking, and government affairs remain the three focus areas of PAMIC. This annual report shows you the names, the committees, and the numbers. But to really get behind the names and numbers and feel the pulse of PAMIC you need to become an active part of it. I encourage you to become an active participant in your association. I also want to thank my staff: Marri Lamoureaux, for her outstanding work on our education program, and Jeanne Thomas for a smoothly running office. Thanks to all the membership and especially the elected leadership for their support, suggestions, criticisms, and counsel throughout the year.

Sincerely,

Perpetual companies, defined as companies marketing policies with substantial deposit premiums, shall pay dues calculated on 10% of deposits to yield an equivalent conventional DWP.

2. Regular members over $100,000,000 Pennsylvania DWP: $10,000.

Associate (Non-Voting) Members
3. Associate member: Adjuster, Miscellaneous Services: $550

4. Associate member: Law Firm: $650

5. Associate member: Reinsurance Broker: $650

6. Associate member: Reinsurer under $10B worldwide premium: $750

7. Associate member: Reinsurer $10B and over worldwide premium: $1,000

8. Associate member: National Insurance Company Trade Association: Initial membership: $3,500; Annual renewal: $3,000.

Dues of regular members joining during the Association year will be prorated.
The Purpose of the Claims Committee is to provide quality educational seminars; provide forums on claims questions; research and disseminate relevant claims related information to the PAMIC membership.

In preparing this summary I happened to review our Claims Committee Purpose Statement. The Statement reads “Provide quality educational seminars; provide forums on claims questions; research and disseminate relevant claims related information to the PAMIC membership. Based on the feedback from attendees at this year’s conference as well as the support from our Committee members, I would say we not only met this objective but far exceeded the expectations of our membership.

In an effort to provide the most comprehensive seminar possible, we decided to break from tradition in terms of format. We held concurrent workshops during the two day seminar providing choices and opportunities based on experience and interest levels of our membership. We set out a few years back to establish a reputation as providing the premier educational event of the year and through the efforts of many dedicated individuals we have accomplished this goal. I received a personal letter from one of the attendees expressing how valuable our conference has become to his staff. He went on to say more specifically “one of the best seminars in my 20 plus years of experience with PAMIC. I especially enjoyed the format”.

I appreciated the experience as Chairman of this year’s event and it has been my privilege to work with the PAMIC Staff and Committee volunteers. The success of this year’s event can only be attributed to the industry professionals on our committee and efforts of the PAMIC Staff. I look forward to working with PAMIC on future committees and I am confident that we will be able to meet the needs of our members for years to come.

Respectfully,

William L. Hamrick Jr. RPA, AIC

The Purpose of the Convention Committee is to assist Director, Meetings & Conventions in planning annual convention, including speaker selection, locations, participation by other state trade associations.

The Convention Committee resolved to implement the suggestions that were received following the Convention last year. A review of past surveys revealed that some of the suggestions were repeated on an annual basis. The convention this year is evidence that your comments are appreciated and considered. There is no doubt that the change from Fathers Day to a day in August was done with some apprehension. It was the most repeated suggestion over the years so it was given a try.

In recent years, there has been a request from some to shorten the convention or at least make the last afternoon optional. This was achieved by moving the golf outing from Monday to Tuesday so that those who do not golf have the option of leaving early.

There was apprehension in eliminating the “Larry Kauffman Breakfast” and the banquet. Again, the setup at the Homestead made these options worth considering. It was reported that the meals in the Homestead restaurants were so great that to have a set menu for any meal would be taking something worthwhile from the members who attend. That the price of the meals is included in the room rate was another consideration.

In addition to having a dynamic opening keynote speaker, we also included an equally good speaker for the closing. Between these two events, more of your suggestions were utilized. There were suggestions for sessions on business plans, business continuity plans and investment management as well as topics for directors. All of these were included.

A special thanks goes to the Convention Committee for their ideas and support and especially to Marr Lamoureux of PAMIC who did an excellent job of putting it all together. If you like the changes implemented this year or if you did not like them, please let us know. We do appreciate your suggestions.

Very truly yours,

The Purpose of the Education Committee is to maintain and enhance quality and profitability of PAMIC educational activities and to coordinate all PAMIC educational activity to assure full coverage of all relevant topics and to reduce any unneeded duplication of topics.

In an effort to respond to requests for new education events and to increase revenues through educational program offerings, the PAMIC Education Committee offered two new educational opportunities this year; the AAIS Farm Seminar and the Supervisory Management Course. Both were two day events and were well attended by PAMIC members.

