LIQUIDNET RANKED NUMBER 8 IN “BEST PLACES TO WORK IN NYC”

This is the third year in a row Liquidnet has earned a spot on the notable Crain’s list

NEW YORK, DECEMBER 4, 2018 – Liquidnet, the global institutional investment network, has been named one of the Best Places to Work in New York City by Crain’s New York Business in partnership with Best Companies Group. The annual ranking recognizes New York City’s best employers through its survey and recognition program. Liquidnet ranked number 8 out of 34 in the large organizations category, which was unveiled during the annual awards luncheon last week.

“At Liquidnet, we love what we do, and we have worked hard to create a strong, vibrant culture that encourages employees to work hard but also have fun,” said Seth Merrin, CEO and Founder of Liquidnet. “We are proud to be recognized as one of the Best Places to Work in New York City and hope to continue to support our empowered, engaged team to strive to make a difference in our offices and around the world.”

As part of the ranking’s considerations, over 20,000 employees were surveyed across the five boroughs of New York City, they completed a two-part survey process that assessed nominees’ workplace culture, philosophies, procedures as well as employee engagement and satisfaction.

“Liquidnet’s culture looks to inspire and support our employees, so they can be their best selves at work, at home and in their communities,” said Jerilyn Medrea, Global Head of People at Liquidnet. “To be placed on Crain’s list for a third consecutive year and to be ranked as number 8 among large companies is a significant achievement as the survey is comprised from employee feedback; this shows that Liquidnet employees recognize we invest in them and want them to succeed.”
