Grant Halliburton Foundation was established in 2006 in memory of a Dallas teen who battled depression and bipolar disorder for several years before his suicide death at the age of 19. The Foundation that bears his name helps people recognize and respond to the signs of mental illness through a variety of avenues including education, conferences, collaboration, and encouragement.

Grant Halliburton Foundation works to strengthen the network of mental health resources for children, teens and young adults; promote better mental health; and help prevent suicide. The Foundation provides mental health education, training, and support to more than 35,000 students, educators, parents and professionals annually.

EDUCATING YOUTH AND ADULTS ABOUT MENTAL HEALTH

Presentations for Students, Educators, Parents and Professionals
A suite of educational presentations designed to change the way we talk about mental health and promote adolescent mental wellness.

Presentations cover a variety of topics, including mental health, suicide prevention, bullying, and resiliency.

When Life Hands You Teenagers
An annual conference bringing the latest information on teen mental health to parents, school counselors, mental health professionals, and others who live or work with teens.

PROVIDING SUPPORT AND ENCOURAGEMENT

Coffee Days and Dad2Dad
The Foundation offers Coffee Days peer support groups and the Dad2Dad Breakfast Speaker Series for parents of young people with mental health conditions, offering opportunities to share experiences, resources, and information.
