About the Bronx High School of Science

The Bronx High School of Science has a world renowned reputation as the premier secondary high school in the country and the world. Since 1938, Bronx Science has educated the best and brightest in New York City, drawing an ethnically, racially and economically diverse student body from across the city. Bronx Science's 3,000 students are the talent that companies want and need: intellectually curious, motivated, brilliant and passionate. The Bronx Science community also includes 40,000 alumni who are among the most successful and connected in the world, including an unparalleled 8 Nobel Prize winners, 10 Pulitzer Prize winners, and the founders and leaders of countless successful companies.

The 85th Anniversary Gala: A Unique Opportunity for Corporate Partners

Alumni, faculty, students and friends will gather at this black-tie affair at the iconic American Museum of Natural History to celebrate 85 years of excellence at Bronx Science. In addition to dinner, drinks and entertainment, the evening will feature an award ceremony for a handful of prominent alumni who have achieved exceptional things in their fields or made extraordinary contributions to the Bronx Science community. Honorees will include award-winning architect Daniel Libeskind '61, aeronautical engineer Wanda Austin '71, biomedical scientist George Yancopoulos '77 and acclaimed novelist Min Jin Lee '86. Proceeds from the evening will benefit the Bronx Science Foundation.

The 85th Anniversary Gala offers leading companies an unprecedented opportunity to build visibility and connect with our 40,000 alumni, 6,000 parents and 3,000 students: an extraordinary population of business leaders, decision makers and influencers in their communities. Our diverse and driven students are highly desired by colleges and employers all over the globe; hiring a Bronx Science alumnus/a means you have hired a star. Building a presence with the Bronx Science community today is an investment in your company's future.
