Dementia Phone Support
Supporting families after diagnosis

Your link to information, support and advice on how to live well with dementia:

- What to expect following a dementia diagnosis
- Understanding the changes
- Planning for the future
- Navigating the service system
- Your rights and entitlements
- Maintaining quality of life

FREECALL* 1800 052 222
*Freecall except from mobile phones
About the service

Receiving a dementia diagnosis can be life changing for the person with dementia and their family.

This service links families with the supports they need, when they need it.

We will help you understand the service system and who to contact for information and advice.

How it works

An experienced health professional will telephone you following diagnosis to see how you are going and answer any questions you may have.

They will listen to your concerns and help you find the right supports when you need them.