Colorado Ethics Commission 1300 Broadway, Suite 240 Denver, Co. 80203

Commissioners:

This Complaint is filed on behalf of Defend Colorado and provides specific evidence demonstrating that Dan Gibbs (Gibbs), Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources, violated Article XXIX of the Colorado Constitution ("Amendment 41") and specific state statutes and regulations related to ethics and financial improprieties.

Specifically, while serving as the Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources, Gibbs directed a state contract award worth nearly $500,000 to his wife's employer and failed to disclose the conflict of interest as required by law. Instead, Gibbs filed false Conflict of Interest Disclosures stating that his Department has not retained a consultant or contractor in which a member of his immediate family is employed. As a result of this conduct, Gibbs has violated specific provisions of the state constitution and state statutes.

This Complaint is timely, non-frivolous, qualifies under the jurisdiction of the Colorado Independent Ethics Commission (the "Commission"), and documents conclusive violations of Amendment 41 and C.R.S. §§ 24-18-103, 24-18-105, 24-18-108, and 24-18-201.

I. Commission Jurisdiction

The Commission has jurisdiction over both the person and the subject matter of the Complaint.

Personal: pursuant to Article XXIX of the Colorado Constitution, the Commission has jurisdiction over employees of the executive branch. At all times relevant to this complaint, Dan Gibbs was an employee of the executive branch of the State of Colorado as defined by Colo. Const. art. XXIX, §2(1) and CRS §24-18-102(3).

Subject Matter: pursuant to Article XXIX, Section 3, the Commission has jurisdiction over violations of Colorado's code of ethics, as codified at CRS §§ 24-18-103, 24-18-105, 24-18-108, and 24-18-201. Here, the allegations are that Dan Gibbs, an executive branch employee oversaw an agency that granted to his wife's employer a contract of nearly $500,000 without disclosing such personal interest or conflict of interest.

II. Summary of Violations

Gibbs, in his role as a state employee - Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources - breached his fiduciary duty to the State of Colorado by overseeing the awarding of a contract from the State of Colorado to his wife's employer, while failing to disclose the conflict of interest and, further, denying the same. Such conduct violated multiple provisions of law specifically designed to prevent such conflicts of interest, self-dealing, and violations of public trust in state government.

III. Summary of Facts

Gibbs is the Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources. Colorado Parks and Wildlife is an agency of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources.

Gibbs' wife, Johanna Raquet Gibbs, is a senior policy director for Keystone Policy Center. (Staff Roster for Keystone Policy Center attached as Exhibit A).

On April 22, 2021, Colorado Parks and Wildlife awarded a $496,000 contract to Johanna Raquet Gibbs' employer, Keystone Policy Center. The contract was for services related to public outreach on wolf reintroduction in Colorado.

Keystone Policy Center was not the lowest bidder for that contract. The second-place bidder, CDR Associates, bid $270,000, 45% lower than the bid by Johanna Raquet Gibbs' employer. (Selection Memo attached as Exhibit B).

Since July 2019, the Colorado Department of Natural Resources has paid Keystone Policy Center over $230,000 in state funds according to fiscal records made available by the state. (Colorado's Transparency Online Project documentation attached as Exhibit C).

Gibbs never disclosed any personal interest or conflict of interest related to his wife's employer receiving a $496,000 contract from his Department. In fact, Gibbs filed mandatory conflict of interest statements that omit this clear conflict of interest. Members of the Governor's cabinet, like Gibbs, are required to fill out an annual Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form. The form contains the following specific question:

Are you, or is a member of your immediate family, an officer, director, trustee, partner, (general or limited), employee or regularly retained consultant of any company, firm, organization, or municipality which might reasonably be expected to have business dealings with the Governor's Office or your department/agency in the coming year?

In 2020 and 2021, Mr. Gibbs answered "No." to this specific question. (Gibbs Completed Conflict of Interest Disclosure Forms attached as Exhibit D). The ethics affirmation that Gibbs provided in both 2020 and 2021 were false based on the fact that his wife's employer in fact received a $496,000 contract from his Department.

The still-undisclosed relationship between Gibbs, as Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources, and his wife, Johanna Raquet Gibbs, who was employed by a vendor who does regular business with Gibbs' Department creates both an actual conflict of interest and an unequivocal appearance of impropriety.

Additionally, as a senior policy director at Keystone Policy Center, Johanna Raquet Gibbs almost certainly rendered services that Gibbs was ultimately responsible for directing, supervising, reviewing, and evaluating.

Not only did Gibbs file inaccurate Conflict of Interest Disclosure Forms based on his Department's retention of his wife's employer, but this arrangement also violated CRS § 24-18-105(5) which specifically provides "Public officers, local government officials, and employees are discouraged from assisting or enabling members of their immediate family in obtaining employment, a gift of substantial value, or an economic benefit tantamount to a gift of substantial value from a person whom the officer, official, or employee is in a position to reward with official action or has rewarded with official action in the past."