The committee offered the traditional seminars and roundtables, including the Human Resource and Information Systems roundtables as well as the popular Small Company Seminar and Executive Roundtable.

The INS classes continue to be well attended. INS22 and INS23 were both offered this year. Many of the participants went on to take the IIA exams, qualifying them for the Certificate in General Insurance.

A special thank you this year goes to Bob Gage of Briar Creek Mutual Insurance Company for filling in for Chairman Gary Holtzman, who had a career change mid way through the year.

The Purpose of the Financial Management Committee is to plan and produce a quality educational seminar and, in coordination with the Education Committee, provide roundtables and other forums on financial management, accounting, financial reporting, tax, and investment functions of company operations. The committee will also serve as a resource for financial management questions and alert association to emerging issues in financial management.

The 2005 PAMIC Financial Management Seminar was well received by the 70 people in attendance, who heard presentations on timely topics such as: The Economic Outlook, Model Audit Rule, Operational Process Improvement, Regulatory Update, Taxes, and Annual Statement Update. The event was held in Grantville, PA, on September 27.

The Committee-sponsored Financial Management Roundtable, held May 3, 2006, at the West Shore Country Club, was equally well received. The 14 attendees joined in discussions on:

- Insurance Department Audit Changes
- AM Best
- Catastrophe Models
- Finite Reinsurance Tests
- SOX Status

Those attending the Committee’s 2007 Financial Management Seminar planning session following the Roundtable agreed to continue holding the event in late September. Alternative sites in the greater Harrisburg area will be investigated by the PAMIC staff. The nine present for the planning session narrowed down a wide range of potential seminar topics and will finalize the list shortly.

I personally want to thank the committee members for their participation, and the PAMIC staff for their assistance. Your efforts were very much appreciated.

The purpose of the Government Affairs Committee is to closely monitor insurance legislative, regulatory, and judicial developments and assess their impact on PAMIC membership. Assist in development and maintenance of government affairs communications program with membership and foster and promote direct member communication with legislators and regulators.

One of the primary objectives of the Government Affairs Committee is to monitor and educate its members of the regulatory and legislative issues that confront our industry. Through PAMIC’s efforts as educator and advocate, we are better able to participate in the regulatory and legislative debate and process that so affects our industry.

While the 2005-2006 year saw issues of insurance scoring and tort reform resurface, legislation concerning a commercial terrorism exclusion in the standard fire policy and measures for domestic abuse victims passed the Pennsylvania Legislature and went to the Governor’s Office. Many members of the committee participated in the debate on these issues and as a result of their efforts, better legislation was created. They should be congratulated.

Also noteworthy, in February 2006, there was a large turnout of members to meet and discuss insurance issues with legislators at the Annual Mutual Insurance Day. Additionally, the previous day provided members with the opportunity to hear from Regulatory and Industry speakers who provided valuable information on market conduct examinations and other insurance related issues.

As always, it was a pleasure to work with Steve Elliott and everyone on the committee. Thank you for your time and hard work.

Very truly yours,

Leonard J. Bystrick

The purpose of the Underwriting & Loss Prevention Committee is to provide quality educational seminars, roundtables, and forums designed to enhance professional skills in underwriting, loss control and related fields. Research and disseminate emerging underwriting/loss techniques, issues, and problems.

The Underwriting and Loss Prevention Committee has assembled an interesting seminar for November 8, 2006 at the Holiday Inn in Grantville.

The creative team captured the needs for education and discussion on various topics that are instrumental in our industry. The committee condensed a multiple listing of topics into six (6) roundtable discussions, each with a moderator, being held simultaneously in three (3) 20 minute rotation pattern with a 30 minute summary of all topics discussed.

The committee has included a producer panel from a large to a small agency representation for open discussion with the attendees being introduced with questions from the moderator to stimulate the discussions.

The afternoon sessions will be presentations for the topics of ‘Trends in Insurable Interest’ by Scott Millhouse of Meyer, Darragh, Buckler, Bebnek & Eck, PLLC and ‘Construction Defects’ by an associate member.

It has been a privilege to serve as chair for this important committee. The industry is changing on a daily basis and it is our responsibility to provide the education and support for all our members. It truly is a challenge to capture the interest of attendees to make these seminars a success.

My personal and sincere thanks to the committee members who comprised this year’s committee. They are a very creative group who met the challenge presented to them.