IV. Statutory and Constitutional Violations

A. CRS § 24-18-108. Rules of conduct for public officers and state employees:

C.R.S. § 24-18-108 requires that each public officer and state employee shall comport with basic fiduciary duties. Specifically, it provides that:

- [a] public officer or a state employee shall not:
 - (a) Engage in a substantial financial transaction for his private business purposes with a person whom he inspects, regulates, or supervises in the course of his official duties;
 - (b) Assist any person for a fee or other compensation in obtaining any contract, claim, license, or other economic benefit from his agency;
 - (c) Assist any person for a contingent fee in obtaining any contract, claim, license, or other economic benefit from any state agency; or
 - (d) Perform an official act directly and substantially affecting to its economic benefit a business or other undertaking in which he either has a substantial financial interest or is engaged as counsel, consultant, representative, or agent.

C.R.S. § 24-18-108(2) (emphasis added).

Gibbs was a state employee who oversaw the awarding of a nearly $500,000 contract—an economic benefit—to his wife's employer, an employer who was not the lowest bidder to the significant state contract.

B. CRS § 24-18-201(1): Interests in contracts

CRS § 24-18-201(1) prohibits a state employee from being involved with a self-dealing contract. Specifically, it provides that:

(1) ... public officers...or employees shall not be interested in any contract made by them in their official capacity or by any body, agency, or board of which they are members or employees. Here, Gibbs' interest is obvious: his wife's employer received a near-half-million dollar contract from the agency he oversees.

CRS § 24-18-201(1)(b)(I) provides a definitional exception for contracts "awarded to the lowest responsible bidder based on competitive bidding procedures." That is inapplicable here, as the lowest bid was 46% lower than the bid made by Dan Gibbs' wife's company. Nonetheless, Ms. Gibbs' employer was awarded the contract by Mr. Gibbs' agency.

C. CRS § 24-18-105: Ethical Principles

CRS § 24-18-105 sets out guidance for ethical conduct by officials and employees. Specifically, it provides:

- (2) A public officer, a local government official, or an employee should not acquire or hold an interest in any business or undertaking which he has reason to believe may be directly and substantially affected to its economic benefit by official action to be taken by an agency over which he has substantive authority.
- (5) Public officers, local government officials, and employees are discouraged from assisting or enabling members of their immediate family in obtaining employment, a gift of substantial value, or an economic benefit tantamount to a gift of substantial value from a person whom the officer, official, or employee is in a position to reward with official action or has rewarded with official action in the past.

Here, Gibbs violated the law by awarding a significant state contract controlled a member of his immediate family, through her employer.

D. CRS § 24-18-103: Public Trust

CRS § 24-18-103 establishes the standard for a breach of fiduciary duty. Specifically, it provides:

(1) The holding of public office or employment is a public trust, created by the confidence which the electorate reposes in the integrity of public officers, members of the general assembly, local government officials, and employees. A public officer, member of the general assembly, local government official, or employee shall carry out his duties for the benefit of the people of the state.

In overseeing the awarding of the contract to his wife's company—at considerable additional expense (nearly 50% more) compared to the lowest bidder – and choosing not to disclose the clear conflict of interest as required, Gibbs breached his fiduciary duty to the State of Colorado.

E. Gibbs Violated Provisions of the Colorado Constitution.

Article XXIX, Section 1 of Colorado's Constitution states that the public should have respect for and confidence in public employees, who should "avoid conduct that is in violation of their public trust or that creates a justifiable impression among members of the public that such trust is being violated." Article XXIX, section 1 provides:

The people of the state of Colorado hereby find and declare that: (a) The conduct of public officers, members of the general assembly, local government officials, and government employees must hold the respect and confidence of the people; (b) They shall carry out their duties for the benefit of the people of the state; (c) They shall, therefore, avoid conduct that is in violation of their public trust or that creates a justifiable impression among members of the public that such trust is being violated; (d) Any effort to realize personal financial gain through public office other than compensation provided by law is a violation of that trust; and (e) To ensure propriety and to preserve public confidence, they must have the benefit of specific standards to guide their conduct, and of a penalty mechanism to enforce those standards.

Gibbs' is the Executive Director of the state agency that awarded his wife's employer a $500,000 contract. This action is a violation of "public trust" and creates an impression that such trust has been violated. The "specific standards to guide their conduct" included a requirement that Gibbs publicly disclose this financial transaction on an annual Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form. Gibbs chose not to disclose the fact that his Department retained a company in which his wife is employed in clear violation of these standards.

V. Conclusion

Colorado has specific provisions of law governing ethical conduct by state public officials. These laws are designed to stringently maintain public trust in government. Having a Director of a state agency award a $496,000 contract to his wife's employer, over a competing bid that was nearly 50% lower, and refusing to publicly disclose this clear conflict of interest, specifically violates multiple provisions of the Colorado Constitution, state statute, state regulations, and the Governor's Office Executive Orders. This Complaint provides clear evidence of these violations for a Commission investigation and ruling.

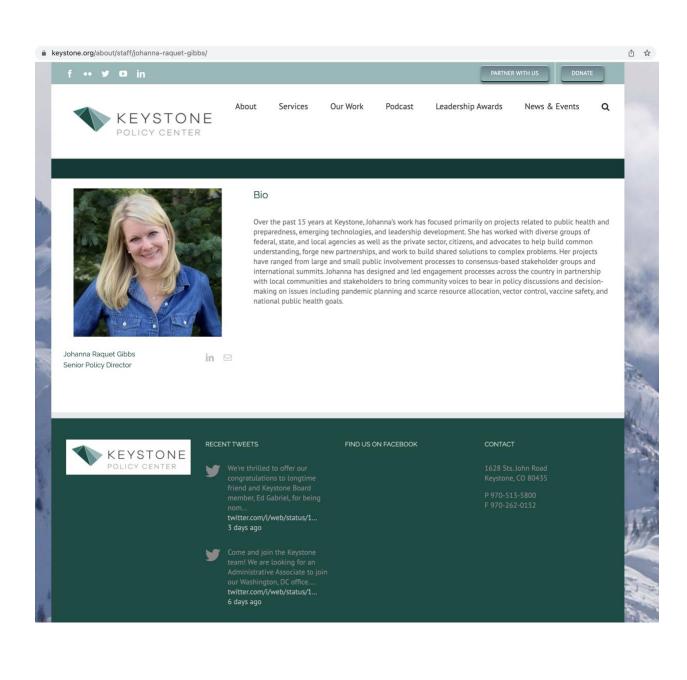

Thank you for your attention and review of this matter

Sincerely

George Brauchler

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS SELECTION MEMORANDUM

Project Management and Facilitation of a Wolf Restoration and Management Plan Public Outreach For the Division of Colorado Parks and Wildlife RFP PMAA 2021*009

In section 5.0, Evaluation and Award of the Request for Proposals (RFP PMAA 2021*009) for the Project Management and Facilitation of a Wolf Restoration and Management Plan Public Outreach for the Division of Colorado Parks and Wildlife, the evaluation factors for award of this contract are as follows:

- 5.2 Proposal Form/VSS Registration/Location of project work/Bidder Preferences (Pass/Fail)
- 5.3 Qualifications and Experience
- 5.4 Staff
- 5.5. Planning Process Approach
- 5.6 Schedule
- 5.7 Writing Samples
- 5.8 Price

Background

Seven proposals were received and all proposals were responsive and received a passing score on section 5.2. Initial requests were reviewed and scored by the Evaluation Team in detail. Four firms: Meridian Institute, Keystone Policy Center, Wellstone Strategies, and CDR Associates were determined to be in the competitive range due to their strong proposals, straightforward approaches and experienced local staff. All four were asked clarifying questions and invited to give presentations to the Evaluation Team, the Director of the Division of Parks and Wildlife and the Chair of the Colorado Parks and Wildlife Commission.

After presentations and question and answer sessions with the four proposals in the competitive range, the Evaluation Team submitted an analysis to the Director and Chair for their decision:

Keystone Policy Center

PRICE - $496,000

PROS

- Solid proposal and presentation given perhaps the most specific and detailed of all those given
- Well established Western Slope presence
- Strong team members
- Price reasonable, seems feasible, and a good value to State
- Well-structured plan/approach

CDR Associates

PRICE - $270,000

PROS

- Well thought out/structured plan
- Not a ton of detail in plan, but this might be a benefit to CPW as it would allow for more input in the approach design
- "Well polished" during presentation

Wellstone Strategies

PRICE - $741.651.12

PROS

- All team members seemed passionate about the project and have relevant experience
- It could be helpful to the process to have a wildlife biologist with human dimensions experience leading the technical group. These skill sets could help bridge understanding between the technical group and the stakeholder advisory group.
- The organizational design could provide a variety of perspectives and each person represents their own company and approach.

Meridian

PRICE - $1,411,352 PROS

- Familiarity with wolf topics and stakeholders from facilitating the 2004-2005 wolf process
- Colorado based company with the staff resources to do this work

Rationale for Selection

The proposal of Keystone Policy Center was determined to be the most advantageous to the state based upon the evaluation criteria set forth in the request for proposals. Keystone's experience was relevant and included past experience with contentious issues in Colorado. Their staff had excellent experience. The approach was high quality and included ways to include diverse voices in the process. The schedule allows CPW to meet required deadlines and reports were well-written. The price offered a good value to the State of Colorado.

This determination was approved by all members of the Evaluation Committee on
